WHEN NEWS IS NEWS—Esteemed correspondents are reminded that a daily newspaper is not a book of history, and are requested to send in news for publication within at least a week of their happening. The Guardian recently received several reports, especially long notices, which have reached us long after the event occurred. "News while it is news" is the slogan.

PAINFUL INJURY—Mr. Edward Kennedy, resident of the Charlottetown Hospital suffering from broken ribs sustained when he was thrown from a sleigh after his horse became frightened and ran away. He was brought to the city by the eastern train Tuesday and conveyed by ambulance to the hospital.

P. E. I. ORPHANAGE—At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on Tuesday, Mrs. H. S. Henderson, the Vice-President, gave a statement of the year's transactions reporting a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $227.30. It was satisfactory to all interested to know that the institution is free of debt and is one of the few institutions that shows each year a small surplus due largely to the Ladies Auxiliaries, who last year collected the sum of $4,187 of which auxiliaries Mrs. Henderson is the directing force.—P. E. I. Agriculturist.

ARRESTED IN MONCTON—Russell White and Albert Crosby said to be Prince Edward Island transients and wanted in Bathurst for theft, hopped off an east-bound C. N. R. train Monday and shortly after found themselves behind the bars in Moncton's lockup. Arrested by Constables Neil Mackinnon and Ernest Grosman, of the city police force, the men admitted stealing two overcoats and a scarf in a Bathurst hotel, police said. The goods were recovered. The Moncton police had little trouble picking the men out on the street as they have both been locked up here before on other charges.—Moncton Times.

POND PROJECT DISCUSSED—The subject of government assistance in the relief project of cleaning out Government Pond was discussed by Mayor Turner and Councilors Chandler and Hennessey with the Provincial Government last night. The civic representatives anticipate a favorable answer today. If government aid is forthcoming, it is hoped to start the project immediately, as it is believed the work can be done without inconvenience to residents in the vicinity, during the winter months. It would also help to meet the present urgent demand for employment.

In Memoriam

MR. JOHN D. MACMILLAN

The death occurred in the Prince Edward Island Hospital Tuesday evening of John D. Macmillan, of Charlottetown, retired customs collector who was in his 73rd year.

Mr. Macmillan entered the hospital on Sunday, after he had suffered a stroke of paralysis. For the past three years he had been in failing health.

After graduating from Prince of Wales College Mr. Macmillan taught school for a number of years, then took a business course at the Charlottetown Business College. He subsequently became Business Manager for the Patriot Publishing Company, resigning about 38 years ago when he was appointed to the Treasurer's Department of the Provincial Government.

On October 15, 1907, he entered the Customs service and later became chief clerk. He was appointed Collector on December 1, 1924, retiring on December 16, 1930 on superannuation.

He was a member of the Oddfellows for many years, being first initiated in January 1893 and received his third degree the following month. He was Noble Grand of St. Lawrence Lodge from January 1st to June 30, 1895.

Mr. Macmillan during his career fully maintained the high traditions and upright character so characteristic of his Scottish ancestry. He came of a family that was deservedly held in high esteem not only in the Belfast district but in other parts of the province.

He discharged the duties of the various positions which he held most intelligently, faithfully and efficiently, his relations with the public being always marked by a courtesy and kindness which won for him many friends, who will learn with deep regret the sad news of his passing.

He was fond of reading and found recreation and inspiration in good literature.

His wife, nee Alice Macmillan, daughter of the late Hector Macmillan, at one time Provincial Government Engineer, died in February 1915.

Mr. Macmillan leaves to mourn one son, Hector C., of Sydney, and six daughters, Mrs. George T. Medforth, Amherst; Mrs. A. G. Banks, Halifax; Mrs. A. R. Gillis, Mrs. J. S. Macdonald, Misses Jean and Marion Macmillan of Charlottetown; also two brothers, James C. Macmillan, Wood Islands, and Donald Macmillan in New Zealand.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. A. R. Gillis, 175 Euston Street, to Sherwood Cemetery.

Service will begin at 2 p. m. funeral leaving at 2:30.

Vices which you have rendered on behalf of the ex-service men, not only in this city, but throughout the Province.

We, of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion, have known you intimately for many years, and have always found you ready and willing on any and every occasion to assist in all the various phases of our undertakings, not only as a member of our organization, but as an executive officer and as a Past President of our Branch, your ability has been demonstrated.

In the Provincial Command, we are not only losing your services as treasurer, but your genial presence, wise counsel, will be greatly missed at our future meetings. We must also make reference to your duties as an administrator of the Canteen Fund, so capably executed to the satisfaction of the existing powers, as well as to the beneficiaries.

We would ask you to accept this small gift as a token of remembrance from the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion and Provincial Command of this Province, and we trust that your stay in the neighboring Province of Nova Scotia may be pleasant and that, in the not too distant future we may have the opportunity of welcoming yourself, your wife and daughter, back to this, your native Province.

Signed on behalf of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion: J. S. WALKER, Pres., B. W. WONNACOTT, Secty. Signed on behalf of the Provincial Command of the Province of Prince Edward Island: R. C. HANDLER, 1st vice pres GEO. E. SHERRAN, Secty.

That Body of Yours

THE PROBLEM OF THE CROSS-EYED CHILD

One of the distressing conditions that brings sorrow to the hearts of parents is to discover that their youngsters has a cross or squint. In their minds they picture the child attending school, the thoughts but cruel comments on the disfigurement, the inferiority complex which may develop within the child, and the handicap to social and financial progress.

These cross-eyed children are usually bright mentally which makes their suffering both from the kindness of some and the ridicule of others, all the more poignant.

Dr. Le Grand H. Hardy, New York in the Sight Saving Review, the journal published by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, says:

"Three important aspects of the problem of the cross-eyed child are: (1) cosmetic (the disfigurement due to the cross-eye), (2) psychological (the effect upon the child's feelings), and (3) functional (cross-eyes are an unpleasant disfigurement, an embarrassment both to the victim and to those about him. Friendly but tactless interest in this misfortune often has had effects and the attention of the child should not be called to his affliction).

From the psychological standpoint (feelings of the child) if the child is later to develop into a healthy, normal adult he should not be laughed at or ridiculed, or kept away from the company of other youngsters. He can't develop in a normal manner (through hood or girlhood) with a squint or cross eye." Thus something should be done immediately the squint has been discovered.

There are five general means for treatment of cross-eyes.

First, a careful testing of the eyes under "drops."

Second, an accurate fitting of glasses. Glasses may be fitted and worn by children less than a year old.

Third, the cross-eye is aroused, stimulated and developed.

Fourth, the child is taught to use his eyes in a normal way by the efforts of some one who can arouse the child's interest and enthusiasm.

Fifth, is surgery. If the above four steps have been followed and squint persists (as it does in about half the cases), an operation becomes necessary.

I believe this clear statement from Dr. Hardy should be a guide to parents and to physicians also.
