—George Raft, William Bendix and Marilyn Maxwell have the stellar roles in "Race Street," RKO Radio's hard-hitting drama about a handi-capper who takes the law into his own hands to avenge the murder of a pal.

—Loyal to his code, the handi-capper refuses to let his policeman friend interfere with his search for the murderous gang leader, even when two of the thugs beat him up. How he finally comes to grips with his enemy makes for one of the year's most exciting climaxes.

—Frank Faylen as the chief gangster and Henry Morgan as the murdered pal are seen in the offering, which also includes Gale Robbins, Cully Richards, Mack Gray, Russell Hicks and Richard Powers. Edwin L. Marin directed the picture, which was produced by Nat Holt with Dore Schary in charge of production. Martin Rackin wrote the screenplay.
