WEDNESDAY, NOV. 18, 1903.

THE GOVERNMENT AND COUNTRY.

At the general election of November 7, 1900 the Laurier Administration carried the country with a majority of 53 members in a House of 218. But their strength was very unequally distributed. Quebec was the ministerial stronghold returning 53 supporters of the Government and only seven Opposition members. Nova Scotia gave a Liberal majority of 10 and New Brunswick a Liberal majority of five. The Government also carried the four seats for the Northwest Territories, and a majority of two in British Columbia. On the other hand Ontario returned an Opposition majority of 18 and Manitoba gave one majority for the Opposition.

If we divide the Dominion into two parts with the Ottawa River as the boundary it will be found that east of Ontario there was a majority 66 for the Government while Ontario and the west gave a net majority of 13 for the Opposition. In other words the preponderating strength of the Liberal party was almost wholly in the eastern half of the Dominion. It may be of interest to note some things that have occurred since the last election which tend to strengthen or weaken one another of the two parties in the different sections of the country. We may briefly treat of Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime divisions separately, giving first a glimpse of their political history since confederation and then the influences operating since the election of 1900.

Ontario has been mainly a Conservative Province in federal affairs since the union of 1867. In nine elections it has given six Conservative majorities, and in only three elections it has given Liberal majorities. The three exceptions were in 1872, 1874 and 1896. Much has been said and written as to the effect of the gerrymander of 1882, and it undoubtedly had some effect but it is to be noted that the largest Conservative majority ever obtained in that Province was in 1878, before the famous gerrymander was introduced. Now, by the redistribution act passed at last session it is safe to say the effect of the gerrymander has been dissipated. But the Provincial Liberal Government has fallen upon evil days and become less popular than it was in years gone by, in fact is leading a very precarious existence. It is therefore we think doubtful whether the Government can hope to quite equalize the political balance in Ontario, notwithstanding the advantage gained by redistribution. We look to see Ontario remain in the Conservative column but with a reduced majority.

Quebec was originally a Conservative Province, and for six elections from the union down to and including the election of 1887 it returned Conservative majorities ranging from 1 to 31. In 1891 under Laurier's growing strength as a national leader, Quebec gave a small Liberal majority for the first time, the majority being five, which was increased in 1896 to 33, and in 1900 to 51 as above stated. The defection of Mr. Tarte and the newspapers which he controls and the renewed demands for increased protection to manufacturing industries have tended to weaken the Government influence in Quebec Province and especially in the Montreal district. The new trans-continental railway scheme which to a degree side-tracks Montreal and makes Quebec city its terminal, is by no means popular in Montreal. For these and other reasons we look for a considerable diminution of the Government's big majority in Quebec. It would not be surprising if the Opposition should carry one third of the seats in that Province, although there is little doubt that Sir Wilfrid, if still at the helm of affairs, will hold a good majority there.

In the Maritime Provinces the Government strength and influence has undoubtedly suffered by the loss of two of their strongest men in the retirement of Sir Louis Davies and Hon. A. G. Blair. These losses cannot be made good. But their history shows that Liberalism has a somewhat stronger hold in the Maritime Provinces than in Ontario or Quebec. In the first three and the last two Dominion elections the three Provinces together gave Liberal majorities ranging from two to 25, while in four elections, 1878 to 1891 inclusive, Conservative majorities of from three to 19 were returned. This shows a fairly equal division of political sentiment in the past, but with strong fluctuations one way and the other. We cannot think that the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme will enhance the popularity of the Government in the eastern Provinces, or in any one of them. That, however, remains to be seen. Mr. Blair's arraignment of the big railway scheme will naturally be most effective in that section where his influence has been greatest, that is in New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces generally. The Northwest and the Pacific coast, from the large influx of new settlers, much remain an uncertain quantity until the polling is over. In the older Provinces it is much easier to gather the drift of public sentiment.

W. E. Ellis Cured of Muscular Rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

CEDARDALE, Ont., Nov. 16th.—(Special).—Everybody here knows W. E. Ellis; everybody knows he had Muscular Rheumatism; everybody knows he is cured and he states without hesitation that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills alone.

"Two years ago," Mr. Ellis says, speaking of his cure, "I got Muscular Rheumatism. The doctor I called in admitted that he could not cure it. I got so bad I could not walk alone.

"I was induced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took six boxes which drove all Rheumatism out of me and left me in good health again."

"Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. If the Kidneys are right they will take all uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys right."

CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO., TORONTO.

DEAR SIR:—In acknowledging receipt of your cheque for $1,521.20, I desire to express my satisfaction with the outcome of my investment with you. My policy, No 8726, was issued on the endowment plan in 1870 for $1000, and I paid ten premiums of $48 each, or $480 altogether.

The surplus payment you now make is alone greater than the total cost of the policy by $420 and I have received the $1,000 in addition.

It is hardly necessary for me to say that to have all my payments returned and over $1,000 in addition, besides the insurance protection all these years, is quite satisfactory to me.

I congratulate the Canada Life on a record which might almost be considered impossible.

Yours truly,
F. A. HALL.

An outbreak of successive robberies on the streets, with no arrest so far, leads to a feeling of insecurity among our citizens. The danger is increased by the inefficient lighting of the streets. With our small police force, even supposing that the night patrols exercise the utmost diligence, they must fail to observe many instances in which the lights are out. This we have reason to believe from our own experience in going from and returning home during the night hours. Efficient lighting is one of the prime requisites for the public safety. Beyond this we quite agree with the Patriot's suggestion that a special detective might be employed to keep track of the highwaymen and bring them to justice. Robbery must be prevented and punished, whatever the cost may be.

Some one has sent us a copy of the St. Paul Daily News in which the leading article has for its subject Canadian independence, based upon a recommendation of the Halifax Chronicle. In St. Paul the people do not know to what a limited extent The Chronicle represents Canadian sentiment on this question. Here is a specimen of the St. Paul News' facts and reasoning:

One thing is certain: The idea of being ruled from abroad; "God saving" a crown that has scant interest in a land thousands of miles from London; being taxed to support an establishment and government that takes much and gives very little; being bound by English prejudices, and all within sight of a country where freedom and industrial prosperity walk hand in hand, does not please those who think in the Dominion of Canada.

The News here shows that it is entirely ignorant of our relations with the Imperial Government. In common with many other American journals and public men it concludes that Canada is taxed by the Mother Country. We pay not a cent of taxes to Great Britain. And instead of the British Government taking much and giving very little, it takes nothing from us and gives much. The British fleet protects our coasts, ports and commerce without charge, and we have the full benefit of the British diplomatic and consular services also without cost to Canada.

THE FIRES OF ECZEMA

So keen is the suffering of many people who endure the stinging, itching sensation of Eczema that they speak of the skin as being on fire. By its soothing, healing, antiseptic influence Dr. Chase's Ointment positively cures Eczema, Salt Rheum, and every form of itching skin disease. It is of inestimable value in every home, and when once introduced becomes a household necessity. Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard the world over, and has no worthy rival.

There is always something new in the way of medical treatment and you are constantly invited to try new fangled, unproven remedies. Let others experiment and so risk health and lose time. DUNN FOR COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS.

ST. JOHN, November 13.—It is generally thought here that Surveyor General Dunn will be appointed collector of customs at the port of St. John. Frank Sweeney, M.P. of Westmoreland, and George Robertson, M. P. of this city, are among those mentioned in connection with the cabinet position.
