

The Island Condition Powder

We do not wish you to lose sight of the fact that this powder has stood the test for years and is in greater demand today than ever.

On horses it acts marvelously, it gives a good appetite, a glossy coat, a loose hide, and a healthy appearance in general.

It purifies the blood and cannot be equalled for building up broken-down horses, and making them slick, fat and high-spirited.

It is also splendid for Milk Cattle, Calves, Sheep, Pigs and Poultry 25c lb.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

Death of the laurel from the victor's brow and saved the vanquished from feeling the sting of defeat when the gallant Wolfe and the brave Montcalm were slain in the battle of Quebec, fought 154 years ago today. Wolfe, with wrist shattered and a terrible wound in the groin, was still pressing on at the head of his troops when a ball passed through his lungs. "Support me," he cried, "lest my gallant fellows see me fall." Only four men witnessed the tragedy, and it was well for English hopes that the attacking troops did not know that their general had fallen. He was carried to the rear, and with his dying breath issued an order to one of his officers. He was told that the enemy retreated, and murmured, "God be praised, now I die in peace." In a few minutes the gallant soul had left the shattered body. Montcalm, the French commander, was riding from point to point, endeavoring to rally his flying soldiers, when a shot passed through his body. He kept his seat, although his clothes were drenched with blood, and when a woman shrieked, "Mon Dieu, the Marquis is shot!" the gallant soldier cried, "It's nothing, nothing." Surgeons dressed his wound, but told him he had but a few hours to live. "So much the better," he said, "I shall not live to see the surrender of Quebec." Knox says he declared that, "since he had been beaten he was glad that it was by so brave an enemy."

Sept. 13 is the birthday of the Rev. Charles William Gordon, famous as a novelist under the pen name of "Ralph Connor," at Indian Lands, Glenarry, Ont., in 1860. On this date the Canadian Pacific telegraph lines were opened for business.

BURNS SAYS PELKEY DENIES STATEMENTS

CALGARY, Sept. 11.—Tommy Burns is today exhibiting a telegram from Arthur Pelkey in which the latter denies even having issued any of the statements credited to him by the coast sporting writers, in which he is alleged to have charged Burns with having forced him to agree to a fixed fight with Burns in Calgary, and also with having extracted an unfair contract from Pelkey while the latter was under the charge of manslaughter here in July. Pelkey has also wired the Calgary Herald denying he has broken with Burns. In view of Pelkey's interview at Victoria, yesterday in which he corroborated a Portland despatch telling of his break with the ex-champion, the situation is perplexing and the idea is general here that an effort is being made to smooth things over.

FRENCH-ENG SCHOOLS OF ONTARIO

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The government-revised plans for the supervision and regulation of the English and French schools of the province are announced by the Hon. Dr. Fyfe, following yesterday's meeting of the cabinet. They provide means by which through the exercise of judgment on the part of the chief inspector or of public and separate schools, hardships may be obviated in special cases. The chief changes in the regulations provide that instruction in French may be continued beyond the first term upon approval of the chief inspector in the case of pupils who, owing to the previous defective training, are unable to speak and understand the English language. The injustice of a cast-iron rule in certain cases was strongly emphasized by the French-Canadian supporters of the English-French school and the easing up of the rule by giving the chief inspector some discretion in order to some extent meet their objections. The school delegation that waited upon the government protested against teachers being confined to one hour's teaching in French each day and in that direction the chief inspector has been given authority to exercise his discretion.

NEWSPAPERS ON THE THAW CASE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Commenting editorially on the action of the Canadian immigration officers yesterday, in deporting Thaw, the Tribune says:—"This country must take off its hat to Canada. It has found a way to put a summary end to the Thaw game of trifling with its courts. While the Thaw lawyers were talking bravely of fighting the issue up in a leisurely way through the Colonial courts, and thus to London, the immigration officers suddenly cut the whole tangle of technicalities and dumped the bewildered lunatic across the border, leaving a lot of attorneys and alienists sorrowing for the loss of vast prospective fees. "The Canadian swiftness dazzles us, inured to the worship of legal tape. But it has this to commend it—justice has been done, and done promptly. The result, which would have taken months and perhaps years to accomplish, has been accomplished at once. The Canadian legal system is spared the disgrace which would have sprung from seeing its processes employed to defeat justice."

HAVANA, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Lena Janin, who was supposed to have been murdered in New York, her body cut up and thrown into the Hudson River, and Vincent Planells, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the case, were found living in a house in Havana Street here.

LIQUOR SUBSTITUTES USED IN MONCTON

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 11.—The "lid" being on tightly in Moncton, boozers here are now forced to drink lemon extracts. Several cases have come to the notice of the local police where parties have become ill and intoxicated by drinking the extracts, which contain a certain amount of alcohol. Cases are known where persons arrested for drunkenness have imbibed several ten-cent bottles of lemon. Chief Rideout says if indiscriminate selling of the extract to known drinkers continues he will have some of the dealers brought before the magistrate.
