

TAKEN BY SURPRISE

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Margaret D. MacKenzie, Alliston, when a number of Alliston friends, gathered to bid farewell to her, and express their deep regret of her intended departure to U. S. A. Miss Margaret, though taken by surprise, made a brief reply in Margaret's able and pleasing manner, and thanked the givers for their kindness. After luncheon had been served the happy crowd enjoyed themselves till the "We sma' hours".

The address was read as follows by Miss Patricia M. MacCallum, to Miss Margaret D. MacKenzie. Dear Margaret: On this, the eve of your departure to U. S. A., we, a few of your Alliston friends, have gathered here to bid you fare well and to express our deep regret caused by your intended departure for the U. S. A. Mere words cannot convey to you of our deep regret, that you are about to sever the very pleasant relationship which has always existed between us. You will be greatly missed from amongst us, Margaret, not only in the home, but in all the surrounding neighborhood where your genial disposition has always made you a favorite. But we trust that we will ere long welcome you back to fill the place made vacant by your absence, and to hear again your joyous laugh.

Signed Your Alliston friends.

Happier, Healthier Women

by thousands are known to exist in this country because they have been relieved from pain and suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Science in surgery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past fifty years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after fifty years of success is still today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold everywhere for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Cobourg, Ont., proved that it benefited 98 out of every 100 women who generally custom is for the doctor to try it. Isn't this a marvelous record for any medicine to hold?

CUBAN DUELS RARELY FATAL

HAVANA, Nov. 27.—The habit of fighting duels still flourishes in Cuba, but the newspapers of its capital city are to be believed. Such methods of settling private quarrels are illegal here, however, and the newspapers never say that a duel has been fought. They usually publish an account of the trouble between the principals, giving their names, and add that "in an examination of the wounds," Mr. So-and-so was wounded. If the reporter came right out and said a duel had been fought the police probably would be rather unpleasant in seeking to have him give evidence.

Head Colds Ended by Healing Cream

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed because of nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure antiseptic cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing and healing swollen, inflamed membranes and you get instant relief. Try this in a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Your clogged nostrils open right up; your head is clear; no more yawning or snuffing. Count pay dearly for the demoralization which stands in the way of speedy resumption of work on a large scale.

P. E. I. Hospital Campaign

"This memorial is named in honor of RICHARD ROE BY JANE ROE."

The trustees promise that these tablets shall remain forever on the doors of the rooms on which they are placed by the contributors.

A gift of $1200 to the $67,000, will entitle the subscriber to name a bed. A slightly smaller bronze tablet, may be affixed to the head of the bed or on the wall over it, setting forth that the bed is named in honor of a certain person.

Every contributor who gives $600, will have the right to name a crib in the children's ward, and to embody the memorial in the form of a bronze tablet.

Separate provision has been made for subscribers who give $300 each. A large bronze tablet will be placed in the main corridor of the hospital, with the words: "HONOR HOLL" at the top. On that honor roll will be inscribed in prominent letters the name of every contributor to this campaign who gives $300 or more. The trustees would like to give similar recognition to all subscribers, but as the $67,000 fund probably will be made up of several thousand contributors, it is felt that space will not permit doing so. Therefore they have drawn the line at $300 as the minimum for the honor roll tablet.

Executive Chairman, Frank R. Hertz, and his associates on the Campaign Committee have adopted a schedule of dates for the campaign. All the meetings during the public campaign will be held in the recreation room of Zion Presbyterian Church, at Grafton and Prince Streets. Each of the suppers will start promptly at six o'clock and will be over not later than 7.15. The opening supper is scheduled for next Tuesday, December 4. The next day (Wednesday) is a blank day, so far as meetings are concerned. It is assumed that all the volunteer workers will start work early on that day but they are not expected to attend any further meetings until six o'clock Thursday evening, December 6, when the first rally supper will be held.

A rally supper is a meeting at which the teams represent supporters of their work. A second rally supper will be held on Friday, December 7. There will be no meeting on Saturday, the 8th, as it is felt that a supper on that night would be inconvenient to the business men, besides keeping many purchasers from the stores. Therefore the third rally supper will be held on Monday, December 10; the fourth rally supper on December 13; the fifth rally supper on the 16th, the sixth and final supper on Friday, December 14. The fund raising movement is to be a one big week campaign, and Mr. Charles H. Harrington, Associate Director points out that it takes seven days to make a week. The day on which the opening supper is held is not counted as part of the public campaign. It is the end of the preparatory period. On that evening, the volunteer teams assemble and elect for themselves a list, the names of whom they are willing to approach for subscriptions.

"Campaign day, according to our vocabulary," Mr. Harrington explained, "is one on which a rally supper is held. A day on which the workers do not meet is not regarded as a campaign day. Therefore the first official day of this campaign will be Thursday, December 6, when for the first time the teams assemble at a rally supper to announce the results of their work in the preceding twenty-four hours. On Friday the 7th, will be the second campaign day. We shall not count Saturday, December 8 as a campaign day, because the workers are not requested to attend a meeting on that date, although of course they are free to seek subscriptions.

Executive Chairman Hertz and his colleague are completing arrangements for the big meeting in Victoria Hall, Victoria, tomorrow night. The meeting has been called for eight o'clock and it is expected that hundreds of persons will attend, not only from Victoria but also from the several neighboring towns.

An interesting programme of entertainment has been arranged by Mr. Hertz. There will be a few short talks but each speech will be followed by a musical or elocutionary selection. It is believed the meeting will be fully as successful as the large ones last week in Montague and Georgetown.

"King of Coiners" Goes to Prison

(By Dominion News Service) LONDON, Nov. 26.—William Stephens a man known to his associates as the "King of Coiners" has passed from the dock at the prison in which he will serve the sentence of four years' penal servitude passed upon him for being in possession of moulds for making counterfeit coins. He has been a persistent criminal for the greater part of his 53 years of life.

Stephens was born somewhere in that maze of dark alleyways and narrow streets in the East End of London which harbours many criminals. He knew more about law-breakers and their methods when he was struggling in the lowest standard at school than many more fortunate placed people learn in the course of a lifetime.

At fourteen he was thrown into contact with an old criminal who can only be described as a modern Fatima—a forger who used young boys to circulate the coins he turned out from his cunningly-conceived moulds, and at the same time taught them the details of his trade.

For more than two years Stephens played his game; then returning overtaken him. He attempted to pass off a "snide" coin at a shop which had already sampled his wares, and he was ultimately sentenced to twelve months' hard labour, although he was still only a boy of sixteen.

As soon as was possible he went straight back to his old occupation. Within a year he was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

Stephens had many hours of reflection during those five years, and he used them to devise ways and means whereby he might turn his knowledge of coining to more profitable account.

The result was that he utilized his first few days of freedom to acquire the necessary plant for manufacturing coins of his own. But a prisoner on license is always a marked man, and although Stephens threw dust in the eyes of the authorities for a time his period of liberty was short.

The police descended upon his "den" where they found all the moulds and metal necessary for coining on a large scale, and he received the terrible sentence of ten years' penal servitude.

Even that failed to cure him, though it did have the effect of making him proceed with caution. He came out of prison, got work as a painter, and for several months lived a life so exemplary that the effect of the law ceased to pay any particular attention to him.

Then, still making a pretence of working at odd times he collected all his plant together again and started to flood the Metropolitan with counterfeit coins.

Dr. Grant Has New Protest

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Declaring that the formula for social progress is a maximum of harmony and co-operation and a minimum of hostility, the Rev. Percy Sweeney Grant, in his sermon in the Church of the Ascension today, took exception with the recent action of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which would make it obligatory for all members of the church to reaffirm their belief in the virgin birth of Christ, and the Apostles' Creed.

Every individual has, he said, the right to interpret the biblical story as he sees fit, and there are many, especially of the younger church element, to whom the formal acceptance of the Creed and miracles of Christ is absolutely untenable.

Quoting from a recent work of Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts, Dr. Grant asserted that the Apostles' Creed and virgin birth were necessary to and not essential to religion. Science and religion can work hand in hand, in fact have gained much from each other, said the rector, but such a re-formation of what was not absolutely essential would be a movement backwards and equivalent to a step in science's face.

Inherently, all mankind is religious, asserted Dr. Grant, for we all are sensibly trying to better ourselves and so the race, a movement from egoism to altruism.

Bradford, Eng., Nov. 27.—Peenalties of certain steel yard measures, made in Germany and exported for sale in this country and other parts of the world, were brought to light recently at a meeting of the Bradford Chamber of Commerce.

A buyer found that cloth delivered to him as 31 inches wide measured 30 1/2 more than 30 inches. Another case was of cloth marked 36 inches which actually measured 37. Investigation showed that the German measures were used.

Similar complaints, it was said had been received from Japan and South America.

COLOGNE, Nov. 27.—Railway disorganization will prevent the Ruhr crisis from returning speedily to normal, even if the French and German reach agreements which remove other barriers.

German warnings that the French would not be able to handle the intricate railway system of the heavily industrialized Ruhr and Rhineland districts have been more than realized.

No other equal area in the world, perhaps, has such an involved railway system. It is a medley of the Pittsburgh steel area and the West Virginia mining district, jammed together and served by an intricate interlocking system which has ever continued to be much of a mystery to French railway men and their assistants.
