A FIGURATIVE SENSE

MEANING OF DICTUM OF SEER OF PATMOS, "WITHOUT ARE DOGS." DEGRADED CURS OF ORIENT Rev. Dr. Talmage Draws a Broad Distinction Between the Life That is Inspired By a Love of All That is Noble and Pure and One That Has Become Degraded and Brutal Through the Indulgence of Selfish Passions.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1904, by William Balfour de Patmos, as the Proprietor, Ottawa, Ontario. Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—Not in the literal sense of the figurative sense does the preacher deal with this unusual text by drawing the broad distinction between the life that is inspired by a love of all that is noble and pure and one that has become degraded and brutal through the indulgence of selfish passions. The text is Revelations xxii, 15, "Without are dogs."

Roaming again through the crowded streets of Palestine, I find that the same merciless tribal bitterness and mortal enmities which were once rife among the North American Indians are prevalent among the dogs of the east. As each Indian tribe owned its own territory and in time of war it meant death for a member of one tribe to be found wandering about in the "land of strangers," so the dogs of the east take possession of the different streets of the great cities. Each canine tribe has its sentinels standing guard at the end of the streets. Then if one dog of another tribe enters that street the howl of warning is given. At once all the other dogs of that tribe leap to their feet and as a pack of hungry wolves, make a mad rush for that stranger to tear him limb from limb. We must study my text in the canine language of the east. Old hunters tell us that no man has heard a lion roar unless he has heard the king of the forest sound his horn of defiance in the dark jungles of the African continent. Then the awe striking power of that voice seems to come from everywhere and yet from nowhere. The hills are sounding boards which toss the echoes as the battledores throw the shells. Then cocks backward and forward. Then the fawns squat down with fright, and the mother birds press lower upon their nests, and the very leaves of the trees seem too terror stricken to move. Like the roaring lions in the African forests, are the howlings of the dogs in the streets of Damascus and Jerusalem. When one canine plunges upon a dog of another tribe, the latter utters a howl as though at the most critical voices of the internal passions are let loose. First there comes the sharp, angry bark, as though the plaintiff line of a dog's mouth had tried to call the attention of the jury to the fact that the defendant had committed a crime. Then come the wailing whines and the howls, and the dog is seen to be in a state of intense excitement. They make the sleeping tourist so suddenly that at first he will start up from his bed with fright. Then follows the suggestive silence as the battle evidently ends by the death of the victim or by the escape of the pursued.

What is the Johannian meaning of this mortal combat between the tribal dogs of the east? Why, it means that in heaven there are to be no family meannesses, no contemptible, merciless ways such as are often found at the earthly fireside. It means that instead of one father and one mother gathering their own children about them in one "Mansion of Light," and saying to one of themselves: "Shut the door and keep every one else out. We have enough, and more than enough now. Let all others take care of themselves as best they can," all men will be brothers, and all women sisters. There we shall all be sons and daughters of one God, who is the Father, and have kinship to one Christ, who is the Elder Brother. It means that in heaven there will be no envious plebeian blood, and no distinctive, supercilious, aristocratic blood, because there we shall all have been washed in the royal blood of Jesus. It means that in heaven no wealthy man's wife will be able to suck out the life of a poor sewing girl merely because she is poor, and no employer will be able to grind his employees down until it means physical and mental and often spiritual death. It means no vendetta or blood feud, it also means no financial vendetta or money feud. Roaming again through the dark, narrow, crowded streets of eastern Palestine, I surmise, from the words of my text, that heaven is to be a place of honored and jubilant occupations. It is to be a place where the words "mental" and "servile," "mean" and "scullion," "hiring" and "dependent," "lackey" and "underling" will be unknown. All words signifying a degraded work will forever disappear when the lex-

GIVES TWO REAL GOOD REASONS

For Believing Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure all Kidney Ailments

Cured his Backache of Twenty five Years Standing and Satisfied Everyone he Recommended. ECONOMY POINT, N. S., June 24.—(Special)—Geo. S. McLaughlin of this place gives two splendid reasons for his belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one remedy for Kidney ailments. Here are the two reasons in his own words: "I was troubled with lame back for 25 years or more, sometimes so severe that I could not turn myself in bed. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me and I have had no return of the trouble since. "I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons who had Kidney Trouble. All who used them have been benefited or cured. "Dodd's Kidney Pills not only relieve all Kidney Diseases, from Backache to Bright's Disease, but they absolutely cure them. But sometimes where one, or two boxes relieves it takes more to make a complete cure."

LOST SAILS IN A SQUALL. NORTH SYDNEY, June 20.—The schooner Acazia, Capt. Hatt, which loaded at the Invercolonial Pier and sailed for Campbellton on Saturday morning was struck, when off Cape North, by a heavy squall of wind which carried away her sails. She returned here last night fitted up and called again today.

THE BEST LINIMENT. "I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Anna Hagelegans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment I have ever used. I would not be the least of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they always speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful." For sale by all druggists.

HE WAS TYPEWRITER. New York, June 20.—John Lemont, a black, a typewriter, shut and seriously wounded his wife today, when she killed him by jumping from a fourth story window. The woman, an emaciated, thin, old woman, told the police that she had been the victim of her husband's cruelty for some time. She said she had been told to go to the police to secure a divorce.

TOO GREAT A RISK. In almost every neighborhood somewhere a child has been attacked by a cholera morbus, often because the child had been exposed to a physician's examination. A reliable remedy for cholera morbus is a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a safe and reliable remedy for cholera morbus and cholera. It is a safe and reliable remedy for cholera morbus and cholera. It is a safe and reliable remedy for cholera morbus and cholera.

PIERCED HEART MENDED. CHICAGO, June 22.—The mending of a heart, surgical operation which is said to be rare in medical records, has been performed at St. Joseph's Hospital upon Edward Pell, a 15-year-old boy, who shot himself in the side. The bullet pierced the lung and passed through the heart. It was found in the thoracic cavity and removed. The hemorrhaging of the lungs was stopped and the heart was sewed up, the operation being performed by Dr. Carl Wagner.

NOTHING LIKE EXPERIENCE. "One truth learned by actual experience does more good than ten experiences one hears about." Tell a man that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure cholera morbus, and he will not likely forget it before the end of the day. Let him have a severe attack of the disease, let that be his lesson, to die, use this remedy, and learn from his own experience how quickly it gives relief, and he will remember it all his life. For sale by all druggists.
