LOYAL CRUSADERS.—On Thursday last Company, I of Loyal Crusaders was organized at Northam School by Grand-Scribe E. S. Weeks and starts out with good prospects under the management of the energetic teacher of the school Miss Sadie Lyle as the W. C. and Miss Annie Yeo as Secy Treas. and on the same day the G. S. visited Port Hill school district and after having called on a number of the parents and having got their hearty approval of the project Company J. was organized with the enterprising teacher Mr. Lee Carr as W. C. and Jennie Ramsay Secy Treas. These two companies it is hoped will prove of great benefit to the divisions in their respective localities. The G. BETWEEN seven and nine o'clock last evening the lawn and grounds in front of the Hospital for the Insane presented a very lively and animated appearance, as, through the great kindness of the band of the 4th Reg. under the able leadership of Major Galbraith, the inmates were treated to a grand serenade. Prof. Baehanan contributed not a little towards the evening's entertainment by singing a comic song which was ensored and to which he readily responded. There were quite a large number of spectators present who heartily enjoyed the pleasure manifested by the patients in listening to the sweet strains of music discoursed by the band. It speaks well for the unanimity and esprit du corps of the band when it is known that the whole band were present with the exception of one man. Most hearty thanks are accorded to all who contributed in any way to the evening's enjoyment.—Com.

The mayor of Montreal at a meeting of the Harbor Board the other day, drew attention to the sumptuous new special train which is being built by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the purpose of conveying the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York across the continent to the Pacific coast. From an architectural point of view this train has never been equalled in Canada, and with respect to its appointments he believed it would be without a rival in the world.

Friday night was celebrated at Tracadie Beach by a monster bon fire and clam-bake given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. MacFadden of Bath, Maine, who left for home Saturday morning. Clam bakes seemed to be the order of the day or night rather, especially when held on the celebrated sandunes of Tracadie, the supposed hiding place of Captain Kidd's treasure. Viewing the clam-bakers from the piazza of the Hotel the other night the gleaming bonfire, casting shadows against the wooded dunes and the flitting figures made one think that the fierce old captain and his crew were again holding high carnival.—What might have been a fatal accident happened at Balvay Friday Will Arbing, while oiling the windmill, fell a distance of about fifty feet. When picked up, he was unconscious. Dr. Alley was telephoned for to the hotel and on his arrival at Dalvay found that a number of ribs were broken. Striking a wire stay no doubt saved the man's life by breaking the fall. The yacht race Saturday was not as successful as expected owing to lack of wind. The picnic held at Corran Ban in connection with the race was well attended. The Golf links are well patronized, Saturday's rain not being heavy enough to keep the admirers of this noble game off the course. So far Mr. F. G. Beach of New Haven, still hold the championship, doing the course in 40.—Mr. C. O. Trowbridge, professor at Columbia College, has been spending his vacation here but will have to tear himself away, next week to resume his college duties. Mr. G. Johnson and Mr. A. Cameron our old friends from Boston are again tempting the big cod in the hotel yacht. Last Wednesday morning their catch was about eighty large fish, Mr. Cameron having the largest a thirty four pounder. The arrivals at the Hotel Acadia are: August 4, Mr. J. Boyle, Chas. M. Hennevey, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. F. Ives, Master R. Ives, Master H. Ives, Cincinnati; L. Watson, Miss Strickland, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Ashbrook, Edward Ashbrook, Philadelphia. August 7, Wm. Curtis, Boston; Miss E. O. Hyndman, Miss Cotton, Miss W. Brecken, Cliff House; Miss W. Weeks, Mrs. W. Weeks, Miss D. Weeks, Miss Edith Weeks, Master Ernest Weeks, Charlottetown.
