A Fine Combination of Mystery And Comedy.

Edgar Wallace did some of his best work toward the end of his career and "The Frightened Lady" now playing at the Prince Edward Theatre, is a striking proof of this fact. By many it is considered the best he ever did.

The story centres around the strangest house in England, that holds a mystery that defies solution. What is the secret of the door that is never opened? Why are they fearful that the Lebanon family may become extinct? Mystery is piled upon mystery until the final denouement, which comes as a complete surprise to everyone. Throughout the picture there is splendid comedy, provided by the famous English comedian, George Harker. "The Frightened Lady" is now playing at the Balasso Theatre, New York, with tremendous success at $3.00 prices. If you like mystery and thrills, with comedy relief, by all means see "The Frightened Lady."

Added attractions are a Charley Chase comedy, and a Bray Nature study.

Canadian Authors Hear Address By Kipling

(By Thos. T. Champlin Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, July 13—C.P. Cable—"One's own heart is the best place to store the few things in life that really matter," said Rudyard Kipling today in one of his rare public speeches. He was addressing the luncheon gathering held in honor of the visiting party of members of the Canadian Authors' Association.

Kipling had been talking of the opportunities the Canadians had to see the treasures of their English inheritance, not "archaeological curiosities" but bearing witness to the racial instinct "towards unbridled expenditures on matters spiritual and material for the sheer joy of the exercise."

He recalled his own visit to Canada, when in three "amazing weeks he saw Canada from Quebec to the Pacific and listened to prophecies which within 10 short years fell short of the facts. "I tried to grasp all these things because they were as much mine as everything here is yours," he told his "fellow-craftsmen and craftsmen."

"Not until long after my return however did the significance of them begin to break upon me. Then my impressions clarified. . . and I found I had the key to them all the time in my heart. It will be the same with you on your return."

Kipling declared that somewhere in the mass of the work of Canadian writers dealing with "these marvellous later years must be laid up the very lines or phrases which will be taken by the world of tomorrow as the authentic portrayal of your world of yesterday."

"But mercifully," he added, "it is not permitted anyone to foresee his or her literary election or reprobation any more than it was permitted our ancestors to foresee the just statute of their contemporaries whose shrines and former dwellings you are now visiting."

G. K. Chesterton gave a humorous speech but he was serious when he said that although he had probably written as much abuse of the Empire as Kipling had of praise, "I am still enough of an Englishman that it gives me a warm glow of pride to think that twice in the same 100 years men have escaped from America to Canada to find freedom."

A woman never argues with a fool—but a fool often tries to argue with his wife.

WOMAN, YOUNG AT 64 LEARNS TO BE FLIER

PITTSBURGH, July 13—Being 64 years old, and a woman, has not prevented Mrs. Kay Culver from taking up flying at a local aviation school.

Mrs. Culver, known by grease monkeys and pilots alike, as "Kittie," tells questioners she "is afraid of nothing."

"It is beautiful," "Kittie" tells everyone. "And I get crazier about it every time I go up."

She passed her preliminary tests with flying colors, records of the U. S. department of commerce reveal.

Mrs. Culver has not yet taken her solo flights as she has a few more hours of instruction ahead of her. Her instructors say, however, she is a capable student.

When in Paris in 1906 and 1907 she met Santos Dumont, one of the earliest experimenters with aeroplanes and dirigibles. He invited her to make flights with him.

"His aeroplane was too frail," she explains, "I didn't want to take my life in my hands."

She adds though that now things have changed and she really likes to fly.

Those phrases were included in a resolution adopted at a meeting here. They were directed at the present policy whereby either a husband or wife is discharged—the wife, in most cases, says the Woman's Party—if both work for the Government.

REPORT OF CONVENTION OF F. W. I. C.

The following report of the biennial convention of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada was presented by Mrs. S. J. Rose, South Lake, at the provincial convention. The Eighth Biennial Convention of the F. W. I. C. was held at Winnipeg in the Arts Building, University of Manitoba, June 5-9, 1933, with Mrs. W. F. Cameron, Regina, President, in the chair. She spoke a few words of kindly welcome to those present and announced that three of those expected would not be in attendance on account of illness.

The delegates were cordially welcomed to the College by Miss Isabel Alexander on behalf of Miss Thompson, Mrs. Duncan and herself. Credentials were presented and names of voting delegates accredited. This was followed by the appointment of Committees.

Business discussed at sessions. Mrs. Cameron explained that Mrs. Lang, Ontario, had been authorized to represent the F. W. I. C. at the Liaison Committee in Stockholm, 1933. This Committee is an International Organization of Rural Women and Homemakers Clubs.

The question of affiliation with the F. W. I. C. with the National Council of Women was discussed freely, and it was decided that such affiliation would be contrary to the wishes of the members of the F. W. I. C.

A cable was sent to Stockholm extending greetings to the Liaison Conference Committee. Friendly co-operation assured International Council of Women but definitely against affiliation therewith.

The censorship of moving pictures was discussed and a resolution passed regarding this question. Saskatchewan has adopted a rather unique way of dealing with the choice of pictures. Instead of condemning or conserving undesirable plays, the committee in charge lists all good pictures after studying the review in reputable papers and magazines and sends out information concerning them to the schools and other interested organizations. The Navy League has requested that the president of the F. W. I. C. be retained upon their board.

It was decided that the new president of the F. W. I. C. be asked to act in this capacity. The Navy League has requested the retiring president to write an article for their magazine. This she is prepared to do.

"Fresh from the Gardens"

Mrs. Cameron in speaking of relief work during her term of office expressed the profound appreciation of the province of Saskatchewan in particular, for the generous donations of supplies and money that had been sent from the Maritimes, Quebec, and British Columbia. The suffering would no doubt be appalling had it not been for these timely gifts, for which appreciation could never be adequately expressed.

The following representatives brought greetings from their respective provinces: Nova Scotia, Mrs. Freeman; P. E. Island, Mrs. Shaw; British Columbia, Mrs. MacGregor; New Brunswick, Mrs. Fenwick; Treasurer, Ontario, Mrs. Colloton; Quebec, Mrs. Pratt; Alberta, Mrs. Ferguson. Messages of greeting were also received from many countries of Europe, also Australia.

I was required by the constitution that the office of president should alternate between the east and west, which procedure has been followed, so that the president for 1933-35 term must come from the east where three provinces have not yet had a Federal president—P. E. Island, New Brunswick and Quebec.

P. E. Island had looked forward to having their beloved president, the late Mrs. George MacDonald, occupying that proud position but did not care to press their claims just now.

Mrs. A. E. Walker, Ontario, was appointed president and Miss W. F. Cameron, honorary president. Mrs. T. A. Cohee, convener of the committee on the League of Nations, gave a report on the opening of the Peace Garden, July 14th, 1932, at which she gave a word picture of many parts of the work, which is situated almost in the exact geographical centre of the North American continent, partly in Manitoba and partly in North Dakota, U. S.

The work of planting in the Peace Garden, plants, trees, etc., from nearly every country in the world was in progress. It was suggested that the F. W. I. C. might take steps to make some contribution to the project. After some discussion a committee was appointed to take charge of the contribution to the International Peace Garden and be permitted to spend a sum of money in connection with this work.

Mrs. Cohee also reported having attended the convention of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare. Thanks for relief work. A letter of invitation was received from the government of P. E. Island to hold the 1935 biennial in Charlottetown. This invitation was cordially accepted.

EAST ROYALTY INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the East Royalty Woman's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. Morrissey on June 22nd. Meeting opened with president in the chair; roll call was responded to by eighteen members by spelling Hall-tax and writing Ottawa. Minutes of May meeting read and adopted. School committee reported that the school had been cleaned; bill presented and ordered paid. Sick committee reported fruit taken to one of our members who was ill, also flowers sent to one bereaved family.

Delegates appointed for annual convention. July meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. E. Shaw. Meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.
