PEACE WORKERS QUANDRY NO COOL HEAD TO LEAD

London Times Correspondent at Portsmouth, Says the Difficulties are Thickening—No Bismarck to Preside at the Sessions of the Conference Now Being Held.

New York, Aug. 9.—The Times quotes the London Times correspondent as cabling from Portsmouth: "The day's dealings in assembling the Peace Envoys has been perhaps beneficial, for the difficulties thickened as the hour of the conference approaches.

Today (Tuesday) the Japanese and Russians submitted themselves to the demands of ceremony, but even before the ceremonies began the envoys began considering their position. Even physical difficulties occupy them. Portsmouth is a place of meeting has both advantages and disadvantages. Newcastle, where both parties live, is at least half an hour's drive away, while the Island where the conference will be held, is 20 minutes distant by land and 40 by sea. The Hotel Wentworth where both parties live is a typical American summer hotel, lodging some 500 people with a certain degree of comfort. Each group of envoys has its large staff nicely distributed, but neither has a large room for secretarial work or ill-cushion. The Naval Stores Building, which the government supplies and adorned with many flags, has a large hall for the meetings and fairly good rooms for the secretaries, but is on the whole not quite adequate to the business to be done. The difficulties of procedure may be much more formidable. Precedents are lacking or so far as they exist are not binding on the Japanese and perhaps not on the Russians. There is no Bismarck to preside, nobody who can ride the whirlwind and direct the storm as the Iron Chancellor did at Berlin. More than once I have heard the wish expressed that the President could have carried on his great peace making work as President of the Conference.

is delivered, for he proposes to revert to the origin of the war, but if the Russians and Japanese are to debate the circumstances which brought on the war till they are agreed we shall be here till next year. The Japs are not unlikely to take the view that they are here, not to pursue historical inquiries, but to see whether the war can be ended. They may, therefore, politely object to a debate which would be useless. M. Witte, if no diplomat, as a tactician may reply: "Try by your terms on the table at once." This the Japs are understood to be ready to do, but in their own way they may state them, in the first instance as matters of principle. In other words, before specifying the amount of the indemnity, they may desire to know whether Russia is prepared to pay any indemnity. Before stating their view concerning Sakhalin and Vladivostok they may ask for some assurance that a demand for the commercialization of a fortified port will not be regarded as ending the negotiations.

Charlottetown Business College

And Institute of Shorthand and Typewriting

"An Institution known throughout Canada and the United States for the excellence of its course of training."

Re-opens Tuesday, August 15th, 1905.

While students may enter at any time, yet, they will find it to their advantage to enter as early in the term as possible, the least being to place themselves in the best possible position to compete for the valuable prizes (gold and silver medals, scholarships etc.) which our patrons—including the Governor—have enabled us to offer.

If students will enter early in the term, they not only give us a fair chance to put them through the three courses:—Book-keeping, with actual business practice, Shorthand and Typewriting, but greatly enhance their chances of getting into remunerative employ.

All our graduates who went west have done well. You should not go until you have taken a course with us. The home demand has been and is being kept well supplied by our students. See "Recorder".

ELECTRICAL FORCES

The services of Messrs Doull, Winfield and Morrison, electricians, have been retained for a series of lectures on Electricity and its application to machinery—as a motive power—the Telephone and the Telegraph. The Marconi system of wireless telegraphy explained.

Our English course is in the hands of a specialist, and the C. B. "Recorder" affords an excellent medium for intellectual thought.

Our Business course will bring the student in direct contact with many New Sets of books not to be found in text books. These must be properly filled by daily business transactions with his fellow students, compared, checked, audited and passed.

Our success in preparing students for the Amanuensis certificate of the Phonographic Institute of Cincinnati last term was not equalled by any one College in Canada or the United States, and it was the only institution in this Province last year to successfully prepare candidates for the same.

We refer the public to creditable witnesses of our work. Educationalists, business men and our students.

Any person sending us a copy of this advertisement with name of paper from which clipped will be amply repaid.

UNDECIDED SEA LORDS.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A hitch has taken place in the construction of the Royal yacht by Messrs. Inglis & Co., of Glasgow. Three months ago they were adjudged the successful tenderers, and submitted two models, the smaller of which was chosen. However, the Admiralty have now changed their opinion, and they recommend that the larger yacht be built. Meantime the builders stand idly by, pending a definite decision. Parson's turbines are to be used in the construction of the vessel.
