

Canadians attached to the Royal Air Force are participating in every phase of the rout of the Luftwaffe over North Africa and the Mediterranean. In addition, a distinctive Royal Canadian Air Force squadron, equipped and maintained by Canada, is based on the Western Desert. Tested and not found wanting in service over the British Channel and Northern France, the Spitfire squadrons took to desert warfare with ease. It has done its share in hammering Rommel's transport and troop concentrations and in clearing the skies of his air support. It may be warm on the sands of the Western Desert but it's a different sort of 20,000 feet, so Flying Officer J. M. Riley, of Charlottetown, dresses up in a warm jacket before taking off. Attention Farmers Near Charlottetown

Contrary to the rumors and for the purpose of setting the farmers who have Fertilizer booked with us at ease, we are in a position to make complete deliveries of every pound of Fertilizer that we have sold to our customers.

Deliveries will not be in volume until the last week in May and the first week in June which is ample time on account of our season being backward.

If you have any Potatoes to market, why not have them in readiness the day your Fertilizer is delivered.
