STOCKHOLM, July 13.—Use of property of funds belonging to the former Russian Imperial Government for the aid of Russian refugees is opposed by Soviet Russia, which claims those funds. Mr. Kerzhentzef, as on behalf of his Government, sent a note to Secretary of State, C. E. Hughes, at Washington, protesting against the use of the property. He claims that such action on the part of a foreign power, while taken under the pretext of assisting Russians, is really a step in the struggle against the present Russian Government.

ST. CATHARINES, July 13.—The samples were some kept by the late L. H. Collard, private banker here, and Mr. Griffiths and they were brought here and sold to me as ordinary stamps. So I thought I might as well get rid of them the same way. When stamp fanciers heard about it they rushed the stamp office and bought up all the stamps because in their benefit they were brought here and sold to me as ordinary stamps. Some ordinary folk bought the stamps and pasted them on their letters without thinking, then went back and asked Mr. Griffiths if it was a new issue the Government had just put out.

MAY—ANDREW NUPTIALS

At an early hour on the 14th, inst., at St. John Anglican Church St. Eleanor's, P. E. I., the marriage took place of Major Frederick P. May, only son of the late Robert and Henriette P. May of Charlottetown, to Miss Mabel H. Andrew, youngest daughter of the late William and Mrs. Andrew of North St. Eleanor's. Owing to recent bereavement in the families of both bride and bridegroom, only the immediate relatives and friends were present at the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated with flowers by friends of the bride, who is a graduate nurse of the P. E. I. Hospital. The bride looked charming in a navy blue travelling dress with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of Orpella roses, while the groom wore the service uniform of his old Overseas Battalion, "the Fighting 20th", she N. B., and P. E. I. unit. The wedding was performed by Rural Dean White, rector of Summerside and St. Eleanor's, and there were no attendants.

After the ceremony Major and Mrs. May left for a wedding trip to the mainland. On their return they will reside in St. Eleanor's. Numerous presents were received by the bride from her many friends. The Guardian joins in happiest congratulations.

Man From Wilds Gets First View Of Civilization

OMAHA NEBRASKA, July 14.—Tracy Gillis, 33 years old, has just let his eyes first fall on a woman. He has also had his first remembered view of a railroad train, a street car, a daily paper and fiction magazine. Upon seeing a woman for the first time, Gillis, a barbed wire farmer, had his long hair cut and his face shaved.

Gillis was born in Chicago. His mother was an actress and his father a disciple of Moody and Sankey. But for a third of a century, father and son have lived alone on a western Nebraska ranch, a forty miles from a railroad, with no street cars, stepping within its fence posts.

George Gillis, the father, died recently, two years short of four score and ten. Tracy, the son, buried the body on the ranch and went on with the farm work. Today he came to Omaha on his pioneer journey, with a load of cattle.

According to his story the elder Gillis, trafficked with his neighboring farmers only on their property, and never on his own for fear his son's ears should pick up hints of worldly civilization and the fatherly love to the west with his son to save him from dancing, singing, and acting in Chicago's old Hay-Market Theatre.

A few weeks earlier the boy's mother, whose name was Maggie Isles, had deserted her husband and gone with another man to the Twin Cities. Gillis himself at about the same time had proclaimed himself a devotee in a prayer meeting.

"A devil lurks on every street corner, father taught me," Tracy Gillis said today. "He told me the sad story of my mother and warned me to avoid all sinful men."

Employment Increase

OTTAWA July 14.—Employment reports for the week ended June 4 were received by Dominion headquarters of the Employment Service of Canada from 5,243 firms employing 614,873 workers. For the previous week these identical firms had reported total payrolls of 695,965, the difference representing an increase of about one and one half per cent. The bulk of this increase was absorbed by railway shops, which reopened after temporary shutdown. But in addition there were moderate gains in other groups, and the upward trend, which had been checked in the previous week, was once more resumed. Comparing the figures of the week under review with the base week of January 17, 1920, the index number of employment was 87.8. For the previous week it was 86.5, while for the corresponding week (June 5) of 1920, it was 106.2.

DE VELERA AND LLOYD GEORGE HAD LONG CONFERENCE

LONDON, July 15.—Eamon De Valera, the Irish Republican Leader, arrived at No. 10 Downing St., at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for his conference with Mr. Lloyd-George set for that hour and at which an effort will be made to find a basis for an Irish peace settlement.

The Republican leader's appearance at the Prime Minister's official residence was punctual to the minute, as it was exactly at the time appointed that he stepped through the door.

Mr. Lloyd-George was awaiting him and their conversations over the peace question were begun immediately. Mr. DeValera gave an interview to the newspaper men this morning and when asked what he considered was the prospect of a settled peace being brought by the conference, DeValera replied the outlook was brighter than it ever was in history. "I am sure that the atmosphere in England and Ireland is right for peace and the only thing that is necessary now is for us to get down to rock bottom." It was the first time DeValera had spoken for publication since his arrival in London on Tuesday.

"This is simply a private conference with Mr. Lloyd-George, instead of a long range bombardment to see what can be done at close quarters," said the Republican leader, who was in a bright and cheerful mood in talking with the correspondents.

LONDON, July 15.—Premier Lloyd-George had an audience with the King last night.

Sir James Craig, Ulster Premier, has been summoned to London to confer with the Premier on the Irish situation announced last night. One of the men who accompanied Mr. De Valera to the LONDON, July 15.—Premier Lloyd-George held a council of the ministers of the House of Commons last night to discuss his meeting with Mr. Eamon De Valera, the Irish Republican leader. Later he proceeded to a dinner of the Liberal Coalitionists where he was received with a great ovation. With reference to Ireland Mr. Lloyd-George besought the audience not to tempt him into an indiscretion. "The less said the better at this stage," declared the Prime Minister.

LONDON, July 15.—The Irish peace conference at the British Premier's official residence, 10 Downing Street yesterday crowded out the conference of Dominion Prime Ministers and as a consequence there were merely meetings of the Committees dealing with reparations, shipping and Imperial communications which are to report to the main conference within the next few days. It is understood the basis for division of reparations among the various portions of the Empire has been agreed upon and is likely to be satisfactory to Canada.

MEETING OF GUARANTORS OF CHAUTAUQUA

A meeting of the guarantors of when arrangements were completed Chautauqua was held last night, for the sale of tickets and for the holding of Chautauqua beginning July 26th. PRESS CONGRESS TO BE POLGLOT

HONOLULU, June 26.—(By mail).—The programme for the Press Congress sessions to be held here in October is taking definite shape. It includes addresses by such well-known journalists as Editor Wright Brown, of Editor and Publisher, New York; H. L. Brilgman, of the Brooklyn Standard Union; K. Sugimura, of the Tokio Asahi Shimbun; B. W. Fleisher, of the Japan Advertiser; Thales Couvignat, of Nea Ellas, Athens; Ludwig Saxe, of Verdun, France; Christiania; Rustom N. Vatchaghandy, of Sanj Vartaman, Bombay, and Virgilio Rodriguez Beteta, of the Central American Press Association, Guatemala. These men are among the journalists who have accepted the programme committee's invitation. Others of equal prominence will appear in the first formal programme announcement. The names of two well-known newspaper men who will be the chief representatives of England and France respectively on the programme will be announced soon. It is planned to devote four and a half or five days to the business sessions of the Congress, leaving the remaining time open for the entertainment committees. The business sessions will consist of general meetings, when the delegates will assemble in a single body for discussion of problems affecting the entire profession and departmental conferences of first interest to only a part of the delegates. Two afternoons will be devoted to conferences on journalistic education, the newspaper press, daily and weekly, and magazine writing. The Pan-Pacific Press Conference will probably meet for an all-day session on the last day.

Prof. Walter B. Pitkin of Columbia University and Prof. W. D. Hornaday of the University of Texas will have places on the programme of the educational con-
