Row Between CBC Officials

TORONTO, Sept. 4.—(CP)—Resignation of 50-year-old D. C. (Dan) McArthur as chief editor of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's news service hit the news today with reports and denials of "strife within the CBC."

The Toronto Telegram under a headline "blow-up sizes in CBC," said in an Ottawa dispatch that Mr. McArthur's resignation "brought to a head a situation which has been boiling" and added that "internal strife within the CBC which appears to centre about the personality of Dr. Augustin Frigon, the CBC general manager, is rapidly approaching the stage where it may be referred to the cabinet."

The announcement Wednesday gave no reason for the resignation of the former newspaperman who joined the CBC in 1939 when the CBC took over preparation of its news bulletins from the Canadian Press. Today the Globe and Mail quoted Dr. Frigon as saying in Montreal: "... so far as I know Dr. McArthur resigned in order to devote himself to his art and his letter of resignation contained no hint of trouble or discontent."

Dr. Frigon also said he knew of no dissonance in the CBC and declared that Mr. McArthur "was not satisfied for very ordinary reasons with administration regulations." He said there was no connection between the McArthur resignation, effective Sept. 30, and that of Jean-Marie Beaudet of Montreal, noted pianist, who resigned as CBC western regional director to devote his time to music.

Dr. Frigon emphasized the McArthur resignation was not concerned in any way with the handling of CBC news which had been entirely in Mr. McArthur's hands.

The general manager agreed there had been other resignations and he expected more—but by persons who expected to earn more money elsewhere.

Chairman A. D. Dunton of the CBC's board of governors, who said he had not seen the McArthur letter of resignation, will be in Toronto tomorrow to attend a previously arranged conference. It is expected that he will meet with Mr. McArthur, who said yesterday that he would make a statement "probably within a week."

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Popless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—A Don't Knows

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you did when you were young, and still feel as if you were a 100-year-old man.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles in your blood to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to start a fire, it takes oxygen to start a car. So you must have plenty of oxygen to supply the energy in your body and give you vigor.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are so potent for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. With your blood oxygenated, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were a child. Get a trial pack of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

not overlooking the plight of Britain and France, made it plain they regard hard-headed Italy as the danger spot to watch because the Communist Party there can be expected to capitalize on any disruption of the flow of food and coal supplies.

These officials said France and Britain have gold and dollar reserves to fall back on, whereas the Italians have already dipped into their last resources and are scraping the bottom of the barrel.

The State Department is reported to have assured the Italian Government that the United States will back to the limit Italy's recent application for a $250,000,000 loan from the world bank.

was His Honor Lt. Governor J.A. Bernard, His Worship J.F. Armet, Senator B.W. Robinson, Paul B. Cross, regional director D.V.A., P.B. Conrad, district administrator D.M. Thompson, sec. New Brunswick provincial command, and T.D. Anderson, Ottawa, assistant general secretary, Dominion command, the guest speaker of the evening.

Mr. Anderson congratulated the command on the success of the day's convention and outlined the projects which had been undertaken and would be undertaken by the Dominion Command in the interest of ex-service men.

The toast to the armed forces was responded to by R. Bretton, secretary, the branch, and to the ladies by Mrs. E. McNutt, Charlottetown.

Large Attendance The convention met in the Odd-fellows Hall and was called to order at 9 a. m. by President J.S. War.

The attendance of delegates from the various branches of the Legion was almost one hundred per cent, nearly all of the thirty branches sending representatives.

During the morning session ordinary routine business was disposed of and before adjourning consideration of the various reports was taken up.

After the reading of the minutes of the last convention the secretary, in attempting to preside over the meeting, pointed out the balance of the convention was presided over by Vice President Harry Bishop in this capacity.

At twelve o'clock noon the convention members paraded in the body to the monument in the Public Square where a wreath was laid in memory of departed comrades.

At two o'clock the convention reconvened and Chairman T. B. Rogers presented the report of the ways and means committee.

In his report Major Rogers pointed out the necessity for increased membership and the collection of dues from the members of the Legion, and a recommendation was brought in that the per capita tax be increased for the balance of 1947 by twenty-five cents and that in future it be lowered at one dollar instead of fifty cents.

It was further recommended in the report that the convention go on record as favoring a change in the constitution whereby only paid up members of the Legion would be eligible for assistance.

President's Report In his report to the members President Walker thanked the Provincial executive for the kind cooperation during his term of office. During his term nine new branches were organized as well as several branches of the ladies auxiliary. He pointed out that several members eligible for membership should associate themselves with the organization and not wait until an emergency or the need of assistance arose.

The report recommended also that in order to make Remembrance Day more meaningful, that an endeavor be made to bring the poppy into every school in the Province in an effort to teach the young generation what Poppy Day means and its relation to Remembrance Day.

was growing steadily weaker. India's leaders had feared that if anything ill befell they aged Gandhi as a result of the fast, the 40,000,000 Moslems in the Indian Dominion would have to pay a terrible price at the hands of enraged Hindus.

Repercussions from the Punjab bloodshed have spread in recent days to Calcutta, Bombay, Delhi, the Northwest Frontier, and Karachi, capital of Pakistan, and leaders were openly fearful of outbreaks in yet other directions.

In this situation Prime Ministers Jawaharlal Nehru of India and Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan, their ministers and provincial governors, in a joint meeting with Army leaders at Lahore in the Punjab yesterday pledged themselves to operate as a virtual team in attempting to restore order, to protect refugees, to evacuate and feed displaced persons, to repair desecrated religious places, to restore abducted women and not to recognize illegal seizures of property.

"How they might do all this was not clear."

Creamery At Crapaud Is Burglarized

No arrests have yet been made in the Crapaud Creamery burglary case though the R.C.M.P. with clues on which to base their investigation, are working feverishly to "break" it.

Mr. Lloyd Rogerson, manager of the Creamery, said yesterday that all evidence points to the robbery having been committed in the very early hours of last Wednesday morning. The thieves effected their entrance through the back door of the Creamery and carried the small safe with its contents of more than $400 in cash and other valuables out through the front door into a car parked near the front entrance. The amount of loot would have been much greater, Mr. Rogerson said, were it not that the secretary, Mr. William Waddell, had removed $2700 from the safe on Tuesday afternoon and had deposited it in the bank.

Mr. Rogerson said that local boys returning from social functions had passed the front entrance of the Creamery sometime between midnight Tuesday night and 1 o'clock Wednesday morning and had noticed a car parked in front of the building. The unusualness of the boys that they noted the number of the car and had passed the information on to the R.C.M.P. Meanwhile, neither the safe nor its contents has been recovered.

Coal Strike In Great Britain Is Spreading

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—British coal miners' strike is spreading to new mines today, leaving 60,000 miners idle and threatening a fuel famine and factory shutdowns to aggravate the country's economic crisis.

Newspaper surveys showed 50 collieries out of production, all in Yorkshire.

Arthur Horner, secretary-general of the National Union of Mine Workers—which has condemned the walkouts—said he feared the stop-work movement would spread to the Kent coal fields in south-east England.

Top union officials decried hurriedly tonight from the Trades Union conference at Southampton on the south coast—Horne for a London conference with Fuel Minister Shinwell and Yorkshire district leaders for the strike scene.

Industrial coal piles dwindled in the Yorkshire area and many factories already were curtailing production. The Sheffield Glass Company, serving some of the world's biggest producers, asked consumers voluntarily to cut consumption by up to 5% per cent.

The strike began at Grimsby, a Yorkshire mining town, when some 2,000 workers quit in protest against a government-union decision to increase their daily "rate" of the size of the coal face each man works. Other collieries came out in sympathy.

Official and newspaper reports expressed deep anxiety in view of the importance of coal in the national economy.

Britain needs more coal in order to increase industrial production, which in turn is needed for sale abroad to close the gap between exports and imports.
