Terrible Problem Confronting the American People.—By McKee

Exciting Scenes at U. S. Convention

CHICAGO, June 13.—Senator Warren G. Harding of Marion, Ohio, was nominated for president of the United States by the Republican party represented by its delegates assembled in National Convention at the coloseum this afternon.

Calvin T. Colidge, Governor of Massachusetts, was nominated for vice-president, the nomination of the presidential candidate came on the tenth ballot, in the ninth ballot the whole trend of the convention sentiment was toward Harding, when New York with its heavy representation went to him on the tenth. Everything was over except the shouting and the shouting began. Senator Harding's nomination was the outcome of a complex situation that did not begin to clear until last evening. After four ineffective ballots yesterday the convention had adjourned until this morning, four additional ballots in the forenoon and early afternoon of today had developed Harding strength but General Leonard Wood and Governor Frank O. Lowden had remained in the lead. A recess was taken for two hours and during that short period combinations were formed that made Harding's nomination certain. The real stampede of delegates to Harding began when Governor Lowden abandoning his intention to address the convention, issued instead a formal announcement that his delegates were released from their pledges to him. Interesting and even thrilling as the open proceedings in the convention were moved behind the scenes of which most of the convention knew nothing had their dramatic side, the nomination of the candidate for president was arranged in conferences in hotel rooms.

Children Have Marvelous Escape

DETROIT, June 14.—Adrift in a frail rowboat for 25 hours on Lake Erie, severely sun burned and suffering from hunge , was the experience of four children aged between 3 and 11, before they were picked up by the steamer City of Toledo at 10 o'clock this morning in the middle channel of the lake, thirty miles from shore, and brought to Detroit, Mich., at 9 o'clock Saturdap morning. While they were far from land two of them fell into the water and were rescued by nine-year-old Merwin Daso. The children are Robert, aged 10, Richard aged 6, and Merwin, aged 9, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Daso of Toledo; and Violet Sperry.

The children started from Lakeside with a broken oar and two sticks, intending to push themselves along the shallow shore. Soon they were a long way out and with a wind blowing they could not get back. The boys said they made regular watches during the night looking for a boat to pick them up. When the City of Toledo hove in sight Merwin and Dick one with the broken oar the other with a stick were doing their best to send the rowboat along. They were going with the wind in a northeastern direction and drifting farther into the lake. Dozens of women burst into tears when the children were lifted to the ship's deck and tended by passengers. The women took the children to their cabins were lifted to the ship's deck and their burns after which they were given a light lunch the captain fearing that a heavy meal would injure them after their long fast.

New Government Now at Moscow

TOKIO, June 14.—Information that the Moscow government has been overthrown, that Leo Trotsky has been killed, and that Premier Lenine has escaped, is said to come from the Vladivostok government, and is printed in an extra edition of the Asahi Shimbon. A new government headed by General Brusiloff is reported to have been established, but this report is without confirmation.

Parliament Will Close About July 15

OTTAWA, June 14.—With quite a little work to do yet on the Budget and with the Franchise Act and report on Soldiers' Pensions yet to come before the House, talk of prorogation of Parliament has swung still farther than Dominion Day and the expectation is now that it will be July 15th. At one time the Liberal opposition was reported to be anxious to finish by June 25th, in order to allow of a western tour by Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King. Now the proposed trip has been pushed back until the fall, thus allowing the more latitude in talking aginst the government proposals. The talk of a fall session has also been revived but older members of the House do not see any liklihood of such being the case this year. Some members believe the fall session idea was planned to overcome the increased indemnity question, but others merely scout the idea declaring that only the imminence of a general election would bring on a second session.

Issues Warning Against Grain Growers

(Special to The Guardian.)

MONTREAL, June 14.—A warning that propaganda of the progressive party was a dangerous form of doctrine which is being preached by rulers of the Grain Growers and the Council of Agriculture, was issued by H. H. Stevens, M. P. for Vancouver, in an address he delivered to the progressive Club here Saturday. Stevens said the progressives' platform was a menace. He believed its earnest idea was the socialization of the grain industry of Canada and that the government should market all the grain and that there would be no private dealing.

Luxury Tax Further Discussed

OTTAWA, June 13.—The House tomorrow will discuss paragraph by paragraph the luxury tax resolutions and will then take up the amendments of which the Minister of Finance has given notice, when formally moved, the amendments will come into force. For the time being the luxury taxes originally proposed in the budget speech remain law. The discussion on the taxes is expected to be somewhat protracted and will no doubt lead to the suggestion of amendments apart from those which Sir Henry Drayton himself intends to move Following a discussion of the luxury taxes the House will consider the estimates of the naval, health and Militia Departments. In presenting the Naval estimates, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Naval Service, will outline the work of the department its scope and the immediate program reports that he proposes to indicate anything like a permanent naval policy are stated to be without foundation. It is probable that during the week the Minister of Justice will bring down his bill to the Naturalization Act, the bill seeks to remedy a situation caused by a provision in the Naturalization Act of last year which barred from naturalization for 10 years after the war, all of alien enemy birth. The provision has worked harshly in the case of certain residents in Canada, the bill proposes to modify it by empowering the Secretary of State to issue naturalization certificates to those of alien enemy birth against whom there is no complaint and who have already resided in Canada for at least 10 years.

The women took the children to their cabins where cold cream was applied to their burns, afterwhich they were given a light lunch, the captain fearing that a heavy meal would injure them after their long fast. Adjutant and Mrs. Lansdowne of the Chicago Headquarters of the Salvation Army were aboard and as the passengers bowed their heads the Adjutant offered a prayer of thanks for the rescue of the little ones.
