

The Children Will Catch Cold

Mothers should never neglect the first signs of a cold or cough where their children are concerned, for if they do some serious lung trouble is liable to follow.

Mrs. B. T. Hubby, 1025 Barrington St., Halifax, N.S. writes:—"The children are continually getting colds, but I have no trouble with them, for just as soon as they begin to cough I give them a dose of which breaks up the cold within a day or so. I get great results out of it and would not be without it for anything. I can highly recommend it to any one."

Price 85c. a bottle; large family size 60c.; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CHAPTER XXVII
The Horse Race

That night they had horse races on the deck. Sally had never been so excited in her life. There were six horses in each race, and the assistant pursers acted as "bookies", one for each horse.

At dinner little folded cards had been tucked under each plate—scorecards of the four races. Sally read her own name and exclaimed excitedly, "Myra, I have a horse."

Then she saw Myra's name, too; they both had horses. How wonderful!

Myra laughed at her enthusiasm. "Mr. Allen had probably bought a horse for you," she said evenly. John Rigby had told her that afternoon that he had purchased one for her.

A space on the deck was roped off and the passengers all stood around it. Myra and Sally, with four other women, were slated to throw the dice. It was all very exciting.

The race course had been marked on the deck with chalk. The six women sat at the head of the race course and the purser stood behind them. As each threw a dice from a little leather cup he would call out the number of the spaces for the stewards to move the wooden horses forward.

Sally threw. She was No. 6. The purser's voice behind her called, "No. 6 moves five." No. 6 was her horse.

She saw the steward move her horse forward five spaces. From her seat she could see the black names written on it in white chalk.

most over. The next throw of the dice would decide everything.

No. 1 moved five, but was too far behind to count. No. 2 moved two. No. 3—No. 3—moved one. The race lay between No. 3 and No. 6.

Sally's heart was leaping wildly. "Come on, Sinner, good old Sinner." Again it was her turn to throw, and the die rattled out on the table.

Behind her, as if in a dream, she heard the purser's voice: "No. 6 moves four. No. 6 wins! The race is over!"

Sally sprang impetuously to her feet. Sinner had won. The green slips she had purchased from the "bookies" dropped from her lap in her excitement. Ritchie and Alden, who had been standing near, retrieved them and handed them to her with a smile. He had watched her from the time the race had started. Those dark

No. 1—Owner, Mrs. W. M. Warren—Name.—Moloch.
She skipped the other four horses, and came to her own.
No. 6—Owner, Mrs. P. W. Bates.—Name.—Sinner.
She loved the name Mr. Allen had chosen for her horse. Suppose Sinner should win! Just a supposition!

The woman next to her was throwing the dice from the little leather cup. Now it was her turn again.

Her fingers shook as she rattled the cup frantically. The white die with its black dots clicked out on the table.

Behind her the purser said evenly, "No. 6 moves six."
Sinner was leading. He had passed No. 3. The race was al-eyes of his, brown eyes, flecked with amber, hadn't moved from her child, excited face.

He could hear her now as she had rushed up to him after dinner that evening. "Did you buy me that horse? And what an adorable name! Sinner! I was so excited at dinner that I didn't eat a thing."

And then, wide blue eyes meeting dark ones, for just the fraction of an instant. How little it took to make her happy!

"You'd better cash in your slips and collect your money," he said with a laugh. He felt almost as young as Sally and as light-hearted. Her enthusiasm was contagious. And all around them was the sea sparkling under a round, silver moon.

If your Stomach and Liver are weak, your food is not digested. This causes food to be held up in your body. The usual result is constipation, which causes bad breath, headache and severe gas pains. For 54 years, people have sensibly corrected this condition by using Chamberlain's Tablets for the Stomach and Liver. They help the digestive organs stop chronic constipation. Topic for the Week
"MAN IS A SPIRIT"
Monday

"Spiritual Relations are Primary"

SCRIPTURE: Read—Galatians 3:1-14.

"Except one be born anew (from above), he cannot see the kingdom of God" (Jn. 3:3). "The water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up into eternal life" (Jn. 4:14). "And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind" (Rom. 12:2).

See—Galatians 6:150; James 1:18; 1 Peter 1:23.

MEDITATION: God is in the fire, the plant, the animal. There are higher types of life in which we discern love, joy, peace and all the fruits of the spirit. I may have all the rest, but without the fruits of the spirit I shall fail. I must have right heart relation with the great heart of the heavenly Father. If I am to be a full-sized man I must be "born from above." I bow therefore in prayer, waiting upon God for his work of friendship.

"That which makes me glad is not what I get, but what I am, and what I am depends on the Spirit."

HYMN: Beneath the cross of Jesus I fain would take my stand.— The shadow of a mighty rock Within a weary land. A home within the wilderness, A rest upon the way, From the burning of the noon-tide heat, And the burden of the day.

Upon that cross of Jesus Mine eye at times can see The very dying form of One Who suffered there for me; And from my smitten heart with tears Two wonders I confess.— The wonders of His glorious love And my unworthiness.

PRAYER: Pray for—the true "birth from above;" solution of our problems; establishment of God's kingdom.

Collect—Heavenly Father, whose tender mercies compel our love, we thank Thee for the gift of Christ our Saviour. In Him our shortcomings are filled up; our sicknesses of soul are healed; our rebellions of spirit are quelled. For salvation full and free we bless Thee. In the presence of Thy outpouring of love our selfishness stands revealed. Breathe into us of Thy spirit that we may be strong to forsake sin, to overcome temptation and to live in the light which Christ supplies. O our Father, grant us to know something of Thy passion of love. Help us to proclaim the gospel to all mankind. Record our pledge before Thee that we will exalt the things of the spirit. Amen.

months to 16 years he leaves to mourn two brothers and three sisters, viz. James in Northern Ontario, Daniel in Winnipeg, Mrs. Hector McConnell, Piquet; Mrs. Robert W. Jay, Mt. Stewart; and Mrs. Melvin Jay, Covehead Road.

Just why one so full of promise and apparently so much needed should thus be called away seems hard for us to understand yet knowing God's wisdom and love let us submit to His will for it is written, "Not my will but Thine be done."

The funeral service at the house was conducted by the Rev. W. K. Charman, pastor of the United Church at Mt. Stewart. The hymns sung were The 23rd Psalm, "Asleep in Jesus" and "Rock of Ages."

The following floral tributes were received:

The pall bearers were six brothers Orangenem, viz. L. E. Jay, H. Lloyd Jay, Edwin McAssey, Geo. W. Jay, Fred L. Jay and George I. Birt.

He was laid to rest beside his little son Malcolm who predeceased him seven years ago.

The regular service at the grave was conducted by Rev. Mr. Charman after which an impressive service was held by the Orangenem.

NEW ENGLAND APPLE GROWERS TO BE AIDED IN MARKETING THEIR CROPS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—How New England apple growers may be aided by the department of Commerce in exporting their products to foreign countries has been taken up by Director Julius Klein of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce as a result of inquiries by Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, congresswoman from Lowell.

He pointed out that statistical data, indicating where markets for apples might be found and lists of apple importers in the principal European and Latin American markets were in the possession of the Bureau. While no responsibility for transactions arising from use of these lists is assumed by the government, only the most reputable firms are listed. A branch office of the bureau is maintained in Boston and can supply reports regarding capital, financial condition, general business reputation, etc., of the foreign concerns.

SAFEGUARDING Your Good Times

"A FEW precious holidays . . . the innate tendency of a limited wardrobe to lose its freshness with amazing quickness . . . a Lux-bath overnight for the sport-skirt, the silk hose, the underthings . . . —perfect safety to all delicate garments—then a satisfying, clean-from-top-to-toe feeling the next day, with none of the embarrassment attendant upon soiled clothes . . . Fortify the week-end bag with LUX!"

[The above letter was written by Mrs. George A. Lygbi, Hamilton, Ontario.]

Safety

Thousands of letters are sent us by Canadian women. In all of these, the outstanding feature is safety . . . the fact that Lux will not shrink woollens, will not fade colours, will not endanger any fabric entrusted to a LUX cleansing . . . these are the qualities most appreciated by LUX users.

The cleansing and protective qualities of LUX are not accidental. They result from the scientific preparation of the LUX flakes.

"Do not experiment, madam, use LUX and be sure."
