APPLE DELIGHTS

(Continued from page ten) teaspoonful of baking soda in a little warm water and stir into a cupful of unsweetened apples; let it foam into the other ingredients and beat thoroughly; add two cups of flour and bake three quarters of an hour in a moderate oven.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE, II.

One cup of sweetened apple sauce, one and one half cups of sugar, one half cup of shortening, yolk of one egg, one level teaspoonful of cinnamon, one half teaspoonful of cloves, one level teaspoonful of soda, one level teaspoonful of baking powder and two cups of flour. Strain apple sauce, add soda, melted shortening and flour, sifted with baking powder and spices. Beat all thoroughly and bake in two layers and put together with frosting.

DANISH APPLE CAKE.

Stew two pounds of good cooking apples, using as little water as possible; add cinnamon and sugar to taste. Pass one fourth of a pound of bread crumbs in melted butter through a brown lightly. Line the bottom of a well-greased cake tin with a thick layer of crumbs, then a layer of apple sauce, repeating until the pan is full. Bake in a quick oven for one half hour and when cold turn from the pan. Serve with whipped cream.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE.

Mix one cup of scalded milk, one third of a cup of butter, one third of a cup of sugar and one half a teaspoonful of salt. When lukewarm add one yeast cake, broken into small pieces, two unbeaten eggs and flour to make a soft dough. Beat thoroughly and again let rise until the mixture has doubled its bulk. Beat thoroughly and again let rise. Spread as thinly as possible in a well-buttered dripping pan. Brush over with melted butter. Press sliced apples into the dough in even rows. Sprinkle with one fourth cup of sugar mixed with one half teaspoonful of cinnamon, then with two tablespoonfuls of well washed currants. Cover and let rise in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Cut in squares and serve plain or with whipped cream.

DRIED APPLE FRUIT CAKE.

Boil two cups of dried apples in two cups of molasses. Cream one cup of butter with two cups of brown sugar; add four beaten eggs and two cups of sour milk; sift together five cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of cinnamon and one half teaspoonful of cloves. Stir into the dry ingredients; add two pounds of raisins and one pound of currants, well floured, and two pounds of English walnut meats broken into small pieces. Bake for three hours in a moderate oven.

DRIED APPLE CAKE, I.

Soak two cups of dried apples over night, drain and chop fine; add one cup of molasses and let simmer for three hours; let cool. Cream one cup of butter and one and one half cups of brown sugar; add one half cup of sour milk, three beaten eggs and the apple mixture. Add three and one half cups of flour, one teaspoonful each of soda, cloves, allspice and cinnamon sifted together. Bake in one loaf for two hours in a moderate oven.

DRIED APPLE CAKE, II.

Chop fine three cups of dried apples which have been well soaked. Add three cups of sugar, one cup of raisins and one cup of currants; cook in very little water until the apples are soft. When cold add three well-beaten eggs, one half cup butter, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and allspice, and three cups of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of soda. Stir well and bake in one loaf. Bake for one hour in a moderate oven.

GERMAN APPLE CAKE.

Sift together two cups of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and three and one half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Work into the dry ingredients one fourth of a cup of butter. Beat one egg, add three fourths of a cup of milk and stir into the first mixture. Spread in a well-buttered shallow pan. Have pared and cored four or five apples, press down into the dough; sprinkle the apples with well washed dried currants and the edge of the dough thickly with powdered sugar. Bake until the apples are tender and serve with cream and sugar or hard sauce.

SPY AS PRIEST MET HIS FATE

Again and again in the course of the war, the consummate audacity of the German system of espionage has proved beyond the possibility of question. Your German spy turns up in all sorts of disguises. Now he is a French officer calling boldly at the French military headquarters for information; now he is a farm laborer ploughing a field. But of all the counterfeits to which he resorts, the garb of the ecclesiastic seems to be the one he is fondest of assuming. This was the makeup in which he had recourse in an episode in the war zone—an episode which shows that as it takes a thief to catch a thief, as the saying is, it requires a real priest to detect the false.

A French battalion had just entered into occupation of a village which for some time previously had been in the occupation of the Germans. The place was pillaged, devastated, deserted; the inhabitants had fled. What was the satisfaction of the Roman Catholic soldiers in the battalion to observe that the church and the priest's house adjoining it were still intact? Still more pleased were they when the aged cure came forth to greet them with open arms.

That very evening the officers invited the venerable cleric to dinner. When the first course was brought in they as a matter of custom, invited the old gentleman to say grace. As he proceeded to murmur a Latin prayer, one of the officers, a lieutenant, became strangely interested in him. Surprise at first, the lieutenant, became absolutely astonished as the old man went on. The lieutenant whispered a word to his colonel, and before the company had quite begun to realize what was happening four men with fixed bayonets had ranged themselves behind.

Then the lieutenant arose from his place and addressed various technical questions to the old man. For the lieutenant was himself an abbe and knew just the sort of questions to put in the circumstances. The man in the soutane was completely nonplussed turned ghastly pale, and had not a word to say. That man has never been a priest! exclaimed the lieutenant, and forthwith the man was seized. He was taken to the military camp. The man was a German spy he had disguised himself as a priest in the deserted village while the real pastor was being carefully taken care of as a hostage. And it was generally recognized that it was only by accident that one of the officers was himself in holy orders that the spy was detected. And he had given such a dramatic account of the German atrocities in the town.

CANADA BOYS TO OLD DADDY'S AID.

Old Daddy, he's in trouble, out beyond the Northern Sea. He's been a good old daddy, as a daddy we can't be. He's been our help in time of need, with never a drop of gall, For Old John Bull is the Daddy of them all.

There is war upon the ocean and there's war upon the land. We will win again at Waterloo and beat them at Sedan; For we've something, boys, to fight for, we've come to Father's call. For Old John Bull is the Daddy of them all.

We're marching to our father's aid; we will cross the briny sea; We will show the Prussian Kaiser, and the rest of Germany, That young Canada is on the map of this terrestrial ball, And that Old John Bull is the Daddy of them all.

We will come from o'er the mountains and we'll come from off the plain, We'll come from Manitoba, where we grow the golden grain; We'll come from Old Ontario, likewise Labelle, Quebec; We are all Jock Thompson's boys, ye ken, and you will hear from them ye bet.

There is Nova Scotia by the sea and New Brunswick by the strand, Also the Island Colonies by the Banks of Newfoundland; The Thistle, Rose and Shamrock will rally to the call, For Old John Bull is the Daddy of them all.

There's all the lads will call him Dad and take the old man's part, To share his fight and swell his might and cheer his loving heart. We'll bear his flag and fight to the crag, when echoing bugles blow— A million sons to man his guns and thunder on the foe. From many a land, from many a strand we come to Father's call, For Old John Bull is the Daddy of them all.

The waves that roll from pole to pole, on which he holds the sway, From the purple gleams of morning beams to the golden close of day, The heaving seas, the freshening breeze, bear on his armored ships, The roar that fills the startled hills leaps from his cannon's lips, The flags that fly to the bending sky are with his glory full, They bear his name and tell the fame of Glorious Old John Bull! —E. F. Hutchings, Winnipeg, Aug. 31st.

HORSE-BORNE LITTER FOR CARRYING WOUNDED.

For the transportation of wounded soldiers, when conditions are such as to render the use of an ambulance impracticable, a double litter for carrying two persons has been invented, which may be strapped to a horse's back. The device is described with illustration, in the December Popular Mechanics Magazine. Two ordinary stretchers are suspended, one on either side of a horse, by canvas straps attached to heavy springs which fasten to a pack saddle. Sectional bars extend in front of and behind the animal, forming a framework which holds the stretchers securely, while a breeching and breast strap keep the apparatus in place when it is being carried up or down hill. The two springs upon which the whole contrivance is swung absorb the jolts and brace straps, connecting with the harness under the horse, prevent a swinging motion.

CHRISTMAS TOYS SUPPLIED BY AMERICAN MAKERS.

"There is no danger of a Christmas toy famine on account of the European war. Some kinds of playthings for which this country has been dependent upon Germany may not be so abundant as formerly, but American manufacturers are already producing toys to the annual value almost equal to that of the German imports, and American children are no longer exclusively supplied from Nuremberg," says the December Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. "The center of the American toy industry is at Winchendon, Mass., where several of the most important factories are located. Opposite the railway station in this city is an enormous hobbyhorse, and this symbol very nearly tells the story in regard to the city's industries. Even before the war broke out, toys of every kind were being produced in enormous quantities in this city. These included even the Noah's arks, which for many years were turned out exclusively by German makers. The situation is one that may result in a big change in the toy-making industry."

THE MUNSTER FUSILIERS.

(J. B. Dollard in N.Y. Sun.) They went out from Tipperary, 'twas a long way to go, And they stepped so light and airy, 'twas a joy to see their stride; Oh, they whistled "Garryowen!" Just to keep their blood agoin' 'Till the colleens were so proud of them that every tear was dried;

It was "Good-by, Tipperary," and "God bless you, Slieve-na-mon," "Happy days, old Ballinadeary, sweet Clonmel and Galtymore," "Fare you well, dear Fair River, in the sunshine all aquiver, While we march without a shiver to a field of death and gore!"

Well, they fought for old Tipperary's name, at Charleroi and Mons, Intrepid as their sires of old who knew not how to fly, And the foreman all his years Will remember the wild cheers Of the Munster Fusiliers who went so gloriously to die!

SIMPLICITY IN MORNING GARB.

But the plain and unnoticeable pattern, comprising a severely simple jacket and a skirt as simple, has firm adherents and is worn in the morning with a simple fur-trimmed, of one of the more fanciful velvet throat ruffes, a velvet muff to match, and a cap to complete the trio. A specially beautiful flower trims the throatlet and cap, such as a rose of a natural color with a cluster of gold or silver hips and haws and a surround of natural foliage.

Splitting Pains in The Muscles Driven Out Quickly By 'Nerviline'

RHEUMATIC PAINS GO—SUFFERING CEASES—CURE COMES IN EVEN CHRONIC CASES. For aching bones and sore muscles nothing will soothe away the pain like Nerviline. For nerve-racking twinges in the muscles, for torturing backache or lumbago, you'll find Nerviline is full of amazing power. You see, Nerviline has the power—it's about five times stronger than ordinary remedies, and can penetrate very deeply. It contains juices and extracts of certain herbs that give it a strange power to drive out congestion, inflammation or pain. You see, Nerviline has the power—rub it on—it won't blister or burn, and can do nothing but good. Whenever there is pain or suffering Nerviline will go and will drive it out. It penetrates to every cell of a sore muscle; it sinks to the heart of every stiff sore joint; it seaches out the pain of rheumatism quickly. Give Nerviline a trial. See how fast it will lumber your lame back, how fast it will break up a bad cold or ease a sore throat. The best family pain-remedy ever made is Nerviline. Forty years of great success proves this. For emergent ills, when the doctor isn't handy, there is nothing better than the 50c. family size bottle; trial size 25c. all dealers or the Cattarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Canada.
