Farewell Presentation

On the evening April 30th a large number of people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McEwen for the purpose of bidding farewell to Mr. Wesley W. Keefe who had been the efficient manager of the Stanley Bridge Cheese and Butter Factory for the past twenty years.

After a few pleasant hours spent in music and games the gathering was called to order by the chairman Mr. J. H. Simpson who then asked Dr. J. E. Fleming to read the following address:
To Mr. Wesley W. Keefe—Hearing that you were leaving Stanley Bridge we, your friends, have met here tonight to say farewell and to wish you good fortune wherever your lot may be cast. For the past twenty years you have been the most successful manager of the Stanley Bridge Dairying Co., and you have given entire satisfaction for your honesty, integrity, diligence and constant attendance to business. The products of our factory have always commanded the highest price although at times the raw material at your disposal was not always of the best quality. We also know and appreciate that you always took advantage of every opportunity available to further your knowledge to improve the manufacture of butter and cheese. You were the first in P. E. I. to make the 5 lb. cheese which has become so popular and also the first to manufacture whey butter and you have since made it so well that it took an expert to detect it from creamery butter. We shall miss your cheerfulness and coming amongst us, your ready smile and your wise remarks often hidden under an amusing story. In conclusion we ask you to accept this little token of our appreciation and hope that your future years may be most happy.
Mr. Keefe replied as follows:
Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: This farewell party tonight has been a great surprise to me. I wish to thank you all for your very complimentary address and gift. Having been in the cheese business for many years I have been very fortunate in having been employed by J. H. Simpson, Miss Katherine Taylor and the present Secretary H. S. McEwen and the settling up of each year's business has been as pleasant as our meeting here tonight. To the patrons I thank you for the kind words you have given me and also the school children who have always shown the greatest respect. To Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McEwen for their kindness in giving their home this evening. May they have health, happiness and prosperity in the years to come. I have given my best service to the business and am sure it was fairly well appreciated. Wishing you all a successful year and many of them.
Wesley W. Keefe

Address And Presentation

The members of the West Point Women's Institute, together with a number of friends assembled at the home of Mrs. E. J. Sabine, on Wednesday evening April 25, to bid farewell to their retiring Secretary Miss Flora E. Boulter, who has also been a faithful member for four years. An address was read by Mrs. William Stewart and a beautiful silver Casserole was presented by the President, Miss Edna Stewart, as a token of appreciation from the members. A very pleasant evening was spent in games, contests and music, and delicious ice cream and cake was served by the ladies.

Dear Flora—It becomes my duty on behalf of the members of West Point Women's Institute, assembled here tonight to remind you that you, our Secretary and able assistant in all our Institute work, have been a blessing to us. Needless to say we shall miss you, not only in our Institute, but also in our everyday community life, as you have been such a willing helper in all our undertakings, and faithfully attended every meeting while with us. Recalling the pleasant years spent in our midst, we, your friends present to you this Casserole as a token of high esteem and we trust that the piping hot and tasty dishes served up in it, may be a daily reminder of the years spent among us. Signed on behalf of the West Point Women's Institute. Edna Stewart—President. Lulu Sabine—Secretary.

RINGWOOD W. I.

Despite very wet weather the Ringwood Women's Institute held a very successful and enjoyable meeting on Thursday evening, May 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Nelson Currie. The president presided, and the meeting opened in the usual way. After roll call the minutes of last meeting were read and approved, and correspondence and questionnaires were dealt with. Members paid their subscriptions to the Institute News. A discussion followed regarding the mat recently hooked by the members. It was decided to order posts for the school fence, towels for the school and to make candy for the young people's play next week. After the business part of the meeting a cat contest was held among the members. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and a pleasant social hour followed. With the National Anthem the meeting closed, next meeting to be held in the school-house on the evening of May 31st.

HAND ON SHOULDER SPOILT GAND SLAM

CHICAGO, May 4—There's nothing like a "powerhouse" hand to grip and hold a budge enthusiast—thought Harold Freeman until last night.

Vying with nearly 1,100 other contract bridge players in a tournament, Freeman found himself with a grand slam hand. The bidding reached its peak and Freeman was about to play when an attendant tapped him on the shoulder. Freeman turned, annoyed, and the attendant spoke: "Pardon me, sir, but we have just received a message that your wife is being taken to the hospital. You are about to become a father." Freeman dropped his cards and dashed out. A substitute made the grand slam.

TIRED?

That tired feeling doesn't always come from overwork. It is, at least, partly the result of a body that is out of tune. In such cases CHIROPRACTIC offers a means of relief that is readily available, inexpensive and safe. Foot adjusting included when necessary.

FREE TRADE REJECTED AS POLICY

(C.P. by Guardian's Special Wire) By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., May 3—After rejecting a demand for immediate return to free trade, the National Liberal party conference tonight adopted the statement of policy which calls for gradual abolition of protection and condemns the Ottawa trade pact as hampering general trade.

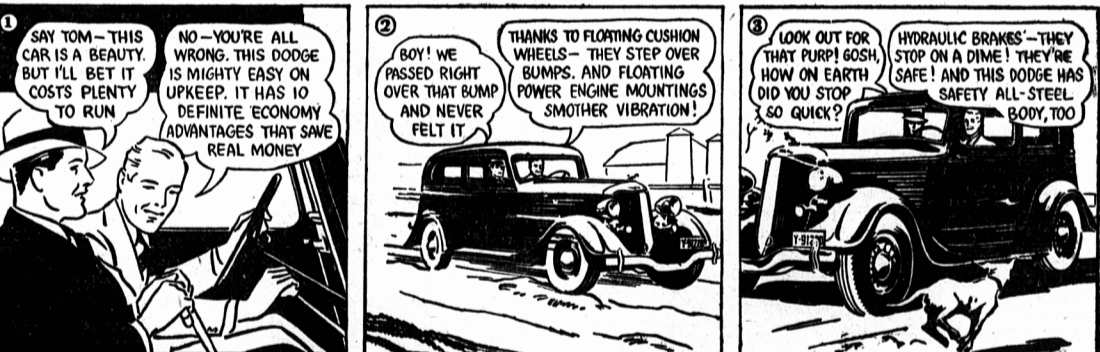

It and when the Liberals return to power the return from the protective system, instituted by the National Government two years ago, will be by gradual stages, the Conference decided in endorsing the report. A Lancashire plea that the party which in power should have Britain give a lead to the world in free trade was rejected. The official statement of policy entitled "The Liberal Way" will however be re-phrased in order to make plain to any doubters that the party still stands for free trade. Included in the policy is a general denunciation of the trade agreements signed on the grounds they materially increased trade barriers in the international field, resulting in no increase in Empire trade volume but merely transferred trade from foreign countries and tied the hands of Britain in negotiations with foreign countries.
