FASHION NOTES.
Lingerie blouses of sheerest linen are embroidered with colors, and the sleeves set in with beading.
Black and white Chantilly laces are in strong favor.
Strands of flowers hang from the neck in place of jabots.
In many cases chiffon roses are worn in the bow at the waist.
On many lingerie frocks, as well as on silks and voiles scarcity of flowers are placed flatly on a narrow foundation skirt.
White and tan are combined in many smart motor outfits, the white coat showing its tan reverse in revers, cuffs and pocket flaps, while the white chip bonnet with a puff crown of white tulle is worn with a huge veil of a pale lavender shade. The trim buttoned hood to complete the costume is of tan calf.
Petticoats are very narrow, some of them having to be slashed at the bottom to permit of easy stepping.
Pleated flounces are seen, but may be as narrow as four inches and no dust flounce is used, even on the lingerie skirts.
Many women discard kid gloves early in the season and silk gloves allow, indeed, equal scope for extravagance, so elaborate and expensive have they become. Pale, tan and champagne shades are considered smarter.

CHRISTIANITY.
The worst abuses of our religion have sprung from the cowardly want of confidence in its power. Its friends have feared that it could not stand without a variety of artificial buttresses. They have imagined that men must now be bribed into faith by annexing to it temporal privileges, now driven into it by menaces and inquisitions, now attracted by gorgeous forms, now awed by mysteries and superstitions. I have no such distrust of Christianity; I believe in its invincible powers.—William Ellery Channing.

Confronting all the human kind, And doesn't hesitate To treat with most familiar air The heaviest affairs of state, On psychical research and the like She's very apt to scintillate. The nebular hypothesis, She finds quite easy to relate. She tells us where we've all been wrong In all our high ideals to date And hands out cures for civic ills At what seems like a wondrous rate For one so young, but still we pay Respect it for a potentate. We listen well and then applaud, For she's the sweet girl graduate.

Caught in the toils was the headliner on the screen at the Peoples Theatre, Charlottetown, last evening. It was the tale of a man reaping the fruit of evil, the seeds of which he sowed in his youth. Indian Blood was a western picture of realistic detail and thrilling in character while the last reel put on, The Lady Police was a comic thing that everyone thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Bobby Sommers in illustrated song was excellent. Miss Rose, the character comedian, who has opened an engagement with the theatre party, made her first appearance during the second showing of the program and made a decided hit. Her act was pleasing, entertaining and mirth producing.

Some time ago the Management of the Charlottetown Exhibition Association race track asked for entries for three classes races to take place on June 19. The entries to those closed on Saturday night last and The Guardian regrets to announce that at a late hour last evening the Secretary of the Association was unable to give any information as to whether the classes had filled or not. However, The Guardian understands from a good authority that the purse offered in the free-for-all race did not encourage owners of this class of racers to enter and it will be regretted that the efforts made to promote this event will be without avail.

WASTED TIME AND MONEY
BEFORE THEY FOUND GIN PILLS

GALETTA, ONT.
"My husband used Gin Pills for Backache and Kidney Disease. The pain in his back was dreadful and the kidneys failed to do their work properly. As he became worse, we found it necessary to begin treatment and unfortunately wasted time and money on remedies that were little or no good. After taking one dose of GIN PILLS, he found them to be exactly what he needed, and after taking two boxes of GIN PILLS, was completely cured. We heartily recommend GIN PILLS, at every opportunity to our friends and relatives." Mrs. JAMES B. MILFORD.
Write us, mentioning this paper and we will send you a sample box free. Then, if you cannot get the regular size boxes at your dealer's we will supply you at the regular retail price—50c a box, 6 for $2.50—and money promptly refunded if GIN PILLS do not give satisfaction. The Four Londons, Europe's greatest casting act; Grace Edmond, a dainty pianist from the west; Ruby Raymond and her boys, a pleasing feature and Rem Brandt, a novelty picture painting novelty.

NEW YORK, FOR WEEK OF JUNE 10, 1912.

At Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre this week Maclay Arbuckle will make his fairwell appearance in vaudeville prior to a starring tour next season in his favorite vehicle "The Round Up". For next week Mr. Arbuckle will appear in "The Reform Candidate" a stirring playlet of contemporary political interest. The character Mr. Arbuckle essays is that of an easy "Boss", fashioned somewhat along the lines of Jim Hacker in "The County Chairman", but with all the unmitigated meanness of Horigan in "The Man of the Hour". Included in the sketch is much philosophy and humor, said to be cleverly blended, while the dramatic episodes are brilliant reflections of the tenor of excitement of political life. Mr. Arbuckle has surrounded himself with a company belonging to the aristocracy of the playworld. Gertrude Vanderbilt fresh from her European triumphs assisted by George Moore will offer a whirlwind dancing novelty interspersed with several catchy songs. Returning to vaudeville are Morton and Moore, for many seasons hailed as the Montgomery and Stone of burlesque, offering eccentric dancing of a peculiar order, comic songs and clever patter. Raymond and Gaverly, German comedians have made fresh onslaught on the English grammar and promise a large variety of new witticisms, in twisted language. The remainder of a mid-summer bill of mid-winter quality will consist of
