The Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. of Prince Edward Island has completed arrangements with the National Secretary, J. Vernon Jackson, to permit the National Organizer, S. H. Webb, to remain a few weeks longer in the province to complete the organization in Queens and King's Counties. Mr. Webb has been in the province about six weeks and has covered a good deal of ground. He has met almost all the lodges in the province, organized several new ones and reactivated others. He is doing a good work and should meet with the hearty support of all who believe in temperance education and organization.

The Thursday evening service Methodist Church, Cornwall, Sept. 26th was participated in by Rev. Mr. Howland of Backville and Fred W. Lawden, the latter conducting the service. He also filled the appointments on the Cornwall Circuit, Sunday Sept. 29th Cornwall morning and evening and Hampshire in the afternoon. The discourses were thoughtful, instructive and well reasoned out. The morning text "Worship the Lord in the beauty of Holiness" The evening, "If ye then being Evil know how to give good gifts to your children how much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?" The attendance were large and singing most appropriate and hearty, the choir acquitting themselves well indeed. After supplying most acceptably on the Cornwall and Montserrat circuits, Mr. Lawden resumed his studies at Mount Allison University on Oct. 1st.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the board Friday afternoon. He is a graduate of Bede college, Durham, England. As the full exhibit of the work of the Victoria public schools is still in the east, the superintendent proposed to the board yesterday that at the provincial exhibition next week the exhibit of the work of the domestic science department should be supplemented by an exhibit of the actual cooking taught by the board. The matter was left to the supervisor, Miss Juniper, and himself.--Victoria Times. Mr. McLean was formerly Principal of the Macdonald School at Hillsboro and Miss Juniper, teacher of Domestic Science in Prince of Wales College.

Lovers of classical music should be in their seats early tonight to hear Leslie Gossmith play Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and Mendelssohn's G. Minor Concerto, with which he opens the program. These will be followed by a number of humorous items, in which Mr. Gossmith excels. The program covers a great deal of ground and is most varied. In addition to Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Donizetti and others on the serious side, there will be such selections as Paper Bag Cookery, the very latest London success, "Does this shop stock shot silk socks with spots," a song which made a great hit at the Drury Lane pantomime in London last Christmas a musical illustration of an Adelphi melodrama, two character sketches Captain La De Da and A London Coster, an eccentric recitation. The 1169 Express Character Sketch, The Country Curate, the Employment Agent. Also monologues, interludes, stories, imitations, burlesques, etc., etc. In addition to all this Mr. Gossmith will play some of his own compositions. Seats may be booked at J. G. Jamieson's and C. D. Rankin's Drugstores.
