ness. This was perhaps their ambition but they found it did not make for happiness of mind.

Of course, as men and women grow older they must expect a "slowing up" of vigor of body, but they should not accept aches and pains as being natural to old age. Today we have the geriatrician, a specialist treating the ailments of the elderly who can make the later years of life more comfortable.

Neither is it natural for the elderly to have mental derangements because there must be a reason for these derangements, should they occur. An overhauling by and a frank talk with their family doctor will likely straighten out any mental or emotional derangement, many of which are due to a sluggish liver and constipation.

While a noted physician advises those past 50 not to raise their little finger unnecessarily, he knows, as does every physician, that walking and light exercise are necessary to maintain a good circulation of the blood.

HOW IS YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

ELLEN'S DIARY

had forgotten her crying and had come to the yard with her mother waved a smiling good-bye as the machine moved away down the drive-way. This was a pretty golden and white animal intended once upon a time to be added to the milking herd, and then discarded to make room for a more promising one. Some time ago, to a dealer from the mainland, a popular buyer to many Island farmers. The man talked about her disposal when they bled this evening—home by moon-light.

"She greeted me a little" Jock said "though she weighed very well" and James remarked: "Didn't I tell you that was every pound that was in her, before you went away this morning?" And so all in all, with a few anxieties which after all were only faintly disturbing, our pleasant day has slipped away into the lovely silence and tenderness of this moonlit night. Until tomorrow — Diary — Good-night.....

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

For the next 30 or 40 years, and when she loses her lissom figure and her complexion and her hair gets grizzled, he feels that she has somehow played a slow-down trick on him. Many and many a man divorces his faithful wife for no other reason than she has gotten the middle-aged spread.

And there's clothes. The great majority of husbands desire their wives to be shop windows that advertise their prosperity, but they grumble and complain over the bills. They expect them to look like a million dollars on a cut-rate expenditure, and to do some kind of a hocus-pocus over dyed rabbit skin that will make it look like real mink.

Husbands expect their wives to be always gay and cheery and to be met with a glad, sweet smile, no matter if they are so grumpy that the children cease their prattle and the cat scurries to the cellar at the sound of their key in the door. And they consider themselves martyrs if their wives indulge in a few nerves of their own.

Husbands expect their wives to be domestic and to always set good meals before them, but they must never smell of the kitchen. They expect them to be miracle-workers who can stretch one dollar over the space of five. They expect them to be mind-readers who know they still love them, though they never pay them a compliment nor say a tender word to them. They expect them to be grateful to them for marrying them, no matter what sort of life of toil and privation they let themselves in for by doing it. They expect their wives to love them and forgive them, no matter how they treat them.

Husbands expect so much of their wives that it is no wonder that few of them meet the qualifications, and that so many husbands feel themselves unappreciated.

PLEASANT CIRCLE W. I.

The August meeting of Pleasant Circle Institute of rural Albany was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Basil Sherry. The meeting opened by repeating the Creed followed by the roll call and minutes. There were seven members and two visitors present. The Secretary reported proceeds from concert at Crapaud $20.38, a play and ice cream sale at Seven Mile Bay hall $58.75. Total proceeds to date $199.55, with expenditures of $49.67, making a balance on hand of $149.88. The school committee reported paint had been ordered for painting the outside of school, the work to be done during the Fall vacation, after the roof has been shingled. It was moved by Mrs. Arthur MacKay and seconded by Mrs. U. Large that Mrs. Sherry and Mrs. George MacKay be the new sick committee. Correspondence was read and discussed. One letter from the Supervisor was with regard to DeBlais Bros, putting on a cooking demonstration. Mrs. Elmer Gamble kindly offered her home for the meeting. Then there was a letter from the Red Cross stressing the need for clothing for overseas, and it was decided to make twelve dresses at present. An interesting article from "Health and Welfare" was read by Mrs. George MacKay about the Eskimos and what the Red Cross is doing to preserve their health and well being. The next meeting is to be held at the home of the Secretary, Mrs. John Walker and the roll call to be reported to by donating a 15c article for a grab bag. The collection amounted to 38c. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by the Misses Annie and Mable Sherry and the meeting adjourned.

WET-BUT CURRENCY

NOOTKA, B.C. — (OP) — J.O. Costello dived 40 feet from a dock here into the bay and rescued a harried five-year-old Indian girl then went through his pockets and fished out $300 in bills which he pinned to a clothesline to dry.
