THE RELIEF OR HUMOR.

(From the Kansas City Star.)
 The Turkish Ambassador in Washington criticizes the American press for carrying jokes on the subject of war. Doubtless a measure of the criticism is justified, and at first blush it might seem that no humor could be founded on the war. Immediately after the murder of Duncan there is a loud knocking at the gate. The porter comes with most whimsical foibles of words, and drunken antics. DeQuincey's essay, "On the Knocking at the Gate in Macbeth," explains the psychology of jesting on phases of the war. The mind cannot stay long at the pitch to which an awful deed exalts it. Relief is found in fooleries and antics.

HALLAM'S WEEKLY MARKET REPORT—HIDES, SKINS, WOOL, JUNK.

Toronto, Sept. 20th, 1914.
BEEFHIDES.—The market is lower. Tanners appear to have plenty of hides for immediate needs, and will doubtless wait for more definite demands before again entering the market to any extent. The large number of hides coming to market during the past month have also contributed to reduce the prices. City butcher hides flat, 14 cents per pound. Country hides, flat, cured, 15 1/4 to 16 3/4 cents per pound. Part cured, 14 1/2 to 15 cents per pound.
CALFSKINS.—The market is easier, the tanners demanding goods at lower prices. City skins green, flat, 16c. Country cured 17 to 18 1/2 cents. Part cured 16 1/2 cents, according to condition taken off. Deacons or Bob Cal' 80 cents to $1.20 cents each.
HORSEHIDES are quiet and an easier feeling predominates. City take off $4.50 to $4.75. Country take off No. 1, $4.00 to $4.50; No. 2, $2.50 to $3.50.
SHEEPSKINS.—The demand has been lessening lately resulting in an easier market. City Lambskins, Pelts or Shearlings 50 cents to 90 cents each. Country Lambskins or Shearlings 35 cents to 90 cents each.
WOOL is unchanged, the only inquiries from the mills being to fill rush orders, principally for military purposes. Washed combing fleece, (coarse) 27 to 28 cents. Washed clothing fleece (fine) 29 cents to 30 cents. Washed rejections (burry, chaffy, etc.) 23 to 24 cents. Unwashed fleece combing (coarse) 18 to 20 cents. Unwashed fleece clothing (fine) 20 1/2 to 22 cents.
TALLOW.—Heavy importations of Australian and South American tallow has resulted in a demand for lower prices. City rendered solid in barrels, 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents. Country stock, solid in barrels, No. 1, 6 to 14 cents. No. 2, 5 1/4 to 6 cents. Cake No. 1, 6 1/2 to 7 cents. No. 2, 5 1/2 to 6 cents.
HORSE HAIR is firm, receipts being absorbed at present quotations. Farm-er pedlar stock 50 to 55 cents.
OLD RUBBERS, JUNK, etc. are holding their own with no change in prices. Rubber boots and shoes according to trim, 5 1/2 to 6 cents. Auto tires 4 to 5 cents. Bicycle tires, 2 to 4 cents. Lead, heavy, 3 1/4 to 4 cents. Tea lead, 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 cents. Brass, heavy, 9 to 10 cents. Light, 6 to 7 cents. Copper, heavy 11 to 12 cents. Light, 10 to 10 3/4 cents. Zinc, 2 1/2 to 4 cents.

MR. BRYAN'S GRAPE JUICE.

(New York Herald.)
 The liking for grape juice has departed from Mr. Bryan. In a private conversation the Secretary of State recently admitted to a personal friend that he had practically come to the point that he would never again run foul of a bottle of the unfermented nectar.
 The reason is this: Mr. Bryan's admirers throughout the country have always been prone to manifest their affection for him by sending him those things which the newspapers say he particularly likes. One day Mr. Bryan was caught in the act of buying some radishes at a market when out for an early morning stroll. Immediately he was swamped with gifts of radishes. Every mail brought him crates, boxes and bunches of them.
 So it has been with grape juice, Mr. Bryan has been deluged with it. He has stacked the bottles of it in his cellar and in his attic and his closets.
 Mr. Bryan is conscientious. When his friends send him presents he endeavours earnestly to make use of them and to appreciate them for the sake of the donor. So he has tried to consume the grape juice which has been sent him.
 But it has been like Mark Twain's flies—no matter how many you kill there is always one left. And no matter how many bottles of grape juice were enjoyed, there was always one left.
 And now Mr. Bryan admits that his appetite for grape juice is departing. Mr. Bryan has come to "loathe the more than a little is by much too much."

BLACK PRINCE PUT HIS CROWN IN PAWN

Among the interesting items recorded in "The Diary of the Black Prince," recently discovered in the office of a London solicitor, is one describing the putting of a crown in pawn, and another recording the re-warding of a goldsmith. The first reads—
 "Whereas, our well-beloved Sir Richard, Earl Arundell, has lent to us upon a crown of gold (coronne dor) with diamonds, sapphires, rubies and great pearls and a star (estelle) of gold, with rubies, diamonds, sapphires and great pearls, 2,000 livres. Deceit-fully, to be paid to him at the Feast of the Annunciation of Our Lady one thousand livres, and at the month of Easter following one thousand pounds, we have granted that in case the said Earl shall be in arrears of payment (i. e., if the payments to the said Earl fall into arrears) on the days aforesaid, he may of the said crown and star make his profit in any manner that pleases him without hindrance from us.
 "Given under our seal the twenty-fourth day of July.
 In October of the same year the Prince issues the following proclamation:—
 "Know that John Pecche, citizen of London, (Pecche is elsewhere mentioned as a goldsmith) is to receive from Richard Earl of Arundell a crown and star, once the King of France's (qui furent auroy de France) which we put in pledge to the aid in our great need (nostre grande besoign) for a certain sum of money."

PUSHCART LIBRARIES.

The pushcart libraries are a characteristic of New York as the famous book stalls along the Seine are of Paris or the book shops of old London. These rambling libraries are found in surprising variety. They are regularly licensed by the city, exactly as though vegetables or fish were being sold. In Manhattan alone there are more than 200 of these book hucksters, and they sell books printed in a score of different languages. The book hucksters find the crowded streets the most profitable, especially on the lower East Side, where marketing of all kinds is done for the most part out of doors.
 The books offered for sale are much more varied than might be expected. Some hucksters specialize in cheap paper editions of popular novels, others use their limited counter space only for school books, while often the most serious classics may be culled from these collections.
 There are many obvious advantages in patronizing the pushcart library. Their wares are temptingly displayed where he who runs may read. One may look over these wares at leisure, besides without feeling the obligation to purchase one might feel in a book store. The cheapness of the rent the book seller must meet again makes it possible for him to scale down his prices and offer genuine bargains.—New York Sun.

WOMEN WHO ARE ALWAYS TIRED

May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.
 Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R. F. D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.
 If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PICKLING SEASON

Frost last night September 9th, not much damage to tomato and cucumber vines, but the next may be more severe. What sense is there in putting off from time to time until pickling stock is unobtainable. Just now we can supply in any reasonable quantity, green tomatoes and ripe, small cucumbers and large, small pickling onions, red onions for chow, spice, peppers and choice pickling vinegar etc.—
 Last year we were compelled to cancel very small orders in this line. Call at our market place and leave the list of requirements, or if inconvenient to call, order by mail.
 Please remember we are doing a cash business, prices on application.
