PLANS TO INCREASE NURSES

Miss MacLennan, President of P. E. I. Registered Nurses' Association Appeals to Young Women to Enter Profession

Plans are now being formulated by the Canadian Nurses Association to overcome the acute shortage of well qualified graduate nurses in Canada which will become even more alarming as the months pass. Miss Katherine MacLennan, president of the P. E. I. Registered Nurses Association, announced yesterday.

The situation today can be explained briefly, as follows: "Miss Katherine MacLennan says we have about 23,000 graduate nurses in Canada.

"The average number of students enrolled in Schools of Nursing in Canada is 12,000 of which about 3,000 graduate annually but approximately 30 per cent marry within two years of graduation and are lost to the profession.

"Since the war started about 1,500 graduate nurses have enrolled in South Africa while, during this period, the demand for competent nurses in hospitals, industry, and public health work, has increased by an appreciable margin.

"At present there is an alarming shortage which can only be remedied if parents, and daughters who show inclination, and who have the educational background, will interest themselves in the honorable profession of nursing which so well fits a girl for shouldering responsibilities all through her life.

"Nursing today offers many more opportunities than did a few years ago. Hours are shorter; salaries, generally, are better than they were a few years ago.

"At the same time married and retired nurses who are physically fit can assist by reporting back for duty and, where necessary, take refresher courses which are now being planned.

"The Canadian Nurses' Association, with the assistance of the Dominion government, is now considering quite substantial loans and bursaries designed to increase the number of qualified nurses and the number of those who can be trained, and fitted, for educational and special work.

"The association is also studying clinical services in hospitals with a view to setting up standards for post-graduate experience and is planning the establishment of a nurse placement service or bureau at national headquarters which will be invaluable in the post-war period.

"All the efforts of the association, however, cannot overcome the shortage unless eligible young women and their parents realize that, upon them, to a major extent, depends whether the alarming situation will be remedied."

ENJOYED VACATION HERE—Mr. and Mrs. J. Pradl and little daughter Joanne, who have been spending the past two weeks vacation with Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Clark at the Dominion Exhibition and Old Home Week, have returned to their home in Montreal. Mr. Pradl is engineer in charge of designs in the Canadian Electric Lighters. Mr. Pradl was on his first visit to Prince Edward Island and he expressed great pleasure in the climate and sea bathing.

MANY VISITORS—Yesterday was another busy day at the Travel Bureau Office in Charlottetown, as many as many as the record days of Tuesday and Wednesday when approximately a thousand people called during the two day period. Total however was over three hundred. There is evidently considerable interest in today's racing as a number of people arrived from the mainland last evening. During this week a large number of visitors to Charlottetown visited the historic Confederation Chamber in the Provincial Building.

NO PETTY CRIME THIS WEEK—City Police said last night the city had been remarkably free of petty crime during the Old Home Week celebration. Only one article was reported stolen—a raincoat during a sudden brief down-pour earlier in the week. Police said there were no traffic accidents reported. The number of cars on the streets was less than in pre-war days, but still traffic was increased greatly since the show opened.

R.C.A.F. CONCERTERS

LONDON — (C.P.) — The first all-Canadian airman concert party is soon to be formed in Britain and auditions for talent are taking place among overseas R.C.A.F. personnel.

Lisbon, New Seat Of Wartime Spies

Due in large part to the war, Lisbon has become the official clearing house for secret agents and its bars and hotel lobbies echo their whispered secrets. The city swarms with suspicious-looking people and officials examine their private lives with microscopic vigilance.

Very little of this behind-the-scenes turbulence has been seen on the screen. But the recently completed spy-melodrama, "International Lady," which was produced by Edward Small and starts a run at the Prince Edward Theatre on today brings this city into sharp focus as the modern-day center of intrigue and mystery. This new picture, with George Brent and Joan Massey in the starring roles, has become the most spy-ridden spot on earth where everyone is guilty of working for a "foreign power" until he proves his innocence.

Horse Show Is Concluded

The Horse Show, which was one of the big attractions of the evening performance at the Dominion Exhibition and Old Home Week, concluded last night with a fine performance by both horses and riders. It was staged before an ever large crowd that watched with interest from the Grand Stand and bleachers.

The big event was sponsored by the Charlottetown Riding Club and was judged by Hon. C. H. Black, M.P., of Aubrey, Que. Mr. James Donahue, Roseneath, was Ring Master.

The results of last night's event were as follows:

Pony Class, over 12 hands — 1. Fairy Bell, owned and ridden by Rosemary Rogers; 2. Black Beauty, owned by Helen Rogers and ridden by Ann Blake; 3. Rainbow, owned and ridden by Michelle Raymond.

Ladies Saddle Horses — 1. Her Majesty, owned and ridden by Vimy Jones; 2. Princess McGrimmon, owned by Vimy Jones and ridden by Ann Hughes; 3. Woodview, owned by Lincoln Dewar and ridden by Helen Jones; 4. Winklers, owned by the Charlottetown Riding Club and ridden by Mrs. G. E. Full.

Jumping, Free For All — 1. Woodview, owned by Vimy Jones; 2. Silver Sea, owned and ridden by Don Seaman; 3. Black Bay, owned and ridden by C. F. Deakle; 4. Fairy Bell, owned and ridden by Rosemary Rogers.

A feature of the show tonight was the silver plate donated by "Dick Zwicker" to the Halifax for the winner of the free-for-all jump. Miss Vimy Jones won it with her splendid performance on Woodview.

Death of Mr. Wallace Shaw

Mr. Wallace Shaw, Queen's County Bailiff, died late Wednesday in his 79th year. Death in the Charlottetown Hospital followed an illness of several months. He had been bailiff for 15 years.

Before taking up his position as bailiff he had worked in a restaurant in Boston, Mass., and was a member of the Boston police force. He later returned to Charlottetown and was Chief of Police there for two years.

The only fraternal organization he belonged to was the Galedonia Club.

His wife predeceased him by two years. There was no family. He is survived by one brother, William, in Vancouver, B.C.

A private funeral will be held from the MacLean Funeral Home. Burial will be in the People's Cemetery.

GERMANS

The Germans of preparations made to resist it; France is jittery over its possibilities; the Italians have been assured by Premier Mussolini there would be no second front in Italy or elsewhere.

DNE, German news and propaganda agency, in a broadcast dispatch said a plot to blow up the German-controlled Netherlands radio station (presumably at Hilversum) had been frustrated by a new series of arrests.

Deadline

The Nazis already have set tomorrow midnight as the deadline for surrender of saboteurs who last Friday night attacked a troop train near Rotterdam. They have threatened to execute some of 1,500 prominent hostages unless the men are captured.

The Germans ordered all Dutch women between 15 and 40 years of age to register for a Nazi women's labor battalion, marking the first attempt to draft women for labor in Holland.

The Germans also were reported to have issued a series of new measures aimed at preventing the Netherlands population from aiding any allied invasion.

Wreck Turbine

The BEC reported Norwegian patriots had wrecked the powerful turbine installations in the Stavanger district and set fire to two workshops in the aluminum works there.

The arrest of 50 hostages in the Belgian province of Hainault after destruction of dynamite and other electrical installations in several factories was reported by the Russians said the 22nd infantry regiment of the 7th Nazi division was routed and the Red army occupied another populated point. Supporting Soviet airmen were said to have wiped out an entire German battalion.

Aside from the reported fighting northwest of Moscow, the Russians also were engaged on the Bryansk front, 220 miles southwest of the Soviet capital. The Red army was said to have crossed a river near Bryansk to dislodge the enemy from several localities.

There was little elaboration in brief dispatches reaching the Soviet capital saying fighting similar in scope and intensity to that in the Caucasus had flared over the northwestern front.

The Soviet information bureau said only that the Red army had occupied a "populated place" in the general area, but a dispatch to the Communist party newspaper Pravda from that front which winds 500 miles northwest of Moscow to Leningrad said the Germans had attempted a violent 120-plane raid on Leningrad and scattered parachutists around the northern city.

Without giving the date of the attack, Pravda said 30 of the planes were shot down and the parachutists mopped up.

(Giving a different version and suggesting Russian, not German, communication from Berlin said German infantry and armored divisions were tied "in a heavy defensive struggle" on both sides of Rbeve, 130 miles northwest of Moscow.

(The scope of this battle was hinted by the Germans who said 71 Red army tanks were destroyed yesterday, 55 of them on the front of a single Nazi division.

(The Germans said the Russians also were attacking at Lake Ilnen, southeast of Leningrad.

(An even more violent Soviet offensive was being waged around Voronezh, on the northern shoulder of German Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's Caucasian army, the Germans hinted.

(Here, where they said yesterday they were encountering superior Russian numbers, they declared they had knocked out 234 Soviet tanks in the last two days, and the battle was said to have "increased in violence" in the last few hours.)

LABOR DISPUTES

action workers union, local No. 2, announced that a "compromise agreement" had been reached and that the company has agreed not to promote their non-union employees.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Stewards of the Algoma Steel Workers Union, an affiliate of the United Steel Workers of America, met last night to consider an appeal from the Sault Labor Minister, Humphrey Mitchell, to delay action on their application for a strike vote in the plant of Algoma Steel Corporation. The union claims a membership of 3,600.

The Sault dispute centres on an application made by the union to the Ontario regional labor board for an increase from 46 1/2 cents to 55 cents an hour in the basic labor wage rate. The application has been before the board since March and the union is pressing for an immediate decision. Mr. Mitchell expressed the Sault union that he would ask the regional board to reach a decision "at the earliest possible date."

However, E. Dirynple, head of special committee of the Algoma union, replied to Mr. Mitchell that the union committee was "unable to understand the need for any further delay" and would proceed accordingly to the stewards meeting.

Mines Minister L. D. Currie of Nova Scotia announced during a visit to Ottawa that his government proposed to close two of three collieries in Inverness, N.S., because of "lack of cooperation" by many of the employees. Employees in No. 3 pit of the mine—which is operated by the provincial government—staged a walkout Saturday when they refused to report to work. The management ordered the removal of pumping equipment from No. 4 colliery.

D. C. MacLeod of the United Mine Workers of America wrote Labor Minister Mitchell describing the Nova Scotia Mines Department action as a lockout.

At Barriefield near Kingston, Ont., 50 carpenters engaged in construction contracts said they had because of working conditions and their dislike for the general superintendent, George C. Wright.
