The increasing demand for Nulife (Red Blood Tablets), the celebrated English medical preparation for which Johnson & Johnson, the well-known druggists of this city are wholesale distributors, is one of the greatest examples of how a first class remedy of remarkable curative powers will secure a large and intelligent public. Nulife is claimed to be the best blood maker and tonic known to the pharmaceutical world and the cures accorded to it daily bear out the fact that it is a medicine of merit. Nulife is supplied by Johnson & Johnson to all dealers of standard drugs.

On August 18th at the home of John and Mrs Cudmore, a very pleasing event took place when their daughter, Mable T. was united in wedlock to William Brooks, both of Union Corner. Miss Mable Cudmore of Brackley Point, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while William Cudmore, brother of the bride, very ably supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev Mr Leard, assisted by members of L. O. L. No 1147 of which groom and groomsmen were members. Mrs Leard presided at the organ. After the ceremony, a most sumptuous repast was partaken of. The numerous presents indicate the high esteem in which the contracting parties are held by their many friends, who wish them a long, happy and prospered married life.

Under the heading of compliments and criticisms Brains, the national weekly for retailers and advertisers has the following in the 9th of July issue: "James Paton & Co of Charlottetown, P. E. I., submit several samples of three column ads devoted to their men's department, which were run in various papers. Typographically, some of the ads are fairly well set. The cuts used in these ads are particularly good and care on the part of whoever prepared the copy. One sentence in one of the ads is so good that we quote it in full: "We want the men folk to make use of this furnishing store. We cater to their needs just as much as we do to the gentler sex. A handy department right near the door on Victoria Row, quick service, no waits or delays. Men are usually in a hurry and we recognize their whims by giving them things in a hurry." The advertisements referred to in the above were designed and written by Irvin G. McLaren, son of J. A. McLaren of Paton & Co's, now of Montreal.
