Fine New Nurses Home Completed At Falconwood

The new nurses' home at Falconwood Hospital is one of the most completely equipped and comfortable buildings of its kind to be built in the Maritime Provinces since the war.

160 feet long by 30 feet wide, it is of one storey construction and contains accommodations for about twenty-five nurses. The matron's quarters, the nurses' reception room and their study room are all fitted with good quality furniture which blends perfectly with the color scheme of the rooms.

The building was formerly one of the R. C. A. F. huts at the airport. Cut in two and brought to Falconwood it was placed on its present foundation about a year ago and the work of alteration and construction begun. Utilization was made of the roof, walls, and hardwood floors but all interior work such as partitions, doors, etc., is of new material.

The east side of the home has a long porch or balcony facing a great expanse of fairly level grass land merging into woods over which can be seen the river. Part of this grass land is to be prepared for a tennis court where the nurses in their off-duty hours may indulge in healthful recreation.

All furniture and accessories have been installed in the home with the exception of the telephone system which will be set up in the next few days. The home will then be ready for its official opening.

The contractors were L. M. Poole and Company and the head tarpenter in charge was Mr. E. J. Perry.

Several other buildings are in various stages of construction at Falconwood. Workmen are now engaged in building the foundation of what is to be an ultra modern dairy barn the upper half of which, including the roof, will be of steel. Almost completed is a building, 126 feet by 30 feet, for the accommodation of the male attendants. In addition there is also a farmers' house under construction which will be 60 feet by 30 and which will house several of the farm help.

Good progress is also being made in the construction of a new residence for the Superintendent, Dr. A. J. Murchison.

TRADE BOARD

case—was outlined in the report of Manager Rand H. Matheson and presented yesterday.

The commission was not opposed to justifiable increases but stood against flat percentage rate increases.

Mr. Turnbull said straight percentage increases were "evil and if insisted in will destroy this country."

Capt. C.F. Burke of Charlottetown was elected president of the Maritime Board, succeeding A. A. Dunphy of Kentville.

An invitation to hold the next annual meeting in Charlottetown was referred to the incoming executive.

Boilard-Hynes Nuptials

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Dunstan's Basilica on Sept. 4th. at 8.15 a. m., when Miss Mary Ethel (Dotty) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hynes, Charlottetown, was united in marriage to Mr. Rene Boilard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Boilard of Quebec. Rev. Father MacDonald officiated in the presence of the family and invited friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a dainty floor length gown of blue lace with graceful veil, and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Her bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Elinor Hynes, who looked girlishly lovely in a dress of flush pink corded taffeta with shoulder length veil. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations.

The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. Paul Paquette of Montreal.

During the Nuptial Mass the soloist was Miss Bernice Murray with Mrs. Dougan presiding at the organ.

The guests were ushered by Mr Clifford Hynes, brother of the bride and Mr. Merrill MacAduff.

Following the ceremony breakfast was served at the bride's home, and in the afternoon a reception was held attended by the immediate relatives and friends the tea tables being centered with a three tier wedding cake.

Out of town guests included the groom's father, Mr. George Boilard of Quebec, Mr. Paul Paquette, Montreal. Mrs. Charles Beaton and son Earle of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Hynes of Halifax.

The happy young couple left by plane on a honeymoon trip to New York and will take up residence in Montreal. For travelling the bride wore a smart grey gaberdine suit and top coat with green accessories. The Guardian joins in happiest congratulations.

P.E.I. Art Club Opens Activities For Fall Season

The Prince Edward Island Art Club opened its activities for the fall season with a costume party held last evening at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fraser, Keppoch.

A number of the members came in costume each dressed to represent some particular famous painting. A special feature of the evening was the depiction of "Daughters of the American Revolution" by the renowned American artist, Grant Wood. The portrayal was done by Mrs. I. I. Young, of Newtonville, Massachussetts, a visiting guest for the occasion. Those taking part in this portrayal were Mrs. P. A. Creelman, Miss Jacqueline Macdonald and Mrs. Frances Holl-Trainor. Mrs. Holl-Trainor, who at present is a house guest of Col. and Mrs. Keith Rogers, is a former member of the Art Club. Her home is now in Toronto.

The prize for the most beautiful costume was won by Mrs. George DeBlois and honours for the most ingenious costume of the evening was awarded to Mrs. Willard McKay. Other prize winners were Miss Grace Campbell; Dr. P. A. Creelman; Mrs. Charles F. Bentley and Mrs. I. I. Young.

About thirty members attended this highly successful, initial meeting of the fall season.

The famous paintings portrayed and the artists together with the club members taking part were as follows:

St. Francis preaching to the Birds by Giotto—Dr. P. A. Creelman.

Portia by W.S. Herrick — Mrs. Cleveland Roberts.

Marie Antoinette by Vigee Le-Brun—Mrs. Geo. DeBlois.

Pinkie by Thomas Lawrence — Mrs. Joseph Curran.

English Lady by Holbein —Mrs. P. A. Creelman.

George Bellow's Mother by Bellows — Mrs. Irving Geary.

Thunderbird by Emily Carr — Mrs. Willard McKay.

Woman Churning by Millet — Mrs. J. Fraser.

The Spanish shawl —Miss Jacqueline Macdonald.

Sewing Maid from Landlord of Chequers — Mrs Marks Malone.

The Sower by Millet — Mr. J. A. Fraser.

Spanish Lady, My Cousin Candida — Mrs. Neil Matheson.

The Storm by Cot — Mrs. Leo Frank and Mrs. Irene Young.

Maritime Y Conference Opens Here

The Maritime Y.M.C.A. Conference got under way last evening with a dinner held at the Charlottetown Hotel and presided over by A. J. Haslam of Charlottetown. Following opening devotions conducted by Rev. James Davison of the Charlottetown Baptist Church, Councillor C. M. Cox welcomed the delegates on behalf of the City. Mr. B. Frank Tinney, president of the local Y. M.C.A. also extended warm greetings.

During the evening three of the principal topics which are to be discussed during the conference were introduced to the assembled delegates. Each topic was presented by a member of the National Council. The first subject dealt with the Christian emphasis in the functions and activities of the Y.M.C.A. Following this talk by Mr. R. S. Hosking, the conference heard some pertinent remarks by Mr. C. A. Schell on the various categories of membership and affiliation of membership within the organization. The third topic to be introduced was on the relationship of the Y. M.C.A. to public recreation programmes and facilities and was presented by Mr. L. M. Herbert. The conference then broke up into three Commission Groups and, under the leadership of Messrs. Hosking, Schell and Herbert, discussed these topics.

Later in the evening, secretaries from the various Y.M.C.A.'s throughout the Maritimes met in consultation under the chairmanship of Mr. J. M. C. Duckworth, General Secretary of the Halifax Y.M.C.A. for their annual meeting which they previously planned to coincide with the Maritime Conference.

Mr. Les Vipond, National Boys' Work Secretary, in an interview last evening stated that the keynote of the present conference is focused on the problem of solving the need for new buildings in Moncton, Halifax, Yarmouth and Saint John.

"This conference has been held in Charlottetown chiefly because the building problem has been so well met by this community." Mr. Vipond remarked. For this reason a special panel will be held during this afternoon's meeting on the subject "Buildings and Campaigns."

Today's sessions will feature two special discussion groups, one on "Community Work Techniques" conducted by Mr. L. M. Herbert, and "Maritime Boys' Work Extension" by Mr. Les Vipond. A tour of the new Y.M.C.A. building and a trip to the National Park is included in the itinerary, followed by a conference banquet which has been arranged by the Charlottetown Y.M.C.A. Mr. C. A. Schell will address this banquet on the "Problems of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in 1948."

Sunday morning will see the close of the conference with Commission Group Reports and Summary of Conference.

P. E. I. Hospital Nurses Alumnae Annual Meeting

The 10th annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Hospital Nurses Alumnae was held at the Cundall Home last evening, with some 25 members in attendance.

The WEEK at S.D.U.

The day was warm and clear; cars came and went in a steady stream; trunks were lying around the campus, in the doorways, in the corridors. You joined the line up in front of the Registrar's office and waited there a little timidly and very patiently for your turn. You watched and listened as you saw the smiles lighting up the faces, the words of greeting, and firm handshakes, the back-slapping, the laughing over some story that was shared in common, for these were boys who had been at S.D.U. last year, and you envied them because of the way they seemed so much at home, so sure of themselves, and you wished that you could feel that way, but you couldn't because you were new here and nobody knew you and you knew nobody. And that night in bed you were lonely and you didn't know whether or not you were going to like this St. Dunstan's College that just so short a time ago seemed such a far-away place, a place that you'd heard your parents mention, and that you'd thought of with awe, never dreaming that the day would come when you'd be here yourself. You'd worked hard and had earned the right to come to S.D.U., but now it seemed far away from everything and everybody you knew, and you were very lonely, and maybe you even wished that you were home again.

But after a few days things changed. You began to strike up acquaintances with the boys in the dormitory; you found that your classmates were just like the boys you knew back home; and it suddenly struck you that the people around St. Dunstan's were just normal and human like yourself. You felt warm and good when you thought of that, and, before you realized it, you were just like one of the gang. You knew what all the bells were for, you kicked the football around, you walked the campus with some of your new-found friends. You were no more the stranger that had come here a week or two ago. Now you knew the score; now you looked back and laughed at the fears you'd had on that first day, for now you were a student of "old St. Dunstan's".

I guess everybody that comes to St. Dunstan's goes through that. It's not a new experience for most here at S.D.U. It's not a new experience for many of you who have been done from S.D.U. these many years, for who can forget his first days at College Hill?

After the first rather hectic week, things have settled down to more normal standards, and any day now may see the boys at work again. But as one of the professors once said in one of his talks, "For some, the holidays are over; for others, they are just beginning." About Dec. 20, we'll know better to just what class we belong. But be that as it may, we'd like, at this time, to welcome to S.D.U. each and every one of our 300 students whether they be old hands or rookies, and to wish them every success during the coming year.

We should like also to welcome to S.D.U. four new professors and one who has been with us before: Rev. Owen Sharkey, B.A., is teaching in High School; Rev. E. J. Roche, M. Sc. a graduate of Notre Dame University, South Bend, Indiana, is professor of mathematics; Rev. J. W. Pineau, M.A., who did parochial work for the past two years, is back again as French professor; Mr. Brendon O'Grady, M.A., a graduate of Columbia University, New York, is our new English professor; and the new professor of Commerce is Mr. J. E. Jolie, B.A., a graduate of Western University in London, Ontario. May your stay with us, Reverend Fathers and gentlemen, be filled with happiness.

Naturally enough, at this time of year, most of the talk centres around football. Last year, the Saints just missed winning the Maritime Intercollegiate championship by the narrowest of margins, and this year everybody is wondering just how strong the Saints will be, and whether or not they have the material for a championship team. Since the day after college opened, Coach A. J. McAdam has had his charges out running and exercising and knocking the kinks out of muscles that haven't been used all summer. At the time of writing, A.J. had no comment to make other than that he was satisfied with the workouts so far. He promised, however, to give us a more definite statement once he had seen the boys in a couple of scrimmages. Willie MacDonald, veteran forward of the Saints, and more commonly known as "Big Willie", is this year's (team) captain. Willie says, "Yes, I think this year's team will be just as good as last year's. I know we've lost three or four of our key players, but we have plenty coming up from second team to take their places. I honestly think we have a good chance to take the Maritime Championship this year."

Father Ellsworth is again handling the Intramural League with the assistance of Gene MacDonald. "Last year," says Fr. Ellsworth, "we had seven teams in the league. This year we hope to have as many, possibly more. We had a very successful season last year, mainly because the students showed more interest and put more spirit into the games than they had this past number of years, and, judging by the number of names that have been passed in already, I'm sure we can again count on a very successful year."

And that, my friends, is just about the picture of the football situation at present. Of course we shall keep you posted weekly on its further developments.

There's one more thing for this week. We should like to offer a word of praise to the man who wrote the notes last year, Cyril "Doc" Sinnott. Being a man of great capabilities, Doc, besides leading his year, being assistant editor of Red and White, president of the Photo Club, and president of the M.I.D.L., also found time to report the happenings of the week at S. D.U. Congratulations, Doc, for a good job well done.

Stresses Need Of Leadership By Local Trade Boards

KENTVILLE, N. S., Sept. 17 — (Special) — A discussion led off by Walthen Gaudet secretary of Charlottetown Board of Trade that as present constituted the Maritime Board of Trade is not giving sufficient leadership to local boards in the Maritimes and that its activities apart from the Maritime Transportation commission do not justify its continued existence, touched off a spark which created one of the liveliest sessions in the memory of Maritime Board of Trade members. After many arguments were presented by representatives from all sections of the Maritimes it was agreed to set up a special committee to study this question and bring in recommendations for making the Maritime Board a stronger force in Maritime affairs.

Recommendations later submitted by the committee and accepted included the follows:

After dissemination of history and by-laws to ninety boards of trade in the Maritimes the three Maritime Provinces shall be zoned by president of Maritime Board and personal contacts arranged by the president and his executive in an effort to have all boards of trade in the three Provinces take out membership in the Maritime board; a new method of financing was likewise set up to include a per capita membership levy of ten cents with minimum fee of five dollars on all member boards.

Capt. Carl F. Burke, M.B.E., was unanimously elected president of the Maritime Board of Trade for the ensuing year. T. Earl Hickey, president of the Summerside board was elected P.E.I., vice president. Islanders on the executive include: Frank W. Curtis, Charlottetown; R. S. Hinton, Summerside; Spurgeon Clark, Crapaud; Peter Pate, O'Leary; A. Walthen Gaudet, Charlottetown.

Invited To Charlottetown

Following election of officers an invitation was extended by F. W. Curtis, President of the Charlottetown Board of Trade to hold 1949 annual meeting Maritime board in Charlottetown.

Re-elected as P.E.I. Boards of Trade representative on the Maritime Transportation Commission was R. E. Mutch of Charlottetown who, with B. Graham Rogers, P.E.I. Government representative on same, will continue to represent P.E.I., on this Commission.

Among resolutions unanimously passed and applauded at this morning's session was one moved by Mr. B. Graham Rogers expressing the warmest feeling of friendship and most cordial greetings to Board of Trade members in Newfoundland and to the people generally on their approaching entry into confederation.

A resolution of the Summerside Board of Trade asking for a floor price for potatoes this fall was deemed inadvisable and failed to carry the support of the meeting.

Another resolution passed was one calling upon the three Maritime Provincial Governments to take immediate steps to implement their programs of electrical power development so as to provide power for anticipated industrial expansion and rural electrification in the three Maritime Provinces.

Great rejoicing was felt at the announcement made during the meeting this morning that the Royal Commission was finally announced by Federal Government. Special sub committees were immediately arranged for in the three Provinces to gather pertinent facts and data for presenation to Royal Commission later.

United States State Department that Bernadotte and Serot were ambushed, "presumably by the Stern Gang", while riding in a convoy from Government House through Katamon, a Jewish-held suburb.

MacDonald said four men in a jeep suddenly blocked the way. Col. Frank Begley, United Nations security officer, grappled with one of the men and was slightly wounded in the face. But one of the others reached Bernadotte's car and shot down the Count and the Frenchman at point blank range with a Sten gun. MacDonald said the four men in the jeep escaped.

The 53-year-old Count, a nephew of King Gustav of Sweden and husband of the American heiress, Estelle Manville, had just capped four months of mediation efforts in the Palestine dispute by forwarding his report for consideration by the United Nations Assembly meeting in Paris next week. He said this report pointed to conclusions which might end the conflict.

He flew from Rhodes, his headquarters, to Damascus, the Syrian Capital yesterday, where he announced his intention of again trying to demilitarize the Holy City of Jerusalem.

Press — Miss Winifred Hayter, Spring Park School, and Miss Jennie Frazer, Parkdale School.

Resolutions — Mr. Daniel MacArthur, Mrs. Elynor Willis, East Wiltshire, and Miss Betty King, Cornwall.

Nominations — Miss Winifred Haslam, Parkdale; Miss Leona Cavanagh, West Royalty, and Mr. Ray Higgins, East Royalty.

An inspiring address was delivered by the president, wherein it was pointed out that Federal aid to education should prove to be a powerful means of improving standards. Miss MacDonald pointed out, also, that the teacher can play an important role in stimulating interest among community organizations in this project.

Notes Improvement

Mr. Rice, Supervisor of Schools, addressing the convention, congratulated the teachers of his inspectorate on the definite improvement in teaching which is being evidenced among the schools. He recommended that the teacher arouse interest and encourage the various districts to make their schools pleasant places in which to work and that teachers carry out a more extensive program of Physical Education.

Mrs. MacCallum, speaking on Junior Red Cross, outlined benefits of Red Cross to teachers.

1. It trains children in leadership.
2. It trains children in health habits.
3. It lends service aid to overseas children.

Miss Anderson, speaking on nutrition, outlined the purpose and plan of a good school lunch.

Mrs. Harry Cudmore, on First Aid, demonstrated how a Home Made First Aid Kit may be provided inexpensively. She gave information also of a First Aid Course to be held between Christmas and New Years.

Mr. Edward MacPhail outlined available material provurable from the Department of Education.

Mr. Millar MacFadgen, Representative of P. E. I. T. F., urged teachers to read all News Letters and to send in all reports.

Mr. P. J. McInnis of the Cancer Society, stressed the importance of stimulating a "healthy" fear of cancer, with early diagnosis resultant.

He pointed out the teachers' part in this matter

Afternoon Session

At the opening of the afternoon session, the Question Box was conducted by Mrs. Anne Crockett and Miss Margaret MacDougall

Miss Mona Wilson, speaking on Public Health, pointed out the fact that the teacher may influence the health conditions of his school as a model which the pupils instinctively imitate.

Dr. L.W. Shaw, Director of Education, in an inspirational address, expressed his hope that the teachers would return to their classrooms inspired and with an added store of practical hints.

He endorsed the opinion that teachers may yet save the world. The teacher builds himself to his pupils. As a teacher is, so his pupils will be. He also pointed out that the teacher is an important influence in building a pleasant environment for school work, and that teachers as Missionaries in the field of education must urge better school conditions.

Dr. Shaw also stressed the importance of the teacher's thorough knowledge of the course of studies and its supplements, and the importance of assignment of new school work.

In closing Dr. Shaw outlined the Series of Educational broadcasts beginning Oct. 2, and expressed the opinion that teaching is the greatest industry we have.

Miss Willet, in a demonstration on language, stated the importance in language training, but not in a "nagging" correction of all errors of speech, but through organized periods of correction which can be made enjoyable. She dealt briefly with methods of correcting various forms of speech defect.

Music Festival

Mr. R. F. Mugford, Instructor of Music, expressed the hope that more rural schools would enter the Music Festival and explained various aids offered to rural schools. He outlined a project undertaken of teaching music through records, the recordings to be made available on request.

Following his remarks, Mr. Mugford led in an enjoyable singsong.

Rev. Mr. Mercer spoke in the cause of temperance, pointing out the role of the teacher in making the classroom a place of education on the facts of alcoholism. He stressed the importance of this through the quotation of some distressing statistics on alcoholism.

Miss Helen Yeo, B.A., teacher of Reading and Language at P. W. C., gave a demonstration on Literature. Miss Yeo outlined the use of the Basic Readers, pointing out the benefits of the Basic Readers through their careful grading of vocabulary.

Her remarks were illustrated by a film shown by Mr. Martin.

Resolutions

The following resolutions were brought in by the Resolutions Committee:

1. That the thanks of this Convention be extended to Dr. Steel for the use of this hall.
2. That the thanks of this Convention be extended to Miss Anderson, Mrs. Cudmore, Mrs. MacCallum, Miss Wilson, Miss Yeo, Mrs. Willett, Mr. Rice, Mr. MacPhail, Mr. MacFadgen, Mr. MacInnis, Mr. Shaw, Rev. Mr. Mercer, Mr. Mugford, and all others who have helped to make this Convention a success.
3. That equality be considered between country and city teachers regarding the bonus.
4. In the absence of a suitable handbook in Nature Study for the Junior Grades, be it resolved that the Department of Education be asked to supply an outline in Nature Study similar to that for Grades IX and X.
5. Be it resolved that we teachers endeavour to use more dramatization of our Junior Red Cross meetings.

The following slate of officers was elected:

President, Mrs. Anne Crockett, York.

Vice - President, Mr Wendell Horton.

Secretary, Miss Mary Sigsworth, Spring Park School.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of God Save The King.

No Inquest Into Drownings

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Sept. 17—(CP)—Dr. H. S. Everett, coroner, said today that no inquest will be held into yesterday's drowning accident at Gibson's Lake, when five lumbermen lost their lives after a rowboat capsized.

The victims were Harold R. J. Murphy, 34, Coote Hill, N.B.; Louis Perry, 24, Miscouche, P.E.I.; Alexander Creelman, 20, Newton Mills, N.S.; Howard Gavin, 26, Tignish, P.E.I., and Frank Brennan, also of Tignish.

The bodies of Perry, Creelman, Gavin and Brennan were placed aboard a train tonight and funeral arrangements will be made at their homes. Creelman was a son of John and the late Mrs. Creelman of Newton Mills, Colchester County, N.S.

The body of Murphy has been taken to the home of his father, Josiah G. B. Murphy, at Coote Hill, where the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

The bodies of Gavin and Brennan are expected to arrive tonight in Tignish. That of Brennan, whose parents are dead, will be taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Henry Doyle, Tignish. Two brothers are also believed to reside in the Tignish district, James and Wilfred, in addition to Thomas at Black's Harbor, N. B., and a sister at Skinner's Pond.

The body of Louis Perry is arriving at Miscouche tonight also. It is probable the funeral will be held Sunday, although arrangements were not completed last night.
