MRS JOHN J. ASTOR WANTS SEPARATION.

NEW YORK, Oct 26—Society was astonished today to learn that Mrs John Jacob Astor, leader of the Four Hundred, had begun legal proceedings for separation from Col John Jacob Astor. Suit has been conducted quietly and is now in the hands of the referee, C. H. Young, of 76 William street. The basis of the action could not be learned today.

Mrs Astor returned from Europe on October 15, while Col Astor is now on his yacht Nourmahal in Cuban waters, having sailed on October 12, three days before his wife's arrival home.

Mrs Astor did not go to her recently remodelled city mansion, at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, nor to her beautiful country seat at Rhinebeck. She went to the home of her friends, Mr and Mrs Benjamin Guinness, Washington square west. She left there Sunday morning to visit friends in the country.

Colonel Astor's attorney in the proceedings is Lewis Cass Ledyard, who was law partner of the late leader of the Bar, Jas C. Carter. Mrs Astor is represented by John H. Cadwallader, head of the firm of Strong and Cadwallader, a former president of the New York Bar Association.

There is no other family in New York whose disagreement could cause such genuine regret in the social as well as the business world. Both Mrs Astor and her husband, besides their birthrights as members of two famous families in America, have won general distinction in many fields. Mrs Astor was a Philadelphian woman.

TORONTO, Oct 27—The youngest applicant who has never appeared in the court, was the way in which the assessment clerk, Frank Land, referred to the ten-year-old son of Henry Doyl, a Grand Trunk conductor, who appeared before the court of revisors yesterday to ask for the cancellation of his income assessment of $174. The boy succeeded in his mission.

THE MORNING PAPER.

Some Reasons Why it Makes The Best Advertising Medium.

A woman's curiosity to know about society, marriages, births, deaths, forces her to read it. The Morning Paper is before her all day long, and it is she who is doing her household duties, arranging and improving the appearance of her home, that the missing and necessary articles of furniture, rugs, carpets, curtains or other necessities, show up the plainest, and there could be no more opportune time for a dealer to tell about the new goods, the new styles and the bargains offered, for the day or week.

In a majority of homes the newspaper is practically the bulk of the reading matter, and the long, all-day life from 5 a. m. to 10 p. m. of The Morning Paper gives not only the housewife but every member of the family an opportunity to read it.

The Morning paper is read at the breakfast table, again at home at noon, on the trains, in the restaurants. It is read in doctor's offices, professional offices, clubs, hotels, cafes, barber shops. It is read by daylight everywhere you go by both employer and employee.

It is a known fact that throughout the world, possibly with a half-dozen exceptions, the papers with editorial influence and national reputation are morning papers. With these facts in mind, the business man who is looking after the real money-spenders of the family to interest in his goods will consult his best interests by placing his announcements where the women will read them.
