

J. S. TRUEMAN IS ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED

ST. JOHN, June 26.—The sad news of the death of Joseph Douglas Trueman, son of Mrs. and the late Judge Arthur I. Trueman of this city, was received here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Trueman was connected with the Dominion geological survey department and lost his life by drowning in the Rainy River district, Ontario.

During the past year discoveries of fossil remains of great antiquity have been made in the region around Deep Rock Lake in the Rainy River district and as their apparent age antedated previous similar discoveries that were received with great interest by the scientific world. On account of his special qualifications for the work Mr. Trueman was chosen to head the party which was to carry on further investigations in the district this summer and on account of their importance he was accompanied on the expedition by Dr. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institute. When the accident, which resulted so tragically, occurred Mr. Trueman and Dr. Walcott were together in a canoe. The frail craft was upset and both were thrown into the water. His companion was saved but Mr. Trueman was lost. Further details have not yet been received by those who were acquainted with Mr. Trueman and knew his ability as a swimmer and his familiarity with canoes, realize that only exceptional circumstances could cause his death in this way.

Mr. Trueman was born in St. John twenty-eight years ago and resided here until he left the city to complete his education. Besides his mother he is survived by two brothers, J. Macmillan Trueman, barrister, of this city, and Harold Trueman, of the staff of the Bank of Montreal in Chatham (Ont.), and three sisters, Mrs. Mrs. Wood, wife of Rev. George Wood of Chatham (N. B.), and Miss Jean and Kathleen at home.

The news of the fatal accident, which is believed to have taken place on Tuesday morning was received in telegram from Dr. R. W. Brock, director of the department at Ottawa.

Mrs. A. I. Trueman and Misses Jean and Kathleen, who have been in Summerside (P. E. I.) on a visit, were informed of the death by wire and they are returning to the city today. Mrs. Wood is also expected this afternoon.

Dr. Brock wired that he would accompany the body to St. John and Harold Trueman will proceed from Chatham to Ottawa and make the journey with him. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

The late Mr. Trueman was one of the finest young men this city has produced. In addition to his scientific attainments he was noted for his exemplary character, bright and cheerful disposition and engaging personality. He made friends wherever he went and won the deepest respect and most sincere esteem of all those with whom he came in contact. His loss will be widely mourned and the bereaved family will have the most sincere sympathy of their many friends.

national convention today, when he was defeated for temporary chairman of the convention, by Alton B. Parker.

Mr. Bryan first nominated Senator Kern to oppose Parker. The latter declined the honor and named Mr. Bryan to make the fight. The Nebraska made an eloquent plea for the cause he had represented for sixteen years, but it was unavailing. The debate preceded the roll call threw the convention into wild disorder. The official vote for temporary chairman was—

Parker.....579
Bryan.....506
O'Gorman.....4

On motion Parker's election as temporary chairman was made unanimous. Judge Parker was escorted to the platform by Senator Stone, of Missouri; Senator Lea, of Tennessee, and Judge Westcott, of New Jersey, amid continuous cheers.

Judge Parker was presented by Chairman Mack, and began his keynote speech as temporary chairman. As he started to read his speech there was great disorder and manifest weariness of the delegates and spectators and a motion was put to adjourn until 8 p. m. The motion was carried with a whoop and Parker suspended his speech.

At 8.25 tonight Chairman Mack dropped his gavel and the night session of the democratic convention was on.

Mr. Mack introduced Judge Parker, and the temporary chairman resumed the speech which this afternoon was interrupted.

In opening, Judge Parker commented on the republican convention at Chicago, where, he said, the words "Chad," "corruptionist," "traitor," "thief" were freely used.

AMERICAN OLYMPICS.

ANTWERP, June 24.—The steamer Finland, bringing the team of athletes who are to represent the United States at the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, arrived here this morning. Most of the athletes are in good condition, but several of them are suffering from the effects of slight accidents which occurred during their training on board.

The Finland is scheduled to remain here for two days before proceeding to Sweden.

NEGROSS LYNCHED

ATLANTA, Ga., June 25.—Ann Boston, the negro woman who stabbed and killed Mrs. R. E. Jordan, wife of a prominent planter at Rinehurst, and who was later taken from officers at Cardale by a mob, was lynched early today, according to a long-distance telephone message to a local paper.

After taking the woman from the officers, members of the mob put her in an automobile and set out for Pinehurst. Reaching there, according to the message, the woman was hanged to a tree.

HE ROSE TO THE OCCASION.

Tommy had been invited to dine at a learned professor's house and his mother was anxious for his good behaviour at table. She gave him elaborate instructions.

Well Tommy, how did you get on? He asked on his return. You are quite sure you didn't do anything impolite?

Well, no, ma—at least nothing to speak of.

Ah, then, there was something wrong. Now tell us about it, Tommy.

Oh, it wasn't much. You see I was trying to cut my meat, when it slipped off the plate onto the floor.

Oh, my dear boy, whatever did you do?

I just said, a sort of carelessly: "That's always the way with tough meat and went on with my dinner."

LARRIER OPTIMISTIC.

QUEBEC, June 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the principal speaker at the banquet of the St. Sauveur, Quebec.

Responding to the toast of Canada, he said he was glad that being so more absorbed with official duties, he could now come and celebrate the French-Canadian National Day amongst his old Quebec friends. He pointed out that the whole of Canada should be claimed by the French Canadians as their country.

He had been proud to say, and he was now a nation. To the critics who pretend that this is not so, that it had not been changed for twenty years, that our organic laws remain what they were then, he said that the laws did not make up a people, but the people made the laws.

"Canada," he said, "feels in its veins the strength of a young giant."

Sir Wilfrid claimed a great future for Northern Canada, which was going to be developed by the new Transcontinental and where they could be found a place for new provinces as rich as the present ones.

He paid a tribute of loyalty to the Royal family of England, which he considered were doing honor, not only to monarchy but to humanity.

He hoped that when he left this world his eyes would close on a country of liberty and tolerance.

Sir Wilfrid concluded by saying that there was as much dignity in recognizing one's duties as in affirming one's rights.

SHEAR NONSENSE

A celebrated Scottish divine, lately deceased, who had been ailing for some time decided to consult Sir Thos. Fraser. After a careful examination Sir Thomas pronounced his verdict, and added: "You must go to Algiers, or some winter resort on the Riviera."

"Impossible," said the ecclesiastic. "I have too much work to get through."

"Well," said Sir Thomas, "you must make your choice. It is—either Algiers or—ah—Heaven."

"Dear me," said the patient, with a sigh; "then I suppose it must be Algiers."—Scottish-American.

A Scottish parson still on the under side of 40 was driving home from an outlying hamlet, when he overtook a young woman. He recognized her as the maid-of-all-work at a farm which pass, so he pulled up and offered her a lift. Mary gladly accepted his offer, and they chatted pleasantly all the way to the farm gate.

"Thank you, sir," she said as she got down.

"Don't mention it, Mary, Don't mention it," he told her, politely.

"No, I won't," Mary obligingly assured him.—Baillie.

A well known Bishop had been to visit an outlying parish in his diocese, and was met at the station by the rector, who, though the day was extremely warm, carried an overcoat over his arm.

"You surely will not need your overcoat to-day," said the Bishop.

"I know," was the rector's reply; "but my wife is interested in a jumble sale, and when I carry things with me I know where they are."—Tatler.

"A multi-millionaire in a fashionable restaurant," she said, "pointed to a line on the menu and said to the waiter.

"I'll have some of that, please."

"I'm sorry, sir," the waiter answered, "but the band is playing that."—Kansas City Star.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

In summer always dry the hair in the sunlight and open air. In massaging, ordinary salad or olive oil may be used in place of cold cream.

All medicines containing acids should be taken through a glass tube and the teeth immediately brushed. A good astringent to close enlarged pores is boric acid, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of the powder in a pint of water.

A sore mouth may be healed with frequent washing with borax water. Salt is also good for a sore mouth and for canker sores.

For excessive perspiration of the feet, rub with the following: One ounce of sweet oil, one ounce of alcohol and one-half tablespoon of ammonia.

Dry hair does not require shampooing as often as oily hair the latter gathers the dust and dirt quicker. A shampoo every fortnight is sufficient for any hair.

The tepid bath should be taken every morning to stimulate the circulation. A tablespoonful of borax added softens the water and makes the bath more refreshing.

DON'TS FOR WIVES

Ten don'ts for wives have been formulated by the Rev. W. W. Bustard, pastor of John D. Rockefeller's Euclid Avenue Baptist Church here.

"Put them in your wife's mirror, where she'll see them every morning," is his advice to husbands.

The revised area figures of the three recently extended Provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec have just been made public from the land's branch of the Department of the Interior, and are as follows:—Manitoba previous to 1912 Act, total 73,322 square miles. Addition by 1912 Act, land and water, 178,100 square miles. Present total area of Manitoba, 251,822 square miles. Ontario, previous to 1912 Act, total 260,352 square miles. Added by 1912 Act, land and water, 146,400 square miles. Present total area of Ontario, 407,252 square miles. Quebec, previous to 1912 Act, land, total 351,875 square miles. Addition by 1912 Act, land and water, 354,961 square miles. Present total area of Quebec, 706,830 square miles. Saskatchewan area 353,540 square miles and British Columbia 357,600 square miles. Pending further surveys no definite figures are available in the Department as to the water area of the added districts. It is, however, comparatively small, totalling in Ungava approximately 6,000 square miles, and in the parts of Keewatin and Manitoba added to Ontario and Manitoba approximately 12,000 miles. Quebec now leads all the other Provinces in area by about 300,000 square miles. Ontario ranks second in area, with British Columbia third, Manitoba fourth, Alberta fifth, Saskatchewan sixth, New Brunswick seventh, Nova Scotia eighth, and Prince Edward Island ninth.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM GENERAL BOOTH.

"In the Light or in the Dark, You May Count Upon Your General to Trust in God and Go Forward!"

(By Cable) London, England, June 4, 1912. My Dear Comrades,—If the unexpected blow regarding the loss of my eyesight, has not actually fallen, as the newspapers have stated, it is hovering dangerously near. Instead of the restoration of sight for which I had hoped, and for which I know you have so earnestly prayed, the doctors tell me I am on the very eve of entire darkness.

In a few brief hours my comrades will be under the painful compulsion of announcing that The General is hopelessly blind. In that event, what an indescribably painful loss will be mine, never again to see the light of day, or behold the countenances of my friends, or look into the sympathetic eyes of my comrades; never again to witness that which for over sixty years has been to me the sight of sights—men and women kneeling at the Mercy Seat.

Then, too, I have lost the hope of being able with any facility to write, while it will be an absolute impos-subsequently he attended the Mt. Allison Institution at Sackville, N. B., and later Harvard University where he obtained his degree of M. D. in 1861. Immediately after he came to Souris where, by skill and attention, he built up an extensive practice which he held till forced to give up through ill health some fifteen years ago.

These last years have been spent in the quiet of his home and in increasing feebleness as the years accumulated.

As a citizen Dr. Muttart holds an enviable reputation. During his long practice he made hosts of friends and no enemies. He was identified with all good causes taking an active place in the community in which he lived as well as in the country at large. In politics Dr. Muttart was identified with the Liberal-Conservative party in which he became a prominent leader.

In 1878 he was nominated with A. C. Macdonald to contest King's County in the Federal election, both being elected by large majorities. In 1882 and 1887 he was again a candidate for the House of Commons, but was defeated by a few votes.

In 1891 he declined a nomination for the Third constituency of King's but ever remained a prominent figure in and a stalwart support of the Liberal Conservative party.

For a number of years he held the position of Coroner for King's County and Health officer for the Souris District.

On May 20, 1863 he was united in marriage to Hannah, eldest daughter of the late James McDonald, Kingsboro, who still survives. He also leaves to mourn one daughter, Helen Augusta, at home, and two sons, Frank at home, and Dr. George M., of East Boston; also one sister, Mrs. Charles Leard, Bedoue.

Dr. G. M. Muttart has been constantly at his father's side during his last illness.

In religion Dr. Muttart was a Methodist, being a Trustee of the Souris Methodist Church for many years. He was also a member of the Freemasons.

The funeral will take place on Friday at two p. m., from his late residence, Chapel St., conducted by Rev. A. D. McIntosh and under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Souris West.
