WILL CONTINUE - The ferry "Fairview" operating between Charlottetown and Rocky Point made only one trip yesterday due to heavy ice conditions. It was learned last night, milder weather late at night, however, gave hope that the regular schedule would be carried out today. Encountering heavy ice throughout the week it looked as though the service might, of necessity, be cancelled before long. A cold shilly morning was followed by milder weather in the evening, yesterday. Residents on the south side of the river travel by the ferry during the winter months, and are served by this ferry in the summer.

C. W. L. MEETING - The monthly meeting of the Catholic Women's League of St. Ann's, Lot 10th was held on Sunday, December 30th with a fairly large attendance, the president presiding. The meeting was opened by prayer and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A short discussion was held on League activities and it was decided to have a lottery after New Year's. Two very interesting letters were read, one from the Diocesan President, and the Convention of Publicity. The meeting was adjourned. During the month of November a box of estates was sent to the Sisters of the Precious Blood. At present the members of the parish are busy, occupied in knitting and sewing for the soldiers which emphasizes the fact that "in unity there is strength." Thanks is due the Rev. Chaplain for his kind advice and encouragement, also to the President who is ever zealous for promoting the welfare of the League.

The plow stationed in Power, came through to the Ten Mile House, where it was met by another sent out from the City. A plow left Charlottetown for Summerside but due to heavy drifts was forced to turn back after bucking the banks to Fredericton. Plows were also sent to Summerside and under way. JURY CHARGE NEGLIGENCE IN DUNPHY DEATH

Deceased Came To Death By Motor Truck Passing Over Head, Is Verdict.

That on the night of Dec. 20, 1939, the deceased came to his death in Charlottetown, by a truck passing over his head, driven by Harold Currie, accompanied by Reuben Higgins and by negligence in not summoning medical aid. This was the text of the verdict brought in by the jury empaneled to inquire into the sudden death of Mr. James Dunphy of Johnson's River, which occurred on the night of Dec. 20, 1939. The inquest was held yesterday in the City Police Court. Dr. J. D. MacGugan of Charlottetown was the coroner and he conducted the inquest.

The jury consisted of Messrs. Edwin Brazel, foreman, Joseph Brazel, William Trainor, Leo Weatherlie, John Began, Thomas Brazel, and Anthony Beagan. Counsel for the witnesses, Harold Currie and Reuben Higgins, was Mr. J. J. Johnston, K. C. Mr. C. St. Clair Trainor attended on behalf of the Crown.

The fully clad body of the deceased, a 37-year-old farmer, was discovered by a neighbor living on the bridge on Friday morning. The neighbor, Joseph Smith called to see Mr. Dunphy and was shocked to find him dead on the bed with blood stains covering parts of his head and face. R. C. M. P. officials were notified and upon examination it was found that the man had suffered a fractured skull. At first it was thought that the man, who was last seen on Wednesday when he had visited Charlottetown, had been kicked by his horse. But further questioning brought to light the fact that the man had been accompanied by a homeward journey early Thursday morning.

Witnesses testifying were: Dr. I. J. Yeo, Mr. Joseph Smith, Mr. John Peter Trainor, Mr. Matthias Ryan, Mr. William Trainor, Mr. Basil Slavey, Mr. Reuben Higgins and Mr. Harold Currie.

Dr. Yeo gave the findings of the autopsy which was performed on the body of the deceased. He described the body as that of a man of 60 years, hair gray, matted with blood, and the face was also covered with dry blood. The right eyelid was closed and the left one half open. There was a small wound over the outer end of the right eyebrow. A deep laceration on the right ear, 1-2 inches in length, was discovered in the examination. There were four wounds on the left forehead and another on the outer edge of the left ear. The lower jawbone was fractured and some of the teeth missing. Some blood over the upper right chest and blood on the left elbow and left thigh was found during the examination.

Dr. Yeo went on to describe the fracture of the skull which he termed a "severe injury." and the worst of its kind he had ever seen. It was a very irregular fracture and extended around the entire circumference of the head. The brain was exposed and found to have been damaged and protruding in places. Free and clotted blood on the upper side and hemorrhage of the brain was revealed in the autopsy. There were no fractured ribs, as was disclosed. The left lung showed signs of congestion. The heart, liver, stomach, intestines, kidneys and bladder were normal, Dr. Yeo said.

Fracture Caused Death

Asked what he considered had caused the death of Mr. Dunphy, Dr. Yeo replied that "the main injury was confined chiefly to the skull, beyond that little evidence of injury was shown." "It would appear," he said, "that the skull was subjected to injury by some pressure, such as a car wheel, crushing it." "He had never seen such a severe injury and was of the opinion that it had been caused by the wheel of

JURY CHARGE NEGLIGENCE IN DUNPHY DEATH

Question - Have you any idea how they got out to Mr. Dunphy's yard? Witness - No, I have no idea. William Trainor Jr. told of going to a Christmas concert on the night of December 20th. Calling at his brother's store, he noticed James Dunphy's horse still there and upon the advice of his father, fixed the animal up to keep him warm.

Returning from the concert, about 2:45 the next morning, he noticed that the sleigh was gone and took it for granted that the horse was also gone. Questioned, he stated that there was a truck by the store which he took to be Harold Currie's. There didn't seem to be anybody in the truck in the cab, though he didn't look in the cab. He went into the store for five minutes and hearing the truck motor start, ran out with William Currie and caught it in time to get a ride as far as Harold Currie, the driver, was going.

Questioned the witness stated that there was nobody in the truck with Harold Currie and he hadn't noticed anything unusual about the driver.

Hanging Out of Sleigh

Basil Slavey told of seeing the deceased driving past his home Wednesday morning in the direction of the store sometime between 9 and 9:30 a.m. The witness told of going to the Christmas concert in Donagh School that night and upon returning between 1 and 1:30 Thursday morning, meeting a sleigh drawn by a white-faced horse. There was a box on the sleigh and a man standing in the front, who was doing the driving. He had his back turned and the witness was unable to tell who it was. "There was something hanging out of the back which I took to be a rug," he testified. He was accompanied by his sister-in-law, who was in the bottom of the sleigh.

Questioned by the jury, the witness said that he couldn't say that it was Dunphy's horse or who was driving. He imagined, however that it was Dunphy's horse. The driver pulled to the left side of the road as that was the same side he was on, Slavey stated. The passing driver did not speak, he added.

The coroner then called Harold Currie to testify by his counsel, J. J. Johnston K. C., objected on legal grounds as this man was the last to be with the deceased according to evidence. The objection was sustained and the next witness, Reuben Higgins, was called. Mr. Johnston also warned the Coroner that this witness would not voluntarily answer questions and anything said here could not be used against him later. He voiced his objections on the grounds that questions asked "might subject him (Reuben Higgins) to some criminal liability." Mr. Johnston was also counsel for this witness.

Reuben Higgins told of coming to town on the evening of Dec. 20th, between 7 and 8 o'clock with John Trainor. He got out at a Prince of Wales College, went up town and had two drinks of rum. After this he met Harold Currie, James Dunphy and Matthias Ryan and the four of them went to have a drink. They had three or four drinks, he didn't know which. Witness, Dunphy and Currie went to the New England cafe and had some sandwiches, came out of there and went to truck which was parked on Queen St., below Richmond Street. Witness got in first, Dunphy got in on right side and Currie got in on left side behind the wheel. Currie spent some time looking for the keys and witness said that he was cold.

Jumped From Truck

We went down Queen Street. I thought he would turn Water St., witness said, but he kept on going and started out Queen's wharf. "I said, 'Where are you going?' witness told. 'To get a bag of coal,' Currie answered. 'It's too late now.'" I said, James Dunphy said, 'I'm not going.' He was jumped out, the witness told the jury. He told Currie to stop. When he got out, Dunphy was lying on the ground and he said that the man was knocked out. We picked him up, put him in the cab and took him home, carried him into the house and laid him on the bed. We took his coat off and went out and put the horse into the stable. Harold asked me if I would take the harness off and I said, 'No, he will be out to take them off himself soon.'"

Questioned by a member of the jury, the witness stated that he thought the man was knocked out. It was a dark night and I couldn't

Celebrated

MR. JOSEPH GARLAND
Congratulations from friends far and wide were received on Dec. 31 by Mr. Joseph Garland, Post Augustus, on the occasion of the celebration of his 94th birthday. A life-long resident of Fort Augustus, Mr. Garland has seen many changes and improvements in the community since his early days, when pioneer customs prevailed and luxuries were few and far between. In his sturdy physique and capacity for hard work and enjoyment of the simple pleasures of life, he is himself an embodiment of the old pioneer spirit.

Mr. Garland's wife died some years ago. They had eleven children of whom seven survive, namely: John, Post Augustus; Peter and Leo who live with their father on the old homestead; Arthur, in Roxbury, Mass.; John, Mr. Carron, Auburn; Mrs. Robert Foster, Lowell, Mass.; and Mrs. Richard Griffin, Dorchester, Mass. There are also several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

see any blood, he said. Questioned further, he stated that he didn't know the man was dead. They transferred him from the truck to the sleigh at Trainor's store. It was about 35 or 40 minutes from the time he was picked up till he was put to bed, witness said. The truck stopped within two lengths of itself after Dunphy got out, witness told the crown prosecutor.

We put Dunphy in the sleigh, Harold hitched the horse and we took him home. We didn't back over him, witness declared. The truck was going 5 or 10 miles an hour when he jumped. Asked about the rug seen hanging from the
