Crop Progress Is Reported

SURVEY SITUATION ON FARMS OF EASTERN CANADA

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—Harvesting of seasonal crops has progressed satisfactorily, in all parts of Canada during the past two weeks.

Rain is needed to improve pasture conditions in New Brunswick, but there has been too much rain in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Recent showers have delayed the harvesting of cereal crops in Prince Edward Island but have improved prospects for root crops and pastures.

The yield of potatoes is reported average with some blight present. In Nova Scotia grain harvesting is well advanced and some threshing completed.

Root crops and pastures are good and dairy production has been well maintained.

Second City In Spain In Dire Straits

BARCELONA, Spain, Sept. 4.—Barcelona, second largest city in Spain, was virtually meatless, breadless and without communications today, as authorities fought to suppress disorders growing out of a general strike.

Troops were held in barracks in readiness to cope with a repetition of yesterday's outbreak, in which at least one person was killed and several wounded.

The situation was compared to the "Bloody week" of 1909 when strikers burned and sacked Catholic property.

Supporters of the Syndicalist Unions, protesting the imprisonment of political leaders, set fire to a church, cut electric cables and telephone wires and battled police with machine guns.

Police retaliated by charging the rioters with their sabres but for the most part fired over their heads.

BARCELONA, Spain, Sept. 4.—Machine guns rattled in the streets and pistols were used in a dozen encounters, between strikers and soldiers as disorders accompanying the City's general strike continued.

Since yesterday four men have been killed and a score or more wounded.

A considerable number of prisoners have been interned aboard ships commanded for the purpose and anchored in the harbor.

Peaceable householders remained indoors with their shutters down and suspects who appeared in the streets were fired upon at sight.

All normal business was at a standstill. As the day wore on the disorders got out of hand and guns roared all over the city. The situation looked extremely grave.

HIS AIM TO MAKE INDIA A PARADISE

presented to him a purse containing about $1,625. Responding both in Gujarati and English, he said he had expected much more from his Aden adherents, but passed on to lay emphasis on the Hindu-Muslim communal problem in India. He had breakfast with the leading Indians of the town and re-embarked amid cheers.

Asked what his programme at the conference would be, Gandhi replied: "I shall strive for a constitution that will release India from all thralldom and patronage. I shall work for an India in which the poorest shall feel it is their country in whose making they have an effective voice; an India in which there shall be no high class and no low class of people; an India in which all communities shall live in perfect harmony.

There can be no place in such an India for the curses of untouchability or the curse of intoxicating drinks or drugs. Women will enjoy the same rights as men. Since we shall be at peace with all the rest of the world, neither exploiting or being exploited, we should have the smallest army imaginable.

All interests not in conflict with the interests of the dumb millions will scrupulously be respected, whether foreign or indigenous. Personally I hate the distinction between foreign and indigenous.

"It is the India of my dreams for which I shall struggle at the next round table conference. I may fail, but if I am to deserve the confidence of the Congress, my principals, I shall be satisfied with nothing less."

Optimistic About Flying In P. E. I.

MONCTON, Sept. 4.—Pilot G. M. Ross, of Ottawa, Manager of the Trans-Canada Air Pageant, landed here yesterday in his Puss Moth monoplane from Charlottetown, P. E. I., where he had staged the pageant there with some of the planes.

Pilot Ross stated in a conference with Pilot Walter Fowler, manager of the local airport, that he was very optimistic concerning the airport at Charlottetown, and said that a flying club would probably be organized there in the near future.

The statement was also made that probably the Trans-Canada Air Pageant would become an annual event.

Eliots Fowler, Harry O'Leary and Junior Jones, who took part in the aerial demonstration at Charlottetown were high in their praise of the work that is being accomplished by Dr. Jenkins, of Charlottetown, who is responsible for the airport that is there at present. Junior Jones and Harry O'Leary who loaned their planes for the occasion of the pageant free, received many tokens of appreciation for their part in the success of the pageant.

STILL AWAIT BUGGY RIDE

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 4.—The Chamber of Commerce prides itself on its efficiency. But recently it was stumped. An elderly couple wrote, asking where a horse and buggy might be hired for a day's ride. The staff hunted in vain. Town Historian Warren Parker said a horse and buggy once could have been hired at Joe French's or John Hall's stables, but pointed out that both these establishments had long since gone out of business. The elderly couple is still waiting for the buggy ride.

CRASH VICTIMS AT SHOGOMOC ARE BETTER

Condition of Rev. Dr. Gates and Family Reported Improved—Inquest Not Yet Held.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 4.—Rev. A. Gates, of Hartford, Conn., his wife, their six year old son, Paul, and eight year old daughter, Margaret, all injured in the three car crash Wednesday near Shogomoc, which claimed the life of 14 year old James Gates, were progressing favorably last night at the Fisher Memorial Hospital here. Paul, with a fractured skull and cuts about the head, the most seriously injured, was improving, although he is not yet off the danger list. Margaret, suffering last night from convulsions, caused by the shock, was much improved this evening. Mr. Gates, with a broken jaw and ribs, was resting as comfortably as could be expected, as was his wife, with a broken knee. A fourth child, Gwendolyn, was but slightly injured.

Relatives are expected here to take the body of James to Prince Edward Island, Rev. Mr. Gates' old home, for interment.

Many rumors were current today regarding the cause of the accident, but it is believed that it will not be known definitely until the inquest just what occurred, as so far as is known no one actually saw the crash except those in the cars.

Mr. Gates was able to give some account of the collision today. He said he was proceeding up river at a speed of about 25 miles an hour when he saw the police car approaching down river. He did not hear a car behind him. The next thing he was aware of was the crash.

The jury empanelled by Coroner W. A. Kennedy went to the scene of the accident this morning and examined the Gates car and the police car, both of which were completely wrecked. It is not known when evidence will be taken, as this depends on the progress made by the injured. It is possible that the evidence of Mr. and Mrs. Gates may be taken at the hospital in order that the hearing may be expedited.

Commenting on the tragedy, the St. John Telegraph Journal says: "The automobile accident near Shogomoc, York county, on Wednesday, in which three cars figured and as a result of which one life was lost and serious injury inflicted on several people, was due, according to one press report, to a violation of traffic regulations by one of the drivers concerned in the crash. If this report is true, the responsibility for the accident should be clearly fixed, and such action taken as will impress upon all drivers the serious necessity of observing the rules of the road, drafted and put into force for the safety of those using the highways of this province.

"The collision is said to have taken place on a sharp curve. Two of the cars are reported to have been traveling on their own sides of the road, approaching each other, while the third, coming up behind one of these, attempted to pass and became wedged in between the other two. If such were the circumstances, the coroner's jury should endeavor to ascertain which of the three drivers was at fault and make its recommendations accordingly.

AN ALARM CLOCK

(British United Press) PARIS, Sept. 4.—A rooster which violated all the traditions of his kind and crowed at midnight was the subject of a long discussion at recent meeting of the Academy of Science.

This unusual cock crows at midnight under the walls of the Paris Observatory. The director himself saw and heard the fowl saluting the full moon. He judged the phenomenon of such importance that a special meeting of the great savants in France was called to consider it.

The grave men of science could not decide whether the bird was deceived by the Brightness of the moon into thinking that day was breaking, or whether he simply was moonstruck.

The young lady with the very rosy cheeks was walking down the street, when she heard the remark made of her by an old lady behind her: "By Heaven, she's painted." Quick as a flash the young lady turned about and said: "Yes, and by Heaven only."

Activities Of The Can. Legion Are Reviewed

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 4.—A comprehensive and detailed report, reviewing the activities of the Canadian Legion since the last Dominion convention at Regina in November 1929, was presented to the Dominion convention of the legion by Major J. R. Bowler, Dominion General Secretary. The report stressed especially the work done by the Service Bureau of the Legion during the last year, and pointed to the success which had been achieved in presenting the pension claims of disabled veterans and their dependents.

During the year from July 1930, to July 1931, the report shows, there has been a steadily increasing volume of pension claims before the Bureau, and the record of successes has been steadily maintained, reaching a high water mark in June 1931, when 125 major pension successes were recorded. The total number of major successes for the year was 1,269, while some 3,000 cases, other than pension were recorded. The number of active files increased from 2,923 in July 1930, to 5,401 in July 1931. In summarizing the Service Bureau activities, Major Bowler said:

"Two points of outstanding importance arise immediately from the examination of these figures. First, that there is a constant increase in the demand for the services of our headquarters Service Bureau, and secondly, that the record of successful pension adjustments is constantly maintained over the entire period. Almost in their entirety these results have been obtained by direct negotiation with the Board Commissioners, although in certain special instances adjustment officers have appeared before the Pension Tribunal and Appeal court."

Clarifying the position of the legion adjustment service with regard to that of the Veterans' Bureaux maintained by the Department of Pensions, the report said:

"It is perhaps appropriate to mention that opinions seem to have arisen in various quarters that Canadian Legion Adjustment Bureaux are operating in competition with the Veterans' Bureaux provided for under the Pension Act. Let it be said most emphatically that this is not the case. Legion Service Bureaux did not come into existence by design. They arose from necessity, to meet a demand, and their continued existence is determined only by the continuance of the necessity. The Pension Act, as a whole, clearly contemplates that an applicant may choose independent counsel or representatives to prepare and present his claim. If, as is often the case, the Legion is called upon for this purpose, it is in duty bound to give the applicant its best services, and it endeavors to fulfil this obligation to the fullest degree. It is not and never has been the policy of the legion to solicit applications from ex-service men, but it always has been, and still is, the policy to act when called upon to do so. It should be made clear that in so acting, and insisting the free and untrammelled right to appear before any board, tribunal or court, upon the authority of the applicant, the Legion does so without any further attempt whatsoever to usurp the functions of any other body."

In addition to stressing the service bureau activities of the legion, the report reviews its activities in securing new pensions legislation, and the War Veterans' Allowance Act. Figures quoted in the report show that up to August 17, 1931, 7,

Six other convicts who tempted to escape, were drowned at sea, the fate of hundreds have unsuccessfully sought to from the Islands.

Man Dies After Learning How To Bequeath

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(U.P.)—Harold Smith, millionaire manufacturer who died yesterday in London organized a contest two years ago to find the best way to give a $10,000,000 to do the most good humanity, but until his will is filed it will not be known if he follo the prize-winning suggestion.

The winner of the $1,000 prize was Dr. Henry E. Garrett, professor of psychology at Columbia University. He suggested that $1,000,000 be used to establish an institute for mental hygiene where patients might come for advice where juvenile crime and delinquents might be studied scientifically.

The thousands of suggestions which came from all over the country were judged by a committee of prominent persons, headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the Governor of New York, and including Dr. S. Parks Cadman, Theodor Dreiser and Dr. Alfred Adler, Viennese psychiatrist.

Many persons suggested that humanity would best be benefited if they received part of Smith's fortune. Others suggested that money be used to cure cancer, eliminate war, and improve government and education. One man proposed to use the $10,000,000 exclusively for the extermination of rats.
