The Britannia Manufacturing Co., Ltd., of Halifax, whose ad appears in this issue, are out again with the leading styles in ladies' suits, skirts, shirtwaists etc., for the fall and winter season. This firm, which manufactures its own garments, is a very large exporter, and now disposes of its goods through retail firms, as it finds it can give much better satisfaction and a larger range of choice selling direct to the retailer, and has now two travellers direct from the house as well as four commissioned travellers in Ontario and the West. The greatly increased output is being ably handled, the firm employing four first-class expert tailors assisted by seventy six males and females, making in all a competent staff of eighty persons, with a payroll of upwards of $25,000 a year. The great increase in the making of coats and suits is no doubt due to the exceptional style and perfect fit of the collars and shoulders of the Britannia garments. The decided change in the style of the new skirts is another taking feature and they are now principally trimmed with the effective buttons and loops, so much worn, and as the materials are always thoroughly shrunken and made perfect in fit and drape they keep their shape until worn out, thus insuring the wearer the comfort of the most advanced style with perfect grace and symmetry of figure. The firm's traveller J. G. Fraser, is expected in this city today to call upon the trade.
