After the address was read and the presentation made, supper was served after which the gay company indulged in dancing, and general convival diversions. William Profitt, John Johnson, and Chester Howard acted as Major's domo for the evening. The following is the address which was read, and which was replied to by the Misses Fitzimmons individually. —To the Misses Fitzimmons.— Dear Friends:— It is with a mingling of pleasure and regret that we learn of your intention to leave this community. The regret originating from the fact that your beneficient influence will be missed in this neighborhood; your honorable principles, your selfdenying propensities, and cheerful disposition have endeared you to all your neighbors and acquaintances. But we are consoled by the fact that you will be still quite near to us when you take possession of your new residence at Kensington and in which we hope you will enjoy much happiness. It is the sincere desire of all your neighbors that our loss may be your renumeration, in having the enjoyment of the convenences of town life. We have always found you obliging and generous to a fault and we know that those few paltry words are inadequate to express our loss of your pleasant social intercourse in this community, and we ask you to accept those small gifts as rememberances of our many years of friendship.—K.

Hackett and James Nelligan, has been formed and in the future will work in conjunction with Monsignor D. M. McDonald.—Z.
