United Young Peoples Union Convention At Murray Harbor

The Eastern Young Peoples Union of the Prince Edward Island United Church Presbytery held their annual convention at Murray Harbor on Friday, October 23rd.

Despite the unfavourable weather about one hundred delegates were present. The afternoon session opened with an inspiring devotional service conducted by Wheatley River Union under the leadership of Miss Mabel Ling. The business period then followed consisting of the minutes of the last convention, the treasurer's report, and the appointment of committees.

Rev. F. R. Goudge, minister of Murray Harbor United Church, extended a cordial welcome to the visiting delegates after which the newly appointed Field Secretary, Rev. W. S. Godfrey of Sackville, N. B. introduced the convention theme "Working with God in the making of a new world." Mr. Godfrey gave some very valuable suggestions particularly on conducting worship services in young peoples groups.

The delegates then divided into four discussion groups as follows: "Mission" led by Rev. F. R. Goudge, Murray Harbor; Helping other young people to be Christian, Rev. Hugh Miller, Charlottetown; "War and young people's attitude toward defence by arms", Rev. E. M. Aitken, St. Peter's Bay; "Duties of Christian Citizenship" by Rev. G. A. Christie, York.

After forty minutes discussion the group reassembled to discuss the findings in open forum. The findings dealt with such topics as Young peoples attitude towards war, missions, obedience and enforcement of laws, co-operative movements, and personal evangelism.

The delegates then adjourned to the Temperance Hall where they enjoyed a banquet served by the Excelsior Union of Murray Harbor. The toasts were as follows:

The King, proposed by the toastmaster Fred A. Large, President of the Eastern Union, responded to by the National Anthem.

Canada, proposed by Donald McKenzie, Belle River Union, responded to by O Canada.

The Church, proposed by Alstair McLeod, Trinity Union, Charlottetown, responded to by Rev. Hugh Miller.

The Young Peoples Unions, proposed by Elmer Frizzell, Cornwall Union, responded to by Rev. Andrew McKenzie, Charlottetown.

The Men proposed by Isabel Brown, York Union, responded to by Angus Gilmore, York Union.

The Hosts, proposed by Walter Digwell, Marie Union, responded to by Thelma Leclachur, Murray Harbor Union. After the toast Miss Mabel Ling of the Maritime Executive gave a report of the Sackville Conference. The banquet closed with a sing-song led by Rev. W. S. Godfrey.

The evening session opened at 7.45 with a devotional service by Trinity Union under the leadership of Marion Hume. This service included a short address by Prof. Alfred Linkletter of Prince of Wales College. The main address for the evening was given by Mr. Godfrey. The installation of the following officers was also conducted by Mr. Godfrey.

Honorary President, Rev. Andrew McKenzie.

President, Enid Coffin, Montague. Vice-President, Harold Vessey, York.

Secretary - Treasurer, Marion Hume, Charlottetown. Convener of Christian Culture, Mabel Ling, Wheatley River.

Convener of Fellowship, Mrs. E. W. Anderson, Marie. Director of Leadership Training, Rev. W. E. Aitken, St. Peter's Bay.

Convener of Recreation, Donald Hurlley, Vernon. Publications, Lottie Affleck, Mt. Stewart.

A feature of the evening meeting was the presentation of a shield to the society doing the best work during the year. This shield was donated by the Marie Y. P. U. and was awarded for the second consecutive

VICTORIA WHARF

Sir—Your editorial note remarks that "A correspondent calls attention to the fact that repairs (recently denounced) to this work was budgeted for by the MacMillan Government, on a three years installment plan."

Yes; at that time the wharf was in use and repairs needed in days when public works were properly, and economically attended to. But the MacMillan Government neither budgeted for or ordered it to be used as a means of useless waste and squandering of money to stave off the wolves of patronage job hunters with guns pointed at the Campbell Government for unfulfilled election promises.

TURNIPS

Sir—In a recent visit to the New England States I took pleasure in visiting large provision stores of such leading cities as Lowell, Malden, Lexington, Wakefield the spacious outmarkets of Reading and other places.

P.E.I. turnips were the only kind on sale, and especially advertised on daily price sheets and conspicuously in the press.

It did not appear to me that size, emphasized in our shipping regulations was material. The consumer there budgets for his family according to the number at the table, selecting the sized turnip to suit his table clientele.

But quality does count. It is everything. A good round clean, well formed turnip, regardless of size, is sold at 4 lbs. for 10c at retail, or $1.25 per bushel. Club rooted and fibrous crooked stringy stock is sold at 3 lbs. for 5c about 82c per bushel. This in late September.

These prices would appear to show a wide spread from the producer to consumer, but when figuring freight, duty, insurance, bags, cartages and the retailers necessarily high overhead profits it narrows down to quite a lower return to the shipper and producer here.

My impression is that the culls, removed by receivers from the main stock, sold at 92c would leave nothing for the farmer after payment of all expenses, and if our farmers would cull these themselves, using them for stock feeding, say to the extent of 10 bushels to the hundred, they should get as much for the remaining 90 bushels as they now get for the 100. Moreover, they would retain the Eastern States markets, which appears now to be ours absolutely, gaining greater favor and insuring against any chance of ever being displaced by other competition.

Instead of leaving the Boston receiver the job of classifying, if farmer or shipper would do this at home, dividing into two sizes, say year to the Trinity Union, Charlottetown.

The convention wish to express their appreciation to the judges in this competition Rev. H. L. Denton, Charlottetown, Baptist Church and Rev. S. C. Cooper, Central Christian Church, Charlottetown.

Much of the success of the convention was due to the capable leadership of our new Field Secretary, Rev. W. S. Godfrey whose forceful personality was keenly felt by all present.
