"WHERE OLD FRIENDS MEET"

Alberton

Mr. C. R. Bernard was a business visitor to Charlottetown a couple of days the latter part of the week.

Mrs. E. Pharis, Charlottetown, was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wells.

Mr. F. C. Ramsay, M.L.A., recently returned from a visit to the mainland. While in New Brunswick, Mr. Ramsay visited Moncton, Saint John and other business centres.

Mr. Maurice Perry (Jr.), Alberton South, was a visitor to Charlottetown a couple of days the past week.

Mr. Jack Clark motored to Charlottetown on Thursday. While in the capital, he attended the Souris-Alberton, Scout Troop hockey game at the Forum.

Regretful farewells were said the past week to the Reverend J. M. Fraser and Mrs. Fraser, who left on Tuesday for Brooklyn, N. S., where Mr. Fraser has accepted a pastoral charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Callaghan were visitors to Charlottetown and Emerald a couple of days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Shea were in Charlottetown the past week, where Mrs. Shea attended the teachers' convention. On their return home, Mr. and Mrs. Shea spent a day with friends in Kinkora.

Mrs. Joseph Callaghan, Miss Mae O'Malley, Mr. Arnold Hierarchy Misses Bertha Bowness, Jean Raynor, Mrs. Kenneth Crockett, Mrs. Roscoe Nice and Mrs. Marshall Rayner, were among the many teachers who attended the P. E. I. teachers' convention in Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace returned to their home in Georgetown on Tuesday, after a very enjoyable stay in Alberton where they were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. E. Shea and Mr. Shea.

Mr. W.B. McLellan attended the recent annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Potato Growers Association, of which he has been a member of the Board of Directors for a great many years. Messrs. Raymond Hardy, Keith Bowness and Chester Shea also attended the meeting.

In the report of the play entitled "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom" the name of Miss Yvonne Murphy, who took part in the chorus singing was unintentionally omitted, and the names of the two charming little girls who acted the parts of the strange children were Anne Profit and Evelyn Kinch.

Mrs. Peter D. Gavin and son Billie have returned to their home in Alberton South, after an extended visit with members of their family in Saint John, N. B. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Gavin's two winsome little grandchildren, Nadine and Clifford, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gavin, plan on returning to their summer home in time for the fishing season.

ALMOST PRIZE MUTTON

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa—(CP)—Prize sheep were barely rescued in time from a slaughterhouse here. The owner had two lots of sheep—one for the abattoirs and the other for an agricultural show. They got switched. Frantic phone calls finally retrieved the prize animals which won a first class and 13 other awards.

"LIKE COMING HOME"

MONCTON, N. B. April 2—"Its like coming back home," said W.F. Robinson, newly appointed vice-president and general manager, Atlantic region, Canadian National Railways, to a large group of the principal officers of the region who were at the Moncton station to greet him on arrival from Toronto on the Maritime express this morning. Mr. Robinson succeeds J. P. Johnson, who left here on Tuesday to take up his new post of vice-president of the Western region of the National System at Winnipeg, and previous to his present appointment was assistant general manager, Central region Toronto.

Until his promotion in 1944 as general superintendent Northern Ontario District, Canadian National Railways, North Bay, Mr. Robinson, a native of North Sydney, N. S., had spent more than 40 years in railway work in the Maritime Provinces which he began as station agent. It included successive promotions from freight clerk, ticket agent, freight agent, train dispatcher, assistant supt., superintendent, to general superintendent
