DEATH OF A PROVINCIALIST.

Frank Conlan, late quartermaster sergeant of the U. S. marine corps at the Charlestown navy, died last evening following a short sickness, at his home, 25 Mt Vernon St., Charlestown where he had lived for the past twenty years. He was well known and respected by a large circle of friends in the community in which he resided and also by his fellow soldiers at the navy yard.

Mr Conlan was born at Charlottetown Prince Edward Island sixty six years ago. When a young man he came to this city and in 1873 enlisted in the U. S. marine corps at the yard. He was promoted from a private in the ranks to higher grades until he reached that of quartermaster sergeant, which position he held for about a year. He was retired from the service May 21, 1903.

Mr Conlan is survived by his wife, Margaret Prendergast Conlan—Boston Globe.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodroffe will be greatly missed in social and church work and take with them the best wishes of all citizens in which The Guardian heartily joins.

Guardian readers will hear with deep regret of the death of Rev. Peter Curran which occurred at Colorado Springs on Sunday. The late Father Curran, who is a brother to Rev. Dr. Curran, was born in St. Theresa's, and was in his fifty-sixth year. He was a son of the late Francis Curran and was educated at St. Dunstan's College after which he taught school for a number of years. He was appointed School Inspector for the eastern part of the Island in 1879, which position he held until 1884, when he went to the Propaganda College at Rome. He was ordained Priest in 1889 and was appointed Professor at St. Dunstan's College in 1890. Afterwards he took charge of Tracadie Parish, and in 1895, was appointed Rector of St. Dunstan's College. He governed this institution for three years, and was then given charge of St. Margaret's Parish, where he remained until ill health obliged him to give up his parochial duties and seek to recuperate his health in a more congenial climate, and he went to Colorado Springs in 1902. Here he had undergone several operations the last of which took place about four months ago.

Carpenter-Morton Roofing can be used with very satisfactory result on either a flat roof, slanting roof or peaked roof. It is a non-conductor of heat and cold. The upper rooms of a dwelling are cooler in summer and warmer in winter than when other materials are used. Fennell & Chandler carries a full stock. Booklet and sample furnished free.

The pictures at New Wonderland to-night are The Road to Love, Matilda's Love Tragedy, Moonlight on the Nile.
