THERE'S A REALLY NOTABLE LOT OF BAGS IN OUR WINDOW AT 59c each

We got hold of these to very good advantage the other day and thought you'd like them.

There are four or five good shapes, several colors—a very attractive patent leather effect, all with mirror. No—not leather—a good, durable composition material.

Roosevelt Discusses Waterways Treaty

ALBANY, N. Y., July 21.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's New York State power authority today implied full faith on the part of the Hoover Administration in its offer of a deal with New York over the four and St. Lawrence Waterways Treaty.

The authority which Roosevelt adian mapped out to handle the develop- ment of the international river for would be electric power, declared in a com- munication to the Governor that Represent Hoover's refusal to dis- will, it is the treaty negotiations with of the F.M.R. Roosevelt was "based on an Imperial erroneous assumption." The Pres- at the end failed "to meet the principle a consid- issue" raised in Roosevelt's mes- Free Sta age of July 9 suggesting a personal clared in conference.

Simultaneously there came reports from the interior that protest meet- ings had been held in various towns "calling down fury on Paraguayan aggression."

Two thousand women paraded to the Presidential Palace today with Bolivian flags and banners, and they were told by Anarosa Torero, principal of the La Paz normal school, to be ready if necessary for "Red Cross service on the field of battle."

It was not revealed how many soldiers were aboard the troop train or exactly where they were going.

Government administration build- ings being built in Victoria, Aus- tralia, closely follow American style, design and finish.

Between W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister, and Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson on November 14 "marks the initiation of the discus- sion" toward the negotiation of a treaty "foreseen in the announce- ment of the two governments on October 8, last."

Will Make War On Paraguay

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 21.—(A.P.)—A troop train filled with soldiers left here today with their destina- tion announced as "the interior of Bolivia," while the aroused populace of the Capital stood by and cheer- ed for the fatherland. The move- ment followed by less than 12 hours a demand by street crowds for "war on Paraguay."

NOTED MILITARY ORGANIZER DEAD

KENTVILLE, N. S., July 21.—(By The Canadian Press)—Colonel Al- len H. Borden, D. S. O., organizer of the famous Nova Scotia High- land Brigade, first overseas com- mander of the Nova Scotia High- landers, scholar and teacher, died at his home here late tonight fol- lowing an attack of heart trouble. He was 54 years of age.

Colonel Borden entered the per- manent militia as a young man, and at the outbreak of the Great War he was considered one of Nova Scotia's foremost soldiers. It was due to his efforts that the "Fighting 85th" came into being, and applica- tions for enlistment under his lead- ership came in so fast that he made up his mind there was room for other regiments. Later he organized the 185th Cape Breton Highlanders, the 193rd Pictou and Cumberland Highlanders and the 219th High- landers from Western and Central Nova Scotia.

Recruiting in these units was stimulated by vigorous speeches made by the Colonel throughout the Province.

The story of how the four reg- iments went overseas, how the 85th with added strength from the other units was bolstered from time to time as whole companies of gallant fighters "passed on" in Flanders Field, has already been recorded in history. How the Colonel carried on until it was no longer possible to carry on, how his Majesty King George awarded him the honors of the Distinguished Service Order.

Soon after the close of the war, Colonel Borden was appointed offi- cer Commanding Military District No. 4 Toronto, and after serving there for several years he retired from active military work.

He continued his interest until his death, however, and was a staunch friend of the War Veterans. He was Honorary President of the Kings County Branch, Canadian Legion, and a member of the ex- ecutive of the Provincial Command of the Legion.

A Liberal in politics, he contest- ed the constituency of King's Coun- ty in the Provincial election of 1925, but that was the year the Conser- vatives swept the Province, and he was defeated. Born at Cornwall, a son of the late Rev. Jonathan Bor- den, a Methodist preacher, Allison Borden walked five miles daily to Kentville in his youth to attend school. He graduated from King's County Academy and taught school for several years before going on to Mount Allison University.

After graduating from Mount All- son he returned to teaching but soon turned his attention to Mil- itary training. Entering the perma- nent force, he made such progress that he decided to make a life's work of soldiering.

He maintained his interest in Mount Allison University, and a few weeks before his death was elected President of the Hants-Kings Alum- ni Association.

He was a cousin of Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war-time Prime Minister, and the late Sir Frederick Borden, former Canadian Minister of Militia.

Delegates Visit House Chamber

OTTAWA, July 21.—(By The Canadian Press)—An informal gathering of heads of the various delegations to the Imperial Con- ference took place in the Parlia- ment Buildings this morning. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, head of the Canadian delegation, informed the press that arrange- ments for the opening tomorrow were under discussion.

With Mr. Bennett acting as guide, the delegation heads were shown the Commons Chamber, where the opening will take place, the rail- way committee room, in which im- portant committee meetings will be held, and other rooms in the build- ings. The delegation heads stood for a long time examining the very large map of Canada which hangs on the wall in the railway com- mittee room.

Will Issue Official Press Communique

OTTAWA, July 21.—(By The Canadian Press)—Tentative announce- ment that an official press com- munique will issue from the Im- perial Economic Conference at 12.30 and 5.30 p.m. daily during the sittings, was made by Hon. R. J. Manion, chief liaison officer to- day. Dr. Manion explained that the hour for the issue of these state- ments might be changed after the conference got under way.

In addition to the official com- munique, the Minister stated that he, or one of his assistants would be on hand to see the newspaper- men. Questions might be asked, but he would not guarantee that they would be answered, and a rule must be observed that in these gen- eral discussions no one was quoted. This, he stated, was the practice at other Imperial conferences. It must also be noted that neither he nor assistants would be in a position to answer questions as to the viewpoint of any particular delegation.

The rule in respect to the issue- ance of the official communique does not, of course, apply to to- morrow, the opening day of the conference. Tomorrow the morning proceedings are open to the press. It seems probable that, after to- morrow, the conference will open at 10.30 in the morning.

Have you known how to medi- tate and manage your life; you have performed the greatest work of all.
