THE ROSS RECONSTRUCTION.

Premier Ross has taken three new men into his cabinet, replacing those that have retired. G. B. Graham of Brockville is one of these. He was Liberal organizer at the late federal election for the district in which the bogus ballot boxes were imported. The candidate Lott, who is under arrest for his share in that nefarious scheme and the candidate Shibley for whom a warrant is out, but who has so far evaded arrest were brought out under Mr. Graham's auspices

Mr. McKay of Owen Sound who has become the new Attorney General in the Ross Government was elected in 1902 at an election in which it was charged that there was a fraudulent mutilation of Conservative ballots. A commission was appointed to investigate, but it never reported. McKay resigned, and was declared elected again at a by-election. The election was protested and Premier Ross called the Legislature together the day before the election court was called to meet. This kept McKay and two others in their seats and made up the Government's majority during the session.

After the House rose McKay and the two others referred to resigned rather than face the election courts. McKay now goes back to the people as a Cabinet Minister, and while it is not believed that he can be honestly re-electad he may in some manner by machine methods get a majority of the ballots. What confidence can a disgusted electorate have in a reconstruction of the sort above indicated?

It is noted in the press that cremation is becoming more and more the fashion among the aristocracy of the British Isles. An extraordinary number of British peers have in late years on dying left peremptory directions for the burning of their remains and only in two instances haye these instructions been disobeyed. These were the cases of the late Duke of Argyll and the late Marquis of Buteo. the Scottish courts holding in each case that such testamentary directions are not binding in Scotland, Lady Dilke, wife of Sir Charles Dilke, and Lord Monson were two prominent persons whose bodies were recently cremated. Cremation has been forbidden by the Roman Catholic church since 1886 and because of this the action of Lord Bute, who was a devout Catholic, in asking that his body should be burned, has excited considerable surprise.

THE PACKING COMPANY MINUTE.

At a meeting of the Provincial Government held on Saturday last it was decided to make pnblic the Minute of Council embodying the agreement of the Government with J M Wiley representing the proposed Paeking Company. The Minute of Council bears date 28th August 1902. Attached to the published copy is the certificate of Arthur Newberry, Clerk of the Executive Council, attesting that there is no other Minute of Council with reference to guaranteeing the bonds of any packing Company,

The published Minute shows that under certain conditions the Government undertook to guarantee the Company's bonds up to $150,000, but these conditions the company were apparently neither willing nor able to fulfil and consequently nothing further was done in the matter. The one remarkable thing about the transaction appears to be that the text of the Minute of Council in question was not long since made public. The Government had nothing to lose and perhaps something to gain by the fullest publicity being given,

Francis Wayland Glen, once a member of the Dominion Parliament, but for years past a resident of the United and a blatant annexationist, has recently been heard from. He has gone to jail because of his failure to pay the typewriter who prepared his annexation letters for the press!

The Yukon has yet to add its representative to the House or Commons, the polling being fixed for December 16. Fred T. Congdon has resigned the position of Governor to become the Ministerial candidate and no doubt will be elected. Government control of the mining and other material interests in the Yukon is so great that it is almost impossible for an Opposition candidate to be elected, should one offer.

FELT YOUNG AGAIN.

Wonderful Work Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Mr. G. J. Worden.

WICKHAM, N. B., Nov. 28.—(Special).—Mr. G. J. Worden, the old and respected Commissioner of Wickham Civil Courts, is one of the veteran Canadians who can say, "Dodd's Kidney Pills made me feel like a young man." Mr. Worden gives the following experience:

"I was afflicted with Kidney Trouble for over twenty-five years. I suffered with pains in the back and loins, and it was with great difficulty I could urinate. Doctors failed to help me, and an operation brought me no permanent relief.

"An advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I firmly believe by the grace of God they have done all for me that is claimed for them, for it seemed to me I was a new and young man made out of an old one."
