To Electors of Ward Four

Ladies and Gentlemen:

On February 10th the citizens of Charlottetown select those who will constitute the governing body of this City for the next two years. At that time it is my intention to offer as a candidate to serve the interests of the people of Ward Four.

As a practical business man, and as a resident with an intense love for my City I would consider it at once my duty and my pleasure to promote every legitimate object that would have as its ultimate aim the improvement of our City.

Realizing the fact that as a city we cannot stand still, we must advance, my watchword would be "Economic Advancement" along all lines necessary for the growth of a progressive city, and a prosperous citizenship.

It is not my purpose to personally interview every voter before the election, but should I receive your endorsement all electors will find me at their service after the election.

With a hearty appreciation of your kind support,
Respectfully yours,

Election Card

To the Electors of Ward Five Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having decided to again offer as a candidate for Councillor in Ward Five, I respectfully solicit your votes and influence on Feb. 10th next.

For four years I have had the honor of being one of your representatives at our Council Board. During that time I have endeavored to do my best for the advancement of our city in general and Ward Five in particular.

Permanent civic improvement and the beautifying of our city must be continued but only in keeping with our revenue.

Thanking you for your generous support in the past, and soliciting a continuance of same at the coming election.

I am,
Respectfully Yours

Genoa they proceeded to Rome, passing through the Riviera, viewing some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. Although it was the first week in December, it was like an ideal summer's day in Prince Edward Island, the people being at work in the fields.

They arrived at Rome on Monday, December 7th. They spent six weeks in and around that city, leaving for home on January 17th.

This was the third visit of Bishop O'Leary to Rome, but the first of Father MacDonald and Father Monaghan. The latter two made a number of side trips through northern and southern Italy.

During their stay at Rome they had the privilege of being present at the closing of the holy door by Pope Pius the eleventh, in the vestibule of St. Peter's Basilica. This door, which is one of three in the great cathedral was through which thousands of pilgrims passed in 1925—Holy Year. It was closed by His Holiness with elaborate ceremony, not to be reopened until the next Jubilee year, twenty-five years hence.

They attended the Papal Mass celebrated by His Holiness himself on the 31st of January, in connection with the proclamation of the Feast of the Sovereignty of Christ in the world. They took part in the procession, and were near the chapel altar during the ceremony. The Basilica holds about sixty thousand and about forty to fifty thousand people were present on the occasion referred to.

There were in the procession from 150 to 200 Bishops and 20 to 25 Cardinals from different parts of the world.

Another occasion they saw the Pope at the Papal consistory bestowed red hats on a number of Cardinals.

An interesting visit was that to the catacombs of Rome to the tombs of Saint Callistus and Saint Sebastian, and they offered up Mass on the tomb of Saint Cecilia. While the Bishop remained in Rome, Father MacDonald and Father Monaghan visited the northern part of Italy, accompanied by Father Gavin Monaghan, of Charlottetown, a student at the Canadian College. They were in Florence, Padua, Venice, Bologna and Milan. They also visited the

SIR HENRY THORNTON DISCUSSES BUSINESS WITH BUSINESS MEN

Canada's Hope, he Declares, Lies in Increased Immigration, the Retention in Canada of Natural Resources and Natural Power, Manufacture of Canada's Raw Material by Canadian Labor and Canadian Power.

(Special to the Guardian)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 2.—Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways in an address delivered before the Young Men's Canadian Club here tonight dealt in a business man's way, with the railway problem of Canada, and intimated that the solution lies in immigration so that the unsettled arable lands of the nation can be broken to the plow and turned into productive farms.

"While we have shown a measurable progress in that the lines have been rehabilitated and our net operating earnings have increased from less than $3,000,000 in 1922 to approximately $32,000,000 in 1925, they do not meet the annual capital requirements," he said.

"We must remember that a large part of the lines were built in advance of settlement and for the purpose of opening up the country, therefore if the result of our net earnings do not meet the fixed charges we must remember the character of the mileage. One of our objects, and I might say our duty, is to try and secure settlers to open up and build this territory. For there is no way that the indebtedness incurred can be wiped out on this mileage on which the money was spent, there is no scheme of amalgamation or sale we can wipe it out, and repudiation of the debt we cannot contemplate as Canadians."

Taking for his theme "Citizenship," Sir Henry sketched the evolution of his ideals in the British peoples from the times of feudalism, and pointed out that within the course of years obligations increased as men's vision expanded and their knowledge of world affairs were brought more forcibly into their minds. Fortunately there was an international system of commerce. To day the obligations of citizenship are manifold he added, and a man to be a good citizen must of necessity be a close student of the various problems which confront the nation in a national and international way.

"The coming of the railway and telegraph entirely altered the course of citizenship in Canada," Sir Henry stated. "Where previously community interest reigned it later became provincial, then national and lastly international. Our interests widen as our commerce develops, therefore we must think in broad terms with the perfecting of our complex commercial relations there is no town or village which may not be affected by some international complication that may arise. And if we are to exert intelligently our rights as citizens we must be in a position to pass judgment upon such questions, to the best advantage of the nation."

In speaking of the future of Canada, Sir Henry stated that a short time ago he spoke to one of the noted American economists, a banker of national repute, and that this banker had stated that he knew of no country which stood on the threshold of an era of so great prosperity as did Canada.

"We have three factors for success," Sir Henry said, "our soil, our mineral wealth and our water power. Great developments are now taking place on the Saguenay which will produce 3,000,000 horse power, and work is just starting which will employ 4,000 men. Fully $100,000,000 has been invested, and do you think men who do invest that immense sum would do so if they had no faith in the future of Canada. This development gives an instance of the alluring attraction of our "white coal" to capital, and I am in accord with those who refuse to export our power, to foreign countries. This power is part of our great natural resources and we should use it to bring manufacturers to our country. If they want to take advantage of it they should come here and give employment to our workmen."

Sir Henry paid a high tribute to the ideals of citizenship as exemplified by the British commonwealth of nations, declared that it would be a world calamity should the empire disintegrate. He advocated making the ties between Canada and the Empire tighter each year. In conclusion, he recalled the Canadian National railway belongs to the people, their officers and men are dedicated to that purpose, Canadians had no greater assets than the spirit which animates them. I only ask you to help them as good citizens to carry on their work to help Canada."

SAINTS TRIMMED BY EX-SAINTS TO TUNE OF TWO TO ONE

Ex-Saint Dunstan's proved too many for the First Saints hockey team last night, winning over their younger opponents by a score of two to one. The game was watched by a large collection of fans and although raged and it was a little slow, provided on the whole a very interesting exhibition.

The old boys no doubt owe their victory to the fact that they played a good combination game, though the college boys would have had a better chance for victory if they hadn't had MacAleer to contend with in the nets, the Ex-Saint goalie putting up a splendid game, and making many sensational stops. Gillis too, guarding the Saint's cage gave a stellar exhibition and turned aside shot after shot.

The scoring for the Ex-Saints was done by Cronin, while the college's lone tally was chalked up by Cassidy. One goal was scored in each of the three periods, with a tie at the end of the second. The last stanza was perhaps the best of the three and kept the fans right on their toes, both teams working like Trojans to gain the decision, and both net tenders being constantly kept on the job.

The first period was the Saints kept almost entirely on enemy ice. But they frequently resorted to long shots, many from half ice, and all of these were easy pickings for the opposing net minder. In the final stages of the period Cassidy managed to get by MacAleer for the first score, amid loud cheering by too many for the First Saints hockey team. Dunstan's settled down to combination, with the result that they were soon peppering the Ex-Saints, and it was not long before Cronin found a vulnerable spot and banged home the rubber. The final score of the game came in the last minutes of the third period, but not too late for the Saints to make strenuous efforts to at least equalize the score. But notwithstanding their best efforts every shot was skillfully blocked, and they were forced to swallow the bitter pill of defeat.

The game throughout was featured by many exciting moments, and although the players showed a remarkably consistent game special mention should be made of the work done by Cassidy, McDonald, Keefe, and Campbell for the Saints, and by Kelly Cronin Aylward, and Doyle for the Ex-Saints.

The line-ups were as follows:

St. Dunstons	Goal	MacAleer
Gillis	Defence	Murphy
McDonald	Forwards	Kelly
Flemming		Cronin
McMillan		Blanchard
Keefe		Dougan
Laveque		Campbell
Cassidy		DesRoches
O'Brien		McDonald
		Doncette
		Referee—"Chic" Williams.

LITTLE HARBOUR SCHOOL

The semi-annual examination and Christmas tree was held in Little Harbour School on December 23rd. In spite of the inclemency of the weather about fifty were present, including parents and visitors from other districts.

The pupils were examined by their teacher H. M. Keays and showed by their ready answers that good work had been done both by teacher and pupils during the year.

At the close of the examination the following programme was carried out:

Speech of Welcome, Roderick Johnston; Dialogue, (The Force of Imagination), B. Power, J. Power, M. MacPhee, L. Sutherland; Recitation, (Christmas Morning), Richard Power; Recitation, (Harry's Arithmetic), William Power; Dialogue, (Christmas Presents), Marion Sutherland, Catherine Johnston; Recitation, (When Helen Speaks her Heart), William MacDonald; Recitation, (Jimmie's Letter to Santa Claus), Donald MacDonald; Dialogue, (Agent and the Farmer), Joseph Campbell and Felix MacFhee; Recitation, (The Turkey's Lament), Frances Campbell; Recitation, (When Christmas Comes), Loretta Sutherland; Monologue, (Unfortunate Bessie), Josephine Power; Dialogue, (A Slight Misunderstanding), Anna Johnston and Jimmie Sutherland; Recitation, (The Man Behind the Plow), Francis Campbell.

Santa Claus then appeared and amid shouts of welcome proceeded to the front of the room and assisted by Miss B. Warren distributed presents to the teacher and pupils from the nicely decorated tree.

Mr. W. F. Power complimented the pupils on their work and the teacher on her efforts in getting up the entertainment. Lunch was served to the pupils and visitors by the ladies of the district.

THE MARKETS

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 2.—There were no further developments in the domestic grain trade on the Montreal market today. Prices for oats were maintained with little business done owing to the fact that the demand continues to be confined to local and country requirements and the absence of orders from foreign sources on workable basis. The demand for spring wheat grades of flour continues small with prices the same as yesterday. Winter wheat was about steady with the recent change in prices noted, but the demand showed no improvement. The demand for most lines of millfeed continues to be steady with supplies none too large. Prices remain firm and unchanged. The baled hay market was quiet and the undertone to the market was easy, with prices unchanged. From eggs were easier today with business done in fresh extras at 40 to 48, firsts at 43 to 44, and seconds at 35 to 36 per dozen. American fresh eggs sold 40¢ cents per dozen. There was no improvement on storage eggs and prices were about the same as yesterday. The potato market was steady and prices advanced 10 to 25 cents per bag for Quebec at $3 to $3.40 per 90 lbs bag. The undertone to the market for butter was strong and prices were fully maintained. Trading in cheese showed no change with prices unchanged.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 2.—(Eggs) Receipts for fresh eggs have been lighter at some consuming centres during the past few days. United States fresh are reported wholesaling Toronto at 40 cents. Toronto local fresh unchanged. Ontario country shippers are paying extras 36, firsts 34, seconds 25 and making 23 and 30 lbs. Montreal market quiet with storage unchanged in tone and price. Winnipeg market for fresh easy under increasing receipts. Prices at country points, extras 35, firsts 30, seconds 20. Saskatchewan wholesalers offering at country points extras 27 to 30 firsts 25 to 27 seconds 20, cases included. Calgary consumptive demand improving. Edmonton steady under lighter receipts. Vancouver local fresh firmer jobbing extras 33 to 35, firsts 31 to 33, seconds and pullets 25. Charlottetown, P. E. I. eggs firmer under better demand. Wholesalers offering country points extras 33, firsts 25, seconds 23.
