MUNICH, Feb. 5.—Thousands of young men marched through the streets of Munich today singing "Deutschland Uber Alles" and carried out demonstrations at a hotel where the members of the Entente Commission reside as a protest against the Allied reparations which caused a wave of resentment in Bavaria. Greek Cabinet Has Resigned

(Special to The Guardian) ATHENS, February 5.—Conferences with political leaders were held today by King Constantine in an effort to solve the ministerial crisis which developed during the present week and culminated last night in the resignation of the Rallis Cabinet. It was believed that Gounaris, Minister of War, or M. Kalogeropoulos, Minister of Finance, would be asked to head the new ministry. Premier Rallis had insisted that he should head the Greek Delegation which will attend the near East conference to be held in London, beginning February 21. M. Gounaris on the other hand claimed the honor of being the Greek spokesman, citing his influence in Parliament and the adherence of the Greek press as his qualifications. The friction between the Premier and his minister of War became so marked that M. Rallis decided to hand his resignation to the King.

The Pastor, Rev. George C. Taylor, preached an eloquent and most feeling sermon for the occasion his subject being "Let Us Forget" and delivered the panegyric: "There are no Dead!" The report of the memorial committee was submitted by Hon. F. J. Nash, before the unveiling a double quartette, "Peace to the Souls of Our Heroes" was sung. The monument was unveiled by Mr. John M. McLeod, Sgt. Herbert Vessey sounding "The Last Post" after which the hymn "For All the Saints" was sung by choir and people. Col. D. A. McKinnon, D. S. O., C. de G., read the roll call, containing the names of 119 members of the congregation. Messrs. Hon. F. J. Nash, Geo. W. McLeod, John M. McLeod, and S. A. McDonald were commissioned as trustees to look after the memorial. The various hymns and scripture readings were all in keeping with the occasion. The service Mr. Arthur Bruce sang "No Night There" a very beautiful solo. Before the service closed an appropriate anthem, "O King of Kings" was rendered by the choir. A VIOLENT AGITATION IN PROGRESS IN GERMANY

In Protest Against Decisions of Allied Council and For the Restoration of German Monarchy.

(Special to The Guardian) PARIS, February 5.—Violent protests at once against the decision of the supreme council regarding reparations are still being published by Berlin newspapers, says the Petit Parisien's correspondent. The correspondent asserts that Hugo Stinnes, the capitalist, and Dr. Karl Helfferich, a former vice-chancellor, are trying to form reactionary parties from the people and nationalists and parties which have a representation in the Reichstag of 115 anti-Constitutional Deputies. The newspaper Excelsior says everywhere in Germany there is a violent campaign of agitation against the entente as well as for the purpose of restoring the monarchy.

Her screams attracted the attention of residents who rushed out to her assistance, but too late, as she died almost instantly.

Sudden Death of Mr. Thomas Andrew

PROMINENT MERCHANT OF SUMMERSIDE SUCCEEDS TO APPOXY. Summerside citizens were shocked on Saturday night with the sad news of the sudden death of Mr. Thomas Andrew from apoplexy. Mr. Andrew, who was 69 years of age was feeling in his usual health all day Saturday, attending to his business in the usual way and had driven to his home in St. Eleanor's at the close of the day's work. On his arrival he was preparing to do the necessary chores when he was stricken. Doctors were immediately summoned but nothing could be done. He passed away at 9.30. The late Mr. Andrew conducted a piano, carriage and farm implement business in Summerside for twenty years or more and was widely known and esteemed. The funeral takes place today at 2 o'clock from his late home in St. Eleanor's where a short service will be held after which the body will be brought to the Baptist Church in Summerside. There are left to mourn: his widow, three daughters, Mrs. E. She saw some of her relatives massacred and others starve to death, and of the party of seven which left here, only two, Mrs. Joseph and eldest son, survived. Mrs. Joseph's husband moved from here a year ago to start business in Kentucky.

GERMANY MUST DISARM

DECLARES LLOYD GEORGE

The First Condition of Peace is That the Treaty Must be Respected. Germany Has Too Many Armed Men and too Much War Material.

(Special to The Guardian) BIRMINGHAM, February 5.—"Germany must disarm," Premier Lloyd George declared in a speech here today. The Premier asserted vigorously that Germany must respect the peace treaty and agreements. "The first condition of peace is that the treaty must be respected," he said. "A challenged treaty means merely that war is held in suspense. Germany must respect two conditions, the first of which is disarmament." He added that Germany must abide by the treaty to insure the restoration of neighborliness among nations. "Germany still has too many armed and too much war material," the Premier declared. "The Allies have decided that Germany must comply with the Treaty of Versailles, especially as regards disarmament." Lloyd George pointed out that the reparations had been framed to coincide with German financial conditions and that while she cannot pay if she is not prosperous, if she is prosperous she can and must, he added, that if the Germans once get their mind off the war and to peace they will soon be prosperous again.

UNITED STATES REFUSES TO CANCEL WAR DEBT

(Special to The Guardian) BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 5.—The British Government formally proposed the cancellation of all inter-allied debts but the proposals were unacceptable to the United States government, said J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech to his constituents here today. To make them an offer again, would, I think, be beneath our dignity and would render us liable to misconception of our motive. In making them we sought no National advantage to ourselves and we proposed the solution which should have foregone claims larger than any remitted to us and we proposed it, because we believed it would be in the interests of good relations amongst the people's rehabilitation National credit and restoration of international trade. Our great international debt is due to the obligations we undertook on behalf of the Allies if we had had only ourselves to consider, we should have been particularly free of external debt at the present time.

WHAT BRITAIN OWES

So far as could be learned tonight no officials here are aware that the British Government has ever, through an official channel proposed a remission or cancellation of the British war debt to the United States. Great Britain's indebtedness is about $4,000,000,000 and is far larger than that of any other of the Allied countries, but this is explained by the fact that Britain herself was a creditor and disbursed United States funds to her other Allies. When Senator Knox, soon after President Wilson's return from Paris, introduced in the Senate a resolution proposing the remission of the indebtedness of all the Allies to the United States on the theory that the Allies had been greater sufferers from the war, British public opinion, it was understood here, was strongly opposed to such a move. So far as is known this is still the British attitude.

King's Messenger Is Fired Upon

(Special to The Guardian) BELFAST, Feb. 5.—Daring attempts were made today to capture a naval officer engaged as King's messenger, carrying important government despatches from Dublin to the mail boat at Kings-town for transmission to London. The first attempt was made from Trinity College. Having failed a second was made from Ballsbridge. This was also unsuccessful, none of the shots fired hitting the officer and he reached the boat safely.

France Does Not Want Indemnity Paid At Present

(Special to The Guardian) PARIS, February 5.—Even were the Government in a position to realize immediately the entire German indemnity it would be the most unwise thing we could do at the present rate of exchange," said Premier Briand in the Chamber of Deputies replying to questions by Andre Tardieu. "Allied troops will march further into Germany if that country refuses to meet the reparations demands," he stated.

May Return To Patronage Basis

(Special to The Guardian) OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—Much interest in civil matters has been aroused by a report here that action probably would be taken during the session for the return to appointments to outside Civil Service, to a patronage basis. While the resolution having the change in view is to be introduced by Sir Sam Hughes, notice to that effect having already been given it is hardly expected the change will be brought about in that way.
