Enjoyed Trip To Mainland

Principal L. B. and Mrs. Miller are being very heartily welcomed home after an outing of some four weeks, visiting many of the points of interest in New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia in particular. During their visit to the Annapolis Valley they were the guests of Dr. Miller and Mrs. Henry Messenger, brother and sister of the Principal, and were given every opportunity of seeing the historical places of the famed "Valley"—including Port Royal—where a celebration was held last month to commemorate the landing of Scotchmen at that place. It was a notable affair, very largely attended and opened by His Honor, Lieut. Governor Torey. Among the prominent speakers was the Rev. Mr. Muir, of St. James' Church, this city. Principal Miller reports the valley in a most healthy condition—the fruit showing far above last year and of a splendid quality, hay abundant and other crops well up to the average. In many places the ground feels the absence of rain, but so far the crops are not suffering. The dry weather has been a great boon to those having large areas of dyked lands and intervals which yearly produce vast quantities of hay. With the good prices which prevailed last year for apples, and a more excellent outlook for the crop this year, a new vision seems to have appeared and business in general is reported good. Halifax is going ahead with great strides. Great building operations are being carried on; the Harbour Commissioners are making it one of the best ports in the world as well as one of the cheapest, and the owners of large liners are recognizing this by making it a port en route, while not a few already are making it their headquarters. The rapidly increasing trade with the West Indies is doing much for Halifax, and, of course, St. John, N. B., also shares in the prosperity which this trade brings. Altogether, Mr. Miller states, the outlook in the Maritimes is bright, and the people are singing a new song, the refrain of which is: "Let us get together."

STRAWBOARD, NEW INDUSTRY

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 7.—(By the Canadian Press). People who live in straw houses may be far from rare of a new prairie project, gaining western vigor on the Saskatchewan prairies, comes into active being. It is the plan of a new body not yet chartered, but planning a $150,000 incorporation to convert the surplus straw of the west into panels of strawboard that may be used extensively for building purposes. Four thousand feet of strawboard daily are being produced by a sample machine in operation near Regina, and, at that rate, the waste crop of a single acre lasts two days, and the straw of a quarter section would keep the machine busy a year. The finished panels come out of the machine ready for use, some five feet by 14 feet, laced with strengthening wire. Virtually fire-resisting, claim its backers, the strawboard product has thereby an added value. Tested under a blow torch the panel did not burn, though the section immediately

LIVESTOCK REPORT

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 5.—Cattle receipts 1416. Cattle were moving slow at steady to 25 cents lower prices on good quality cattle. Common cattle and bulls were 25 cents to 50 cents lower. One load of good steers were sold for $10.50 and the balance of the good steers brought around $10.00. Good cows were sold for $7.00 to $7.50 and common cows $4.50 to $6.75. One load of 20 heifers of fair to good quality brought $7.50. Canners and cutters were from $3.00 to $4.00 and bologna bulls $5.00 to $6.00. Quite a few cattle were left unsold. Calf receipts 4002. Calves were selling slowly at 50 cents or more lower. Good calves were sold for $11.50 to $12.50 and the best calves at $13.50. Common calves, drinkers and grassers were sold for $6.00 to $8.00 with a ly in front of the torch turned into a type of charcoal. Piston pressure of close to 100 pounds a square inch it is explained, compresses the board so tightly that the air spaces in it are too minute to permit of the presence of oxygen for combustion. Two inches thick, the panels are claimed by their originators to be the finest combination of heat and noise insulation in existence. For building uses, the outside wall may be stuccoed and plaster is applied to the interior wall. Both materials form a perfect bond with the strawboard, because of its rough surface.

Canadian rights to the system of manufacturing straw panels have been acquired by Dr. E. A. McCuskey well known physician of Regina from the parent organization in Belgium.

—THREE SUDDEN DEATHS—Last week we chronicled the sudden death of Mr. Leo McDonald, of East Point, who dropped dead in his hayfield while working at his hay; today we have two other sudden deaths to chronicle. Alze McMillan, a young fisherman-farmer, like the late Mr. McDonald, living alone, dropped dead while starting in to cut hay the other morning, apparently in good health. The cause is attributed to heart trouble. At Munn's Road in "Injun Marsh," a road leading from North Lake south to Bothwell, Mr. Daniel J. McDonald, a middle aged married man with family, dropped suddenly dead in his home. He was casually sitting in a chair in his house apparently well, when suddenly he felt a weakness coming on him. He got up and passed into the bedroom, off the kitchen and in a few minutes was dead. The Eastern Coroner is Dr. Wheat, Souris. The deaths are so evidently natural that inquests are not necessary.
