Strong Drama At The Capitol

A new film personality of exceptional dramatic and emotional ability starts today at the Capitol Theatre when 'Valiant is the Word for Carrie', begins a two-day run. The newcomer is Gladys George, famed stage actress whose portrayal of the woman who is resurrected and ennobled by two little children she adopted, is one of the finest things ever captured by the camera and is certain to become one of the most widely discussed film roles of the season.

Miss George, as Carrie Snyder, brings in two homeless waifs as her own. Through great sacrifice and over the greatest obstacles she rears them to glorious young manhood and womanhood. Peace and contentment abide with the little household until the boy, played by John Howard, becomes involved with Isabel Jewell, an adventuress. Arline Judge, who plays the part of the other waif, is in love with Howard and broken-hearted, she marries another man.

In a frantic effort to restore harmony in the little family, Carrie becomes involved in a jailbreak with her husband. The trial she is acquitted with a grave danger to her life. In the case she has a chance for freedom. But then her past, which is unknown to the children, will be brought back to life. If she doesn't fight it she goes to jail but her past is a secret.

Others in the cast are Harry Darr, Dudley Digges, Willie Collier Sr. and the two charming youngsters Jackie Moran and Charlene Wyatt.

Queen Mary Needlework Guild Meeting

Officers Elected At 22nd Annual Meeting. Of Organization.

The 22nd annual meeting of the Queen Mary Needlework Guild was held at the home of the Honorary President, Mrs. Bartlett, the President Mrs. Petrick in the chair.

Despite bad weather conditions there was a good attendance of members to listen to the various reports submitted. The retiring President, Mrs. Petrick in her interesting address told of the splendid work done for the Prince Edward Island Protestant Orphanage, which has this past year reached its peak, as 116 garments were made, dispatched in May 1937 to that Institution.

Two interesting features of this meeting were first the reading of the annual letter of thanks from Miss Beers, the Matron. The members always eagerly look forward to this. A friend from outside the Guild on hearing this letter read last year was so impressed that she sent a donation of gingham and wool for this year's work to the value of $10.00.

Miss Beers voiced the appreciation of staff and children of the eagerly awaited box and described the progress of the children under her care. The second enjoyable feature of the meeting was an informal talk by Mrs. J. P. Gordon, when she told of her visit to the Queen Mary Maternity Home, at Summerside, last summer.

This visit fortunately coincided with a garden party given by the Patronesses and those interested in the home. The Matron, Miss Wishart told Mrs. Gordon of the pleasure expressed by Her Majesty the Queen Mother on examining the box of 50 garments sent to her so far away for her pet charity. This it may be stated is the dispatch by the local guild of a box of 50 small garments in lieu of a large one.

As mentioned these garments are a free will offering from the members so that all money raised by the guild by means of rummage sales, may be applied solely to the E. L. Protestant Orphanage work. Votes of sympathy in illness and bereavement were passed to absent members. The resignation of the President Mrs. Petrick was most heartily endorsed by all present. The resignation of officers resulted as follows: Patroness, Mrs. George DeBlais Hon. Pres., Mrs. Bartlett, Pres., Mrs. Charles McLeure, Vice Pres., Mrs. W. A. Huestis, Secy., Mrs. Allen Cosh, Treasurer, Mrs. James Paton, Executive Committee, Mrs. J. P. Gordon, Mrs. Bend Rogers, Sr. Mrs. Dewar, Mrs. Goodwill, Mrs. Higgs, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Petrick. After the newly elected President Mrs. McLeure was welcomed to the chair the meeting on motion adjourned.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

ST. JAMES CHURCH. The Minister, the Rev. Dr. R. Moorhead Legate, at the morning service at St. James Presbyterian Church yesterday spoke from the text, "The Lord is a sun." Dr. Legate pointed out, just as the sun is the centre of our universe and a necessity for our physical well-being so is God the centre of all things spiritual and seeks to exercise his goodness upon us when living the Christian life.

Dr. Legate gave another inspiring sermon at the evening service when he spoke from the text: Ephesians 6:6. "Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart." It was part of letter written by St. Paul to Christians in the city of Ephesus and was as applicable today as it was then, the Minister said. In living our life we strive to do what is right in the eyes of God rather than sometimes follow the more easy and pleasant road that wins us the approval of our fellow men, the Minister said.

At the morning service the text was "Christ of Another and the sermon was based on John the Baptist's question: "Art thou He that should come, or look we for another?" John's questions are prompted largely by our interests. John was interested in Christ. He proclaimed his advent and prepared the way for Him. It is natural that the men who were disappointed should ask whether Christ was really the Messiah. Personal circumstances frequently color the outlook of faith as also disappointed pre-conceptions. God's thoughts are not our thoughts; neither His signs and wonders are our signs and wonders.

The second oration emphasized the significance of whom we ask our perplexing questions. And the concluding point emphasized was the relevancy of the question or us. "Confronting Young Men With the Living Christ" was the subject of the evening sermon, based on the text: "The Kingdom of God is within you." The subject is the title of a book written some years ago by Rev. John R. Mott specially for the Young Men's Christian Association to increase the spiritual activity and experience of the membership of that institution.

The morning service the choir sang the anthem "Consider and Hear Me"—Plunger with solo parts taken by Miss Berna Huestis and Mr. Harold MacLeure. At the evening Oley Speaks "Twilight and Dawn" was rendered. Mrs. L. T. Lowther and Mrs. W. G. Spencer taking solo parts.

FISHERIES OFFICIAL HERE—Mr. James Catt, supervisor of fish culture, Saint John, New Brunswick, returned to the mainland Saturday. While in Charlottetown in connection with fish culture and conservation were discussed with Prince Edward Island Fish and Game Assn. officials. Stocking of ponds and streams, the problem created by the salmon fry, pollution at Campbell's Pond, influence of perch on trout streams, a change in season and better protection for fish and the question or us.

THE SALVATION ARMY. Yesterday was observed as "Young Peoples' Day" at the Salvation Army. At the evening service the young people occupied a place on the platform and sang sweet sentimental hymns. Mrs. Vera Major, led the testimony meeting and Mrs. Ad. Lynch spoke, taking as her text St. John 12th chapter, verse "We would see Jesus".

In the afternoon a meeting was held at the hall. Here an inspiring message was held by the Army Band. This week sees the beginning of the "You Need Christ" campaign. Commandant and Mrs. Hargrove will be here opening the campaign next Saturday and will hold special services for two weeks to which all are invited.

INTERESTING PAPER READ AT MUSIC CLUB

History Of Violin And Violin Makers Concisely Dealt With By Mrs. Cosh.

The subject of the afternoon program at the Women's Music Club meeting of Saturday, February 5th was the eighteenth century school of Italian violinists with a History of the Violin and violin makers by Mrs. Cosh whose paper, although containing many interesting and noteworthy references and details, was a veritable model of conciseness.

Others taking part were, Mrs. Arthur Roper who gave one of her unimitable readings—a one act play in which she interpreted all four characters; and the guest artist Mr. Harry Gomez who delighted the audience with his splendid violin selections.

Mr. Gomez opened the program with the last two movements of the Concerto in C Major by Vivaldi, one of the first to develop the concerto as we know it, and to give it artistic value. Mr. Gomez was expertly accompanied by Miss Rena Wood.

Mrs. Cosh, in her outline of the history of the Violin, ascribed to Testator the Elder, Amati, Gaspari de Solo and Maggini, respectively, the glory of having called forth this wonderful instrument in the form known to us. Copious information is available about the composer, and players of music for violins but very little is known about the violin makers. It is an undoubted fact, however, that through years of experiment, in an effort to vary the form and increase the sonority of the violin, no instrument has been produced equal to those made by Stradivarius Amati and Guarnerius of eighteenth century Cremona. Cremona and Brescia where Gaspari de Solo lived were especially famous for their violin makers and the reality that came from these makers are now numbered among the rarest art treasures of the world.

About ten years ago great excitement was caused in musical circles by the news that a recipe for making the reputed varnish as used by Stradivarius had come to light. This resulted in fiasco and the mystery remains as likely to remain a fascinating one for all time.

With the subject of the violin must be mentioned the "Wizard of the Bow", Nicolo Paganini—and Mrs. Cosh gave interesting side-lights on his life and career. Prices for Strad violins are soaring. In 1826 the famous Betts Strad, for their violin makers and the sold for a guinea. Twenty Strads used at a recent New York concert were valued at $1,000,000. For ten years Yehudi Menuhin has played the famous Stradivarius Strad valued at $100,000. It was from this violin that American audiences recently heard the so called solo symphony by Schumann for the first time. Only a few of the greatest violins had been named, and it is interesting to know that Toscha Seidel, who was heard in a violin recital in Charlottetown a few years ago, owns and used a new one of these Strad named Leonardo da Vinci and insured at $60,000. Erem Zimbalist invariably plays on his Lamoreux Strad, and Strads since year 1751 are the greatest violins had been named, and it is interesting to know that Toscha Seidel, who was heard in a violin recital in Charlottetown a few years ago, owns and used a new one of these Strad named Leonardo da Vinci and insured at $60,000.
