The Potato Planter.
 The potato planter of today would make a farmer of a generation or so ago sit up and rub his eyes. It requires that the potatoes be supplied, but will do all the rest of its own initiative. It picks the potato up and looks it over, or seems to, cuts it into halves, quarters or any desired number of parts, separates the eyes and removes the seeds. It plants whole potatoes or parts thereof as desired as near together or as far apart as the judgment of the farmer on the driving seat suggests. Having dropped the seed it covers it, fertilizes it, tucks it in like a child put to bed and paces off the next row with mathematical accuracy.

The Oldest Libraries.
 The oldest libraries of which we have any certain knowledge are those brought to light by excavations among the ruins of the east. Among these are the Babylonish books inscribed on clay tablets, supposed to have been prepared for public instruction about 650 B. C. It is said by Aristotle that Strabo was the first known collector of books and manuscripts. This was about the year 350 B. C.

One Common Wee.
 "Beg pardon, sir," remarked the man who was hanging to strap No. 1, "but do you get off at the next corner?"
 "I don't see that it is any of your business," replied his fussy neighbor.
 "Well no," admitted the mild gentleman, "but I was merely going to remark that I get off there and if you will be so kind as to lift I'd like to take that foot with me!"

Coughs, colds, hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Oronolase tablets, two cents per box. All druggists.

Hearing.
 A person who has totally lost the sense of hearing in one ear cannot locate the direction of sound, even when the center of disturbance is quite near him.

How the Dress Coat Was Formed.
 The present dress coat was the result of a compromise. The ordinary surcoat being found on occasions inconvenient it was the practice to fasten back the lapels to two buttons at the back, with the result that in time the same were cut away altogether and the coat eventually made without them.

To Polish Wood.
 To polish wood use pumice and water, then take boiled linseed oil for a bright surface.

Petroneus Arbiter.
 Petroneus Arbiter, the poet and man of pleasure in Nero's court, having fallen into disgrace, went home, wrote a satirical poem describing Nero's debaucheries and then opened his veins.

The Spectroscope.
 In the field of astronomy the spectroscope is often more serviceable than the telescope, for by its means have been discovered dark, starlike bodies, which revolve about stars and which a telescope thousands of times more powerful than any we now possess could never reveal.

To Remove Stains From Wall Paper.
 The staining caused by persons leaning their heads against a papered wall may be greatly lessened, if not obliterated, by laying a sheet of blotting paper upon the spot and passing over it a moderately warm flatiron.

The Pepper Plant.
 The Pepper plant (Piper nigrum) which produces the white and black pepper of commerce is a climbing, vine-like shrub found growing wild in the forests of Travancore and the Malabar coast of India. Pepper is entirely tropical in its requirements. The white pepper is the black pepper decorticated by maceration and rubbing.

Fatal Joy.
 Overcome with joy at his unexpected release from prison, a convict collapsed and died as he stepped out of the jail door to freedom at Leutschan, Hungary.

Women in Finland.
 In Finland more than in any other country women enter into the business of life. They are clerks, doctors, dentists, builders, managers of small companies and bank cashiers. For the latter office they are especially sought on account of their reputation for honesty.

Demosthenes.
 Demosthenes took poison which for years he had carried about with him in a pen. He was disgusted at the recklessness and folly of the Athenians.

"Her marriage was a great disappointment to her friends."
 "Indeed?"
 "Oh, yes. They all predicted it would turn out unhappily, and it didn't."

It's not the weather that's at fault. It's your system, clogged with poisonous materials, that makes you feel dull, drowsy, weak and miserable. Let Burdock Blood Bitters clear away all the poisons, purify and enrich your blood, make you feel bright and vigorous.

A man, like a horse, loses his usefulness when he becomes a chronic kicker.

GET RID OF THAT COUGH
 Before the summer comes, Dr. Woods' Norway Pine Syrup conquers Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, and all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

A little assistance is worth a whole lot of advice.
