FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral of the late Mr. George Doherty, St. Peter's Road took place in St. David's Presbyterian cemetery and was very largely attended. Rev. D. McVicar, Curdigan officiated.—G.

REV. G. C. TAYLOR RETURNING.—Mr. J. J. McKenzie, city, has received a telegram from Chaplain, Rev. George C. Taylor dated at Bramshott, England stating that he expected to be back in Canada next month.

ODDFELLOWS HOME.—The Oddfellows of the Maritime Provinces have started a movement to erect a Home for aged members of that order. The building and equipment it is thought will probably cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Windsor, N. S., is putting up a strong bid to have the Home located there. How about P. E. I.?

FUNERAL.—The remains of the late Mr. Frederick Rice were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Peoples Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Field assisted by Rev. Mr. Freeman officiated. A large number attended the funeral. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. D. Taylor, E. D. Sterns, L. B. Miller, Robert Campbell, Henry Lowe and Wm. Teed, Sr.

FUNERAL OF JAS. H. AULD.—The Sydney Post of Feb. 21st says:—The funeral of the late James H. Auld took place from his late residence on Brooklands Street to Christ Church yesterday afternoon. The deceased was born in Stanhope, P. E. I., 70 years ago but moved to Sydney about 10 years ago. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Earl and Holden and one daughter, Ruth, all of this city.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—Frank Carr, the 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Carr, Summerside, while engaged at stable work at Kinkora, was a few evenings ago, attacked by a vicious horse and given a bad mauling. The lad after being rescued was at once brought to the Prince County Hospital, where, upon examination, it was found that the bone of one arm was fractured in two places besides a few other bruises. He is now on the road to recovery.—H.

CABLE RECEIVED.—Mr. John T. McKenzie received the following cable yesterday morning. "Cuyler was unable to assimilate nourishment. This was his condition for past four months. He stayed in the Battery too long. He wanted to fix Spurge's grave. Condition was dangerous last week with increasing weakness. He collapsed suddenly. Was present when he died peacefully twelve hours later. Hold your grip. Writing. Wendall McKenzie."

In the passing of Mr. H. E. J. Lewis of Charlottetown Royalty, which occurred on January 6th last, this community has lost one of its most interesting and intelligent citizens. The late Mr. Lewis immigrated to this province from England in 1872 and settled in York with his wife and family. Here he resided for twenty years being one of the most successful farmers in this thriving community. Removing to Charlottetown Royalty he made a home for himself which, with its well kept garden, has been and still is admired by visitors and sightseers as well as enjoyed by the many friends who delighted to meet its genial and companionable owner. In early life Mr. Lewis who was a splendid type of the old English gentleman, joined the navy where he rose to the position of Captain. The traditions of the sea clung to him through his later years and he delighted to recount the adventures and exploits of his sea faring days. For the past fortyseven years he kept a diary of the weather, a veritable seaman's "log", which his friends delighted to scan with him and make comparisons with the weather conditions in the passing years. There are left to cherish the memory of a loving and much loved father, one daughter, Miss Susan McLean, Spokane, Washington, and one son, Mr. Herbert Lewis, on the old homestead, York.

A daughter, Mrs. Bruce Leith passed away a few years ago. His wife predeceased him by thirteen years.

Lieut. Bethune, was the fact that the car in which he was borne from the station had as a guard of honor his returned comrades of the Second Battery.

The car was drawn by the Charlottetown Fire Brigade who turned out in full uniform to welcome their former comrade.

The car itself, was a work of art, being tastefully draped with bunting and flags, the seats cushioned with large fur robes while the sides of the car were festooned with rows of electric lights. Seated with Lieut. Bethune in the car were Major D.A. McKinnon, D.S.O. and Chief Ranaghan of the Fire Department.

Owing to the fact that the official notification of returning soldiers, last evening only contained the name of Lieut. Bethune, he alone was expected by the reception committee, and it is regrettable that the other returned heroes who arrived were not observed by the Mayor and others who were present to welcome on behalf of the city and Province. As a matter of fact no intimation other than above was received by the Civic Committee, the K. of C. Huts Committee or by the Y. M. C. A. representative all of whom it is the custom to notify.

Among the other returned men are—
Cadet George Walker
Cadet Walker is son of Captain James

VALENTINE PARTY.—Good old St. Valentine must have been satisfied with the loyalty of his voters in Souris on the night of the forgotten 14th. Among the events the writer would mention was an entertainment at the Parsonage, Mrs. H. A. Brown being the hostess, hearts of various sizes and these being the various sizes and hues being the favorite device. The various Valentine contests evoked much laughter and evinced considerable literary and artistic talent. Among those entertained were Rev. A. and Mrs. McKay, Misses Ethel Conroy, Sue Carlton, Gussie Muttart, Gertrude Sterns, Dell and Lulu Garrett, Miss McPhee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poole, Messrs Acorn, Matthew, Crockett, Lutz, Tierney and Webber. Miss Dell Garrett was by common consent pronounced the "real Valentine". The party broke up about midnight with many "bright ideas" and hopes for the future.—S.

WEDNESDAY

Few of the soldiers who have returned from "over there" have received a warmer welcome than did Lieut. Hamilton "E" Bethune who arrived last night after an absence of over four years in active service.

Previous to enlisting Lieut. Bethune was joint manager with Major D.A. McKinnon of the McKinnon Drug Co. He was for several years a non-commissioned officer and afterwards Lieut. in No 4 Battery, P.E.I. Heavy Brigade.

S. Walker and the late Eva Clark Walker and a grandson of Mr. David Walker, the well-known colporteur of Charlottetown. He left here with the 98th Siege Battery, Nov. 26, 1916. He saw much of the heavy fighting and was twice wounded. A short time before the armistice was signed he went to England to qualify for a commission. He was in the training camp when the armistice was signed. Cadet Walker has two brothers in the war, Lieut. Austin H. and Lieut. J. Gilbert (Bert) Walker. His father, who was an officer on the Charlottetown Police Force when the war broke out immediately enrolled for service with the Army Medical Corps and proceeded overseas and is at present in Belgium. His uncle, Corporal Walter Walker, returned home a couple of months ago. This family has certainly a splendid war record.

Cadet Milton Stewart, M. C.

Cadet Stewart who is a nephew of Mr. Bruce Stewart of this city and brother of Mr. Frank Stewart, has an excellent war record. He left here with the 98th Siege Battery and took part in a great deal of the heavy fighting in which the Battery was engaged, winning the Military Cross for conspicuous bravery. Last September he went to England to qualify for a commission in the Royal Air Force but the armistice was signed while he was training. He is looking fine and was lucky enough to escape being wounded.

Pte. Earl Hooper.

Pte. Hooper belongs to Murray Harbor North. He enlisted in the Railway Troops and went to France in 1917. He was wounded in the second battle of Ypres, and has been in England since.

Cadet George Craig.

Cadet George Craig the son of Mr. Samuel Craig, was among those who arrived last night. He enlisted in the Eighth Siege Battery and saw much fighting and was qualifying for a commission when the war ended.

Pte. Otto Campbell

Pte. Campbell is a son of Mr. William Campbell of Montague. He left here with the original 105th and was transferred to the 26th Battalion, and afterwards to the 78th. He fought at Amiens, Arras, and Cambrai and at the last named place was wounded in the leg by a fragment of shell. Pte. Campbell arrived in the city with Monday night's quota of returned men. He was one of the leading athletes at Prince of Wales College before going overseas.

Corp. J. K. Jones

Corp. Jones belongs to Pownal and went overseas in 1917 with the Forestry Battalion and was engaged in forestry work in the South of France for the last year-and-a-half. He is looking well after his strenuous experience.

Chocolate the Ready Luncheon

WHEN business prohibits your leaving the office at lunch time, yet you are hungry and tired—eat chocolate! for chocolate is a sustaining food.

All through the war the value of chocolate has been demonstrated.

The Allied soldiers found that when fatigued, eating chocolate renewed their energy, and thousands will testify how bars of chocolate used as emergency rations supplied them with strength to "carry on" in many a tight pinch.

Chocolate has proven its vitality-restoring qualities to every Canadian soldier. Profit by this war lesson. Apply it to civil life.

Eat chocolate as a luncheon—it satisfies—and will help you through the business hours.

Chocolate is a food product which the human system craves and demands. It fills a real need.

Keep a few bars of chocolate in your desk drawer. Eat them when you feel fatigued—they will help relieve the strain of your work.

"Chocolate is a most nourishing fat food and a delightful stimulant, especially valuable in cases of extreme fatigue or exposure."—Canada Lancel.

It is a Splendid Food.
