Hagarty Charged With Murder

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BATHURST, N. B., April 13—Appearing before Police Magistrate Lemarquand today, Thomas Hagarty, fo North Tetagouche, was formally charged with the murder of his cousin, Frank Hagarty. When remanded until next Friday the accused said crisply, "and then I'll give you the clear works." He did not amplify the remark.

Frank Hagarty, who was shot twice Wednesday evening after returning a horse borrowed from Timothy, brother of Thomas, was buried today at West Bathurst. At an inquest yesterday Timothy testified that Thomas had fired three times at Frank outside the farm home where the bachelor brothers lived together. The coroner's jury held Thomas responsible for the shooting.

Junior Red Cross Portfolio Competition

The results of the Portfolio Competition among branches of the Junior Red Cross Society have been announced. The work of preparing the portfolios has all been done by the children of the different groups under the supervision of their teacher. The prizes are in the form of books for the school libraries.

Two schools tied for first prize, Miscouche Convent, taught by Mother St. Mary Sixtus and Dover School, Mrs. Casey Reynolds, teacher.

The second prize was won by Lower Montague, Miss Mary McNeill, teacher.

The groups winning honourable mention are:

Hopefield School, Miss Claire Brehaut.

Milton North, Miss Florence McRae.

Brooklyne, Prince County, Miss Lelia Profitt.

Kingston, Miss Flossie Younker.

There were twenty-four portfolios entered in the contest and each group requested that their portfolio be sent to a Junior Red Cross branch in some specified part of the world.

The Miscouche portfolio contained a history of the district, and illustrated descriptions of each of our national holidays. It also contained a very neatly drawn map of the district. The members requested that this portfolio be sent to the British Isles or Australia.

The Dover Junior Red Cross asked that their portfolio be forwarded to a school near Dover, England. It described the industries of the district, the activities of the Junior Red Cross, and samples of schoolwork and leaves of local trees. The outstanding thing in this portfolio is the display of knitted and woven articles of wool, crochet work, embroidery, and a tiny hooked mat.

A school in Nova Scotia will receive the portfolio of Lower Montague School. The pupils have exhibited in this work a number of articles describing eraly conditions in their vicinity. Articles on history, legends and local industries are all very neatly written. It also contains samples of school work, a map of the school grounds, and an interesting story of treasure on Brudenell Island.

Abegweit Club Annual Meeting

JOHN WILLIAMS,
President, A.A.A.

Baseball

Mr. George Francis reporting for the baseball committee, stated that the team had played two games in Moncton and two in Springhill. Due to lack of competition the team had not done very well. If the committee would secure competition, the club could put a team on the field equal to any in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Ian MacKenzie told of financial difficulties overcome by the team and its supporters in making a special trip to Springhill. Generous donations had been received from citizens.

Mr. J. W. F. McCallum, chairman of the hockey committee, stated that all the club had as far as a hockey team was concerned was hot air.

The statement precipitated considerable heated discussion in which Messrs. Hugh Gillis, E. F. Acorn, R. B. Brown, Earl Riggs, Harry Walsh, J. B. Murley and Harry Richardson took part. Some criticism was directed towards the executive of the club.

It was explained in answer to question that the Junior Abegweit hockey team did not have to pay for practice on the Forum.

A vote of thanks was extended to the Forum for the practices given the junior team.

Mr. N. A. Mathieson outlined the history of the junior hockey team during the past winter. He explained that six intermediate teams and a junior team had been organized early in the season. The teams had been registered under the Abegweit name.

Football

Mr. Mathieson, chairman of the football committee presented his report, stating that it was difficult to get players. Only three players had attended the meeting held in September. As a result of indifference, the game was dropped for the season.

Mr. George Hooper tendered his resignation from the executive.

Mr. S. F. Doyle stated that the Junior Abegweits were registered under the Abegweit name, as the club was the only affiliated one in the City. The Abegweit executive had nothing to do with the management of the team. Years of depression and the support of a senior team made it difficult to develop other lines of sport. The Club executive could not get from the public the financial support as it had a few years ago.

Mr. Doyle regretted that it had been impossible to put on a track and field meet.

Mr. Earl Riggs stated that the young could not be interested in sport unless the fathers were interested. He suggested that some kind of meet be held on May 24. Ladies might be interested in putting on a tea in the evening, to be followed by a carnival. He suggested the building of an outdoor rink for the development of young hockey players.

Councillor B. Roy Holman expressed his interest in the proceedings and in the activity of the Club.

Mr. C. St. Clair Trainor inquired why the meeting had been deferred till the present time.

It was explained that the meeting was not held in the Fall as it was difficult to get a good attendance at that time.

Dr. F. C. Dougan inquired of Councillor Holman why the indoor circus had been stopped by the City last Fall.

Mr. D. F. Bethune, M.L.A., suggested that the new executive sponsor a picture to assist in paying off the mortgage.

Mr. Eddie Hornby expressed regret on the fact that track athletics had been dropped. There should be some endeavour made to have the Maritime championships held here this year, to stimulate interest.

Mr. W. E. Scantlebury suggested a tag sale in support of the Club.

Before the election of officers, it was announced that Messrs. R. B. Brown, George Francis, J. Connolly, and Earl McInnis were the members who continued on the Executive.

As a result of balloting it was announced that Messrs. S. F. Doyle, Louis Stewart, Dr. F. C. Dougan, and Louis Campbell were elected for terms of three years, Messrs. Wallie Scantlebury and Arthur Affleck for terms of two years; Messrs. Eddie Hornby and Fred Pickard for terms of one year.

LONDON, April 8—On account of an epidemic of influenza at Rugby, the historic school, the boys who escaped illness enjoyed an Easter holiday several days longer than usual.

Country Wide Search For Prince's Favorite Dog Jigs

WINDSOR, England, April 13—It was a dog's life for canines on Berkshire and Surrey bypaths today because police were seeking Jigs, the Prince of Wales' favorite terrier.

Jigs, a roguish looking little cairn that—rumor has it—sleeps in the Royal bedroom whenever he feels like it, has been A.W.O.L. since Thursday night, when he disappeared from Fort Belvedere, the Prince's country house.

Police have been so busy looking for him that one would think Jack the Ripper were loose again, but they bent all their detective instincts to recovering Jigs so he would be on hand when the Prince returns from Scotland.

While authorities of the two countries combed the roadways, employees of the Royal estate beat the bushes in the belief the black bewhiskered cairn might be lost there and searchers kept telephone lines to Glasgow busy informing the Prince of the progress.

This wide and frantic search did reveal one thing, however—some Britons have a sketchier knowledge of dogdom than they are reputed to have.

Several dogs were snatched up and carried to police stations on the chance that they might be Jigs. Several of them didn't resemble Jigs in the least. No one, however, appeared with a police dog or St. Bernard in tow, much to the surprise of the officers.

year-old last year winning every summary except one and showing capacity to go in even time. He has manners and terrific lick and will have to be reckoned with by the very best in the division.

Quite Sure (3) 2.01 3-4 by Peter Volo 2.02 has the distinction of being the only three-year-old to defeat the champion Mc I Win during his winning streak in 1932 when he topped fifteen summaries Quite Sure has speed to burn but is liable to jump at inopportune times. Harry Brusie raced him without the hopples but this year he is being trained to them by Dr. Parshall in whose stable he is at present.

Raider (3) 2.02 1-2, by Peter Volo 2.02 was the leading money winning pacer in his division in 1932. He was not raced in 1933 owing to the tragic death of his owner. He is a rugged horse with a lot of speed and if his year's let up has not set him back, may take a tab of around two minutes.

Rip Hanover (2) 2.00 3-4 by Truax 2.03 1-2 will be trained and raced by that incomparable Canadian reinsman Vic Fleming. At the age of two Rip attained world's championship honors and was unbeatable, but as a three-year-old last year he did not measure up to expectations as his disposition was not the best and his trainer could not seem to get him to show his true capacity. However, at the Grand Circuit races, Syracuse, N. Y., he won the Free for All over the wet weather track which is a slow one, from Cold Cash 1.59 1-2 and Calumet Adam 1.59 3-4 in 2.01 1-4, 2.00 3-4 leading all the way. It was one of the most remarkable performances ever staged over that course.

Particulars regarding Zombro Hanover who makes the tenth of the fast brigade were given at the beginning of these notes.

The Charlottetown Driving Park track is drying up very fast and was visited on Thursday by several horsemen. Among those noticed were Elmer Ferguson driving Billy Cope 2.10 3-4, Nunce Welsh with Addie McGraw, 2.10 1-2 and Pat McKenna with Because 2.12. It will be some time before the track will be ready for training, however, as the centre field will have to be leveled off and the planking taken up where the teams cross the track with their loads.

It looks like a good season for racing locally. We do not remember any time in recent years when there were so many fast record horses owned in Charlottetown. This is particularly gratifying to all our town sportsmen, as there is no better fun than watching the workout performances of fast horses during their spring training.

In the American Sportsman of April 5th appears particulars of the three minute trot, purse $200, raced at Independence, Iowa, October 19th and 20th, 1892, forty-two years ago. There were twenty starters and the race went to twelve heats, ten of which were trotted on October 20th. Only three were distanced and six of the original field raced twelve heats and two of these six did not receive any part of the $200 purse. We publish the summary of the first five horses and it is worth clipping.

Red Baron by Baron Wilkes—3, 5, 4, 5, 3, 3, 4, 3, 1, 2, 1, 1.
Equinox by C. M. Clay—6, 2, 1, 9, 5, 2, 7, 5, 4, 1, 4, 4.
Haldee B. by Charles G. Hayes—4, 3, 5, 2, 7, 7, 1, 4, 6, 2, 2.
Frank M. by Phantom—13, 9, 6, 4, 2, 1, 2, 2, 3, 5, 5, 5.
Pilot by Idol—11, 7, 10, 7, 6, 4, 3, 1, 2, 3, 6, 6.
Sir Gordon finish 1, 4, 3, 1, 5, 6, 8, 8, and was distanced the tenth heat. Jack Reid finished 10, 1, 2, 1, 11 and drawn the sixth heat.

Says the Sportsman, "And this particular event is not an isolated case. Another of the same length was staged at the same track during the same year for two and three year olds and attracted a field of eleven, of which number six went the entire race. At various other points these veritable marathons prevailed, one of eleven heats occurring the same season at Youngston, Ohio, for a $250 purse in which but two horses were distanced and six struggled to the bitter end. We use the words "bitter end" advisedly as considerable animosity arose and continued long after the battle was over."

Writing of Paul Bowser, wrestling promoter who has a very fine stable of trotters and pacers which he uses for his enjoyment and incidentally manages to almost make pay, the Sportsman says. "We knew the owner Paul Bowser when he was wrestling around and notwithstanding most excruciating pain and liability of permanent injury on the mat just to race an old flea bitten grey. He was the first to recognize the then prevailing system of wrestling was practically a dead issue, so busied himself promoting a new style, encouraged, attracted and developed numerous college graduates into mat artists and within a few years has made it one of the most popular winter sports.

He gives the public action in large doses and keeps the spectators on the edge of their seats or standing in excitement. Bowser says: "we must get our money from the public so we must forget our likes and dislikes and give it what it wants. Rules mean nothing to the vast majority of people who go to sporting events. Give them a rapid fire entertainment in as pleasing an atmosphere as possible. Keep your events moving so that spectators will not lose interest, and above all do not overdose them. You and I could still enjoy seeing some of those old knock down and drag out seven heat races, but the public today does not care for the old time stuff, they want action."

M. T. Grattan, former turf scribe Civil War Veteran and race official who is serving a life sentence in Iowa State Penitentiary for killing a man in an argument at an Iowa race track last summer, may receive a parole pardon the latter part of this month as he is the holder of a Congressional Medal of Honor and as such is entitled to receive consideration from the Iowa Parole Board and Governor despite the offence for which he is convicted. The old gentleman is 92 years of age but is as hale, hearty and frisky as a young man.

Mrs. Ann T. Pitman, wife of the late Earl Pitman, whose self-inflicted tragic death occurred recently, is closing out all farm equipment. It is understood that promoters of dog racing are negotiating for the track and will utilize it for racing, providing the pari-mutual bill becomes effective.

The Florida racing season just closed grossed approximately $27,000,000 in the pari-mutual plays according to state racing commissioner Walter Donovan. This is a gain of $7,000,000 over the previou year. Hialeah track took in $11,500,000, Tropical Park $5,500,000 and $11,000,000 went to the "dawgs" at the greyhound tracks.

John E. Kelley of Bangor, whose horses were raced here two years ago by Red Hanafin, has two Grand Circuit entries in the stable of Harry Short of Columbus, Ohio, in Marilee Hanover (2) 2.09 1-4 and Harry Van 2.10 3-4. E. E. Piper formerly of Bangor, Maine, well known to Island race horsemen in other days when he raced Betty Direct 2.07 1-4 is back in Maine after a three years sojourn in Montana. He brought back with him a carload of work horses and found a good market for them.

S. A. Wathen whose stable of race horses was formerly campaigned by Billy Keyes but last year was very capably handled by his son, has Dude Potempkin (3) 2.10 1-2, Calumet Dude (2) 2.09 1-2, Calumet Foretop, a two-year-old, and Eula H. 2.06 1-2 in fine trim for this season's racing.

That splendid stallion Atlantic Express 2.07 3-4 sire of Nedda 1.59 1-2 and a whole string of fast record trotters and pacers, is now located at the farm of W. M. Chellis Kezar Falls, Maine. Not since the days of Nelson 2.10 over thirty years ago has the sire of a world's champion been in service in the Pine Tree State.

Jack Kingsley who trained Marilee Hanover to a world's record of 2.09 1-4 as a two-year-old pacing over a half mile track last fall and has been in the hotel business also as a side line, has sold out his hotel business and will train a racing stable at Lewiston, Maine.

Frank Fox, one of the oldest living trainers of harness horses whose years number near the four score mark, will again train a stable in Maine the coming Spring. He is said to be as active as ever and full of reminiscences of the harness days of the past.

is necessary to have police patrols to control riding traffic.

The solons of American football get together every year and endeavor to devise rules that will lessen the chances of serious injuries. They have been successful too, as statistics show. In 1931 fifty died, in 1932, thirty-eight and 1933 thirty-six.

The boys from Cambridge University, London, England, have been showing the Yankee footballists a few things about the game that have opened their eyes. The Cambridge Rugby football team came here largely through the efforts of the Literary Digest and are playing a series of games with Harvard, Yale and Princeton. They have been winning by tremendous scores and incidentally displaying passing skill, punting, drop kicking and goal kicking ability that is being termed marvelous by American sports writers. The fast open play which Rugby affords gives a thrill which the American scrimmage game with its heavy interference does not possess and it looks as though Rugby may be made so popular through this invasion that it will be on the regular curriculum of American colleges.

The Prince of Wales was the winner of two games on Tuesday in the Royal Military Marines golf championship at Sunningdale near London. What a versatile chap he is! A clever rider, aviator, good polo player, fair tennis player, a swimmer, golfer and what not.

Max Baer is on his way to New York. He will move by easy stages and arrive at his destination late this week or early next week. He will probably take up his training quarters at Atlantic City where his training can be made more light hearted by the presence of the glamour which surrounds a large city.

Within the last few years New Brunswick has come right to the fore in rifle shooting. Prior to that they usually ranked third to Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in the Intermaritime Matches. The improvement is due to the popularity which rifle shooting has attained in Saint John where there is an expert armourer who attends to the bedding of the rifles and a whole lot of crack shots have developed. This year two Saint John men will be on the Bisley team, namely, Corporal Donald MacLeod and Lieut. F. Gow. This is a pretty fair proportion we think when it is considered that the whole Dominion of Canada has an allotment of eighteen.

Jackie Kane, well known hockeist of the Abbies' forward line, returned on Wednesday evening from a trip to Montreal where he witnessed the playoff games. Before leaving he saw his friends Kelly and Currie of the Abbies, who informed him that they were prepared to play under the old colors again the coming season if the Abbies remain in the Big Four.

Hamilton, Ont., looks to have another star sprinter in the person of Bert Pearson. Years ago it was Bobby Kerr who blazed a trail of victories at Olympic games throughout England and Canada. Bert Pearson is twenty-one years of age and last year won the 220 yards championship of Canada in 22.4 seconds and this year has twice defeated Ralph Metcalf, sprinting flash of the U. S. A. at the sixty yards distance. He is co-holder with Kerr of the Canadian open record of 200 metres of 21.8 seconds and last summer made one of his most brilliant performances at Hamilton in the meet with the Oxford-Cambridge team when he won the hundred yards sprint in 9.7 seconds.

CLASS BANNER WILL GO TO FIRST BABY

WOLVILLE, April 13—Breaking a custom of long standing, the Senior Class of Acadia University voted tonight that the Class banner be awarded to the first baby born to any member of the class who married after graduation.

The custom for years has been that the banner go to the first lady member married after Convocation Day: A motion to that effect was moved by the girls at tonight's meeting, but the boys, who were in the majority, voted it down. It was then moved that the banner go to the first male member of the class who married after graduation. When this motion failed to get support, somebody conceived the idea of giving the banner to the first baby, and Hugh Spencer, Halifax moved a motion to that effect.

The boys voted unanimously in favor and there were no dissenting votes, although most of the girls failed to ballot either way.

tactics. The bill was withdrawn yesterday for a few hours by the Prime Minister after he charged the Liberals had deliberately tried to hold it up. Today the Nova Scotia member charged the Prime Minister withdrew it because he was scheduled to speak over the radio to the electors of South Oxford.

As far as blockade tactics were concerned, continued the Maritimer, the Prime Minister was "the greatest sinner of all" with his speeches and provocative manner.

General Denial

A general denial that he had attempted sectionalism or had pitted East against West in requesting facts on the wheat guarantees was entered by Mr. Duff. "It does not lie in his mouth to say that I or anyone else in this House is against the Western Provinces," he said, referring to Mr. Bennett.

To climax it all, the Nova Scotian repeated his request for a $15,000 bank guarantee for Canso fishermen which would be repaid in the Fall but there was no reply from the Government.

Mr. Veniot returned to the charge made yesterday by the Prime Minister that Liberals were raising a West-against-the-East cry over wheat guarantees. The New Brunswicker entered a general denial his party was raising a sectional cry and, at the same time, read from a speech made in the 1930 election campaign by Hon. C. H. Cahan, which, he charged was a flagrant attempt at sectionalism."

"We have no fault to find with the Government for aiding distressed Western farmers," said Mr. Veniot. "But I appeal to them also to see what they can do to relieve distress in the Maritime Provinces as well."

Mr. Veniot referred to the plight of fishermen in northern New Brunswick, appealing to the Government for aid.

TENSE SITUATION

Nearly 2,000 employees at the main telegraph office here showed their hostility to the government at noon when encouraged by alleged Communists, they chanted the Internationale.

Postal workers in the city of Lyon staged a strike for one hour at noon and employees of that department in Rouen walked out for two hours. In Marseilles strikers held a parade and in Algeria the Colonial workers cut off communication with France for an hour.

Stocks Skid

While the government employees and war veterans fought with the Cabinet, prices on the stock exchange skidded as rumors spread that Lou's Germain-Martin, Minister of Finance, might resign. This rumor was circulated before Premier Doumergue firmly refused to retain the present pension rate and ordered the planned cut made.

The minister had demanded that the entire economy programme incuding all the salary and pension reductions, be put through.

Doumergue also began a campaign to make retail merchants trim their prices and force manufacturers to lower costs in order to make living cheaper and enable France to meet foreign competition in many products.
