Work has been commenced on the Elmira Branch Railway. This year $50,000 was appropriated for the purpose, but as the rights of way will be paid out of this, there will not be much left for construction work. It is the intention of the contractors Messrs Whitehead, this summer to cut away the wood with which the greater part of the line is covered and put in culverts. The line, which extends from Harmony to Elmira, is ten miles long and crosses the property of sixty six different farmers. The road for nearly all the distance is through heavy hardwood. The grades are all easy, the maximum being one per cent., and the sharpest curve is only four degrees, compared with fifteen and eighteen on the main line. The deepest cut will be sixteen feet and the highest fill thirty three feet. All the culverts will be of reinforced concrete. The engineer in charge is H. F. Lawrence.

Many and very sincere were the expressions of sorrow heard on every side last evening when it became known that Mrs. W. M. Coffin of this City had passed peacefully away her reward shortly before five o'clock in the afternoon.

For many months she had been laid aside by serious illness which recently had developed Spenic Anaemia. Most patiently she bore her weakness and suffering, and throughout all her illness her trust, and hopeful spirit never parted.

During the last few weeks her host of friends have been making anxious inquiries, and when the sad news was announced a heavy cloud was cast over the entire community.

Besides her children Ernest and Florence at home, her daughter Mrs. Rev. J. McInnis of Philadelphia, and son Robert of Boston have been with her during the last days of her illness.

Another son Dr. Joseph Coffin of Crook Road, N. B., was at home some weeks ago, and is expected to be present at the funeral services.

Mrs. Coffin was widely known, and loved by all who knew her well. She has been for many years associated with philanthropic organizations in the City and she was an unfailing and generous friend to the poor and needy.

For many years she has been one of the most active and valued members of Zion Presbyterian Church, and closely identified with all its interests. None could be more loyal than she and the congregation has suffered a serious loss in her demise.

At last evening's service her Pastor read touching reference to her death and paid a heart felt tribute to her beautiful Christian character and noble life.

An unusual interest is being taken in rifle shooting this year and every fine day riflemen may be seen practicing hard for the approaching matches. On Saturday, Capt. D. A. McKinnon made a "century" score at the 100, 500 and 600 yard ranges. On the 24th teams from different rifle associations will shoot in the "Daily Mail" match and it is expected the P. E. Island rifle men will give a good account of themselves. In addition to the Daily Mail match there will be a new Lee Enfield special match rifle put up as a prize, the score in the Daily Mail match to be taken to decide the winner although there may be other competitors outside of those shooting in the Daily Mail match providing they shoot at the same time as the others and at the same ranges. An entrance fee of $1 will be charged those wishing to compete for the rifle and if more money is received in entries than the cost of the rifle prize, the balance will be divided into three prizes and given to the makers of the second third and fourth best scores.

The oyster shell bark louse is one of the worst insect pests of the orchard. It is protected by a heavy scale one tenth of an inch in length and shaped somewhat like an elongated oyster shell. The young lice June when they possess legs and are active for a few days only. At this time they are soft and unprotected; there is only one brood in the year. Trees can be cleaned of them by use of the lime sulphur wash, where this can be readily applied the trees should be sprayed before the buds burst with the lime wash (2lbs. of fresh lime to a gallon of water) or when the young insects hatch with kerosene emulsion. Many trees die annually in this Province on account of this scale insect and fruit growers should go over their trees carefully before the busy season begins.

Lime (Fresh) 20lbs. Sulphur, powdered 10 lbs. Water to make 40 gallons. Slack the lime with only water enough to do it thoroughly. Add the sulphur by dusting it over the lime while slacking it; stir well and boil for at least an hour, adding only so much water as is necessary for easy straining. When thoroughly cooked, strain through packing and apply blood hot; if too hot however, the rubber hose becomes softened and brass connections come out.

THURSDAY.

Prince Edward Island is finding a new market for its potatoes in the Canadian west. Every day shipments are going through this port. There are two schooners in with full cargoes and the S. S. Enterprise came in yesterday with 3,000 bags, while the regular boats have them daily as part of their cargo. The freight is 94 cents per hundred pounds so that the fruit of the earth must find a big price when it reaches Calgary and other western centres.—Picton Advocate.

S. J. Moore, Seed Inspector for the Maritime Provinces, accompanied by E. D. Eddy, of the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, have been in the Province on a special inspecting tour, each taking different territory, completing the work begun by Mr. Moore a month ago, and covering the Province thoroughly. They visited all the stores where seeds are sold and inspected every variety kept in stock, using the microscope for the finer seeds, and carefully examining the grain to see that it came within the requirements of the Seed Control Act. Asked by a reporter to give his opinion of the quality of the seed sold in the Province Mr. Eddy said that he had been over a large portion of Ontario, the Eastern Townships, Quebec before coming to this Province. On the whole the quality of the seed sold in this Province is superior to that sold in the other mentioned places. The dealers appear to be more anxious to handle high class seed than in the past, and a considerable quantity of Alsike clover which had been purchased by a Farmers' Institute at a price said to be three cents per pound below what another firm had quoted for guaranteed No. 1 seed. This seed, when examined, was found to contain noxious weeds at the rate of 100 per ounce, or 1900 per pound. On this basis the farmer on buying this seed will save three cents and secure 1600 weed seeds or over 500 weed seeds for every cent he saves in the price. This illustrates the folly of purchasing seed which is not No. 1 in regard to freedom from noxious weeds. It is regrettable that some farmers' institutes, as well as individual farmers "should practice such false economy. If the farmers as a whole would unite in demanding nothing but the first quality goods, the dealers would be found ready to respond. The inspectors found only a small percentage of Island grown seed for sale. The clover was of inferior quality but Mr. Moore saw some timothy as good as the best imported. Two years ago he found a considerable quantity of Alsike clover in this Province which was of fair quality, but for some inexplicable reason there was a decrease in the supply. It is doubtful whether clover can be profitably grown here, "but you can grow where," said Mr. Moore. Of all the seeds sold here suspected to be of inferior quality, the inspectors found only a small percentage of Island grown seed for sale. The annual meeting of the North River group of Baptist churches was held on Friday evening at Clyde River. The meeting was a large and representative one. Many kind words were spoken concerning Pastor Corwall and his work during the past two years, and a unanimous call was extended to him to remain another year. Mr. Corwall had many good things to say concerning the uniform kindness of his people and The Guardian with his friends hope Mr. Corwall will remain where he has done such good and satisfactory work.

He was born at Hope River, but for a number of years resided at Stanley Bridge, and subsequently at Tryon, where he has been engaged in farming. He leaves a widow, nee Mary Ellen Clarke, daughter of the late pastor of the Baptist Church, one son John, on the homestead, and his daughters, Mrs. Arthur of Alberton, and Bertha in the Northwest. Garrett of Murray Harbor, survive him. The funeral takes place at 2 p. m. today at Tryon Cemetery.

At the meeting of the P. E. I. Presbytery held in St. James Hall yesterday morning Rev. E. Smith's resignation of the pastoral charge of Cardigan was accepted. Mr. Smith said he severed his connection with the congregation on and after the last Sabbath in June. Messrs Goff and McConnell commissioners from Cardigan made a very strong plea to retain Mr. Smith as minister and minister and spoke feelingly of the good work done by him in Cardigan. As a man and as a minister Mr. Smith was greatly beloved by everybody. The congregation made steady progress under his ministry and is in good hope. His resignation was not reconsidered by Mr. Smith if possible to reconsider his resignation, and said that the loss of Mr. Smith, his wife and family would be greatly felt in the community and that the congregation desired that he should remain as their pastor. Mr. Smith thanked the commissioners for their kind words and knew that they were sincere, nevertheless, inasmuch as he had accepted a position on the staff of the Presbyterian Witness he felt compelled to adhere to his resignation. Rev. Malcolm McLeod of Dundas was appointed interim moderator of Cardigan session and D. B. McLeod of Montague.

The dread message of death visited the home of Mrs. Dugdale Peters, St. Mary's Road on the 23rd inst. and took therefrom a dearly beloved son and brother, John Denis at the age of sixteen years. He leaves to mourn six brothers and four sisters. He wore his illness with true Christian fortitude and patience. The last rites of the Roman Catholic Church administered by his pastor Rev. Fr. McAulay comforted him in his last hours. His remains were tenderly laid to rest in St. Anne's Cemetery, Fr. McAulay officiating. The pallbearers were, Joseph Gault, John Redmond, Joseph Blaquiere, Florence Doiron, Angus Peters and Peter Gault. Miss Cora L. Docherty of Cherry Valley, had the pleasure of plucking from her "American Wonder Lemon Plant" on the fifth of May last, one perfectly formed and ripened lemon, which weighed seven ounces and measured nine inches around. This is the second lemon that has been grown on the plant. The first one ripened in January 1908, and was converted into a delicious lemon pie. The plant with its large dark green foliage is beautiful as well as useful, and as there is three bunches of bloom on the plant, Miss Docherty naturally expects more of the golden southern fruit to be grown in her P. E. Island, window garden—it Cherry Valley, Com.

Farmers should read carefully the letter by S. J. Moore and E. D. Eddy, Seed Inspectors for the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, which appeared in The Guardian Tuesday. It is of the greatest importance to every farmer that he procure the best and purest seed that can be bought regardless of price, and that Mr. Eddy stated, it is regrettable that some Farmer's Institutes, as well as individual farmers, practise such false economy by buying cheap getting six hundred noxious weed seeds (and perhaps three times as many) to the pound of clover seed for the sake of saving a paltry two or three cents per lb., instead of buying the best which is offered by reliable seedsmen at a fair price. It is really beyond comprehension, in the face of all that has been said and done by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The farmer gets five hundred and many more noxious weed seeds for every cent he saves in the price. Not only this, but he can diversify his seed, in cheap, crasy seeds to cater to his whims. Quality should be the first and all-important consideration.
