Falconwood Concert Enjoyed By Patients

The staff and patients at Falconwood Hospital were entertained to a variety concert on Friday evening by a group of artists organized by Mr. Jimmy Power of Jimmy's Taxi, who not only arranged the concert, but also provided transportation to and from the hospital for the performers.

The concert was well received by the audience of a hundred and fifty persons or more, and included singing, dancing and instrumental music. The accompanist for the evening was Mr. Albert Blanchard.

At the completion of the concert Mr. Fruecht, business manager of Falconwood, thanked those taking part, and expressed the wish they would come soon again with another concert, also requested them to mention to others how much the patients enjoy the concert, and perhaps in this way more entertainment would be provided by those who have talent and are willing to sacrifice an hour or so to come to the hospital and bring some enjoyment to those less fortunate than themselves.

In Memoriam

J. MILTON WHEATLEY

A host of friends were saddened and shocked to hear of the passing in the Prince Edward Island Hospital on February 11th of J. Milton Wheatley at the age of 41 years.

Taken ill five weeks previous to his death Mr. Wheatley was gradually recovering but a sudden turn for the worse proved fatal, his spirit winging its way to its maker in the early morning hours of February 11th.

Of a kind and loving disposition "Milt" as he was known was very popular with a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who keenly regret his passing.

One of the most successful young business men in the City he was agent for number of years for Graham Paige cars and Philco radios, later conducting a grocery and meat business on Elm Avenue and the large measure of trade accorded him testified to the deceased's popularity. In addition he also operated a 50-acre farm at Covehead, dealing mostly in table stock potatoes.

The late Mr. Wheatley was the son of Mrs. John Wheatley and the late John Wheatley of this City.

Mourning the loss of a kind and loving husband and father as his wife, the former Miss Amy Hood of Cornwall and two sons, John, 13, and Cyril, 10. One brother Russell of North River also survives in addition to two sisters, May, Mrs. Ernest Handley of Arlington, Mass., and Rita of Charlottetown.

The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held from his late residence, Bayfield Street, on Thursday, February 13th, services being conducted at the home and grave by Rev. T. E. McLennan of Trinity United Church. Interment was in the People's cemetery.

Funeral bearers were Messrs. Geo. Gregory, Lloyd Stevenson, Ivan Andrews, Hammond Hemphill, John Warren and P. N. Mantel.

Zion W. M. S. Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of Zion W. M. S. was held on Thursday evening in the Ladies' Parlour with the President, Mrs. C. W. Patterson in the chair. The theme for the evening was the pre-eminence of Christ.

Along Invasion Route

The journey on a Russian train from Brest-Litovsk took us across White Russia through Minsk and Smolensk along the axis of the main German thrust on Moscow which the Red Army turned back within a few miles of the capital. The deep snow masked most of the scars of the war in Europe, but along the right of way we occasionally saw burned-out tanks and guns and skeletons of railway cars.

New wooden and log houses are being built in war-wrecked peasant villages. Minsk and Smolensk gradually are being reconstructed. The trip from the Bug River at Brest-Litovsk across rolling farmland dotted with clusters of fir trees is to a Canadian much like travelling up the Ottawa Valley from the entrance in the St. Lawrence. There are not so many villages and the country is more open but many similarities exist and there are the same snow fences, sleighs and drifted roads.

disgusted" with their treatment. One incident took place on the day the group arrived in Buenos Aires, at a reception given by the Argentine Labor and Welfare Department.

The report said: "We were invited to remove our coats in view of the extreme heat and humidity. "We were about to interpret this as an act of courtesy but we noticed a flashing of photographers' bulbs and a grinding of newsreel cameras. "We learned that the removal of one's coat in public in Argentina is regarded as a symbolic gesture of support for Peron, who terms himself the champion of the 'descamisado' or shirtless ones. "The pro-government newspapers and newsreels played up the incident as though it were an indication of endorsement by the Peron government. "When Peron government invited the American labor groups to make the three-week inspection tour, the C. I. O. rejected the invitation. The U. S. L. and rail unions accepted on condition that the Argentine Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) act as co-hosts.

LEGION HALL,

structed about ten years ago by veterans of World War I and had been enlarged only recently. About 40 feet long and 26 feet wide, it was a two-storey structure. The main floor was reserved for meetings, plays, etc., and the second floor contained the offices and rooms of the Mount Stewart Legion. The building was also equipped with a commodious gallery from which the projector operated. It is understood that the Legion is partially covered by insurance but it could not be learned last night whether or not there was any insurance on the warehouse or its contents.

Fear Repercussions

City and town-dwellers in the lower income brackets see in the impending increase in butter prices from 44 to 60 or even 65 cents a pound, another threat to their slender food budgets. Coming on top of higher prices for fluid milk, beef, pork and other basic commodities, they fear a further collapse of Canada's price structure which in turn would provoke a demand for higher wages in commerce and industry with the menace of industrial strife.

Already, women's local councils in a number of Canadian cities have placed the study of increased butter prices on the agenda of their next meetings and will forward their findings to heads of the National Council of Women. They recall that 25 years ago this month, the National Council waited on the then Agriculture Minister Motherwell with a request that the sale of oleomargarine be allowed for some years as a war measure be continued.

Whether or not they will take this view at the present time, remains to be seen. Other groups making a special study of butter price increases are the officers of national labour organizations in Ottawa. Both the Canadian trades and labour congress affiliated with the American Federation of Labour, A.C. 10. Affiliates are compiling cost of living statistics based on increasing price levels of butter and other essential food-stuffs. Further, they will make representations to the government on their findings.

This week-end, Prices Board maintained its contented attitude neither manufacture nor importation of margarine into Canada was feasible owing to world shortage of vegetable oils and to Canada's allocation of these oils. Supporters of oleomargarine, however, contend that Prices Board is behind the actual trend of production of es-

In any case, the butter price increase will be a strong lever in the hands of the hundreds of thousands of supporters of oleomargarine in the Dominion.

Saints Defeat P. W. C. Hoop Team 47-31

Taking advantage of an early first half lead S.D.U. cagers downed White Russia's 47-31 in a scheduled City League basketball tilt played Saturday night. Capt. Alling on every break the Saints led by the sharpshooting of Mullin and Roche, piled up a convincing 24-8 advantage over the Saints defence line, was benched with five fouls. With MacLennan and Quigley sparking the attack it looked for a few moments as if the nature of the game might change but the smart, accurate shooting of Roche matched the aggressive Wehmann point for point. Hodgson, P.W.C. forward, was banished for fouls and the half ended with the winners outscoring the losers 23-22. Roche with 15 points took scoring honors for the evening while MacLennan scored 12 points in the losers' column.

top navy amphibious specialist. For more than a month now the United States Atlantic fleet has been engaged in manoeuvres which have three purposes:

1. Applying the lessons learned from the atomic bomb tests at Bikini. One of the first of these was ship dispersion on a large scale in the event of an atomic bomb attack.

2. Testing new men who replaced the veterans demobilized after the war.

3. Trying out new weapons and changes made in tactics since the last great amphibious operation of the Second World War on Okinawa.

The manoeuvres are based on the idea that an enemy fleet of control of the Caribbean Islands "aided by an underground organization."

Op to now the navy's aircraft carriers and fleet units have been fighting ships of the opposing naval force.

The present problem is to land Marines on Oulebra, an American possession, in order to establish a base in the Antilles.

Where you can't just "PHONE THE DOCTOR!"

THE day of the struggling pioneer is not past. Today, in many frontier districts of Canada, families are struggling against great odds to open up new territories and to make a living. Isolated by distance and meagre transportation, these families live in loneliness and in primitive conditions. When accident or sickness strikes, the nearest doctor may be more than 100 miles away.

In such remote regions, the Canadian Red Cross operates Outpost Hospitals and Nursing Stations. Many dramatic stories could be written of the mercy services rendered by these hospitals and by the valiant Red Cross Outpost Nurses. Space permits only the citing of a few figures.
