ODDS and ENDS

A little of This and a little of That
N.E.M.

This Week's Limerick

Our mothers we've praised to the skies,
That we've told the truth no one denies;
But we face a real poser,
Father's Day's coming closer,
How to boost pa without telling lies!

Just for instance, how are we going to explain away the cigar ashes on the new Wilton rug!

Or father keeping his nose in the sporting page while mother is telling what happened at the bridge party!

Brother, it's going to take a lot of ingenuity to pull father through.

Theme song of the week: (The Weather Man in the role of the arch-villain): "My Schemes Are Getting Wetter All The Time."

Now that the war is over, we're beginning to get weather forecasts again!

But what weather forecasts!

Anyway, it keeps chronic grouches happy. They can complain now, not only about the weather we've had, and are having, but also about the weather we're going to have.

Half-forgotten gems of poetry.

Ralston had a pal named Bill,
Their friendship looked undyin',
But in the Manpower Policy,
He caught his William Lyon.

Answer to last week's puzzles:
1. Adorn (Bedeque).
2. Neither lend Nor—(Norboro).
3. Redskin—large stream. (Indian River).
4. Looks slyly through a crevice. (Peakes).
5. Rural-O. (Rustico).

More Island place-names:
1. Blossom—green enclosure.
2. L—finished.
3. Wear for inspection.
4. 2000 lb. in the middle.
5. Part of chain—missive.
(Answers next week).

'This Man's Navy', is Exciting Film With Wallace Beery

— Exciting adventure over the Atlantic and on the Burma frontier feature the new Wallace Beery starring picture, "This Man's Navy," which M-G-M is presenting at the Capitol Theatre.

Beery plays Chief Aviation Pilot Ned Trumpet, who loves two things: the lighter-than-air service he has served for so many years—and telling tall tales. When Trumpet's friend, Chief Machinist's Mate Jimmy Shannon (James Gleason) brags about his son, Ned, not to be outdone, invents a son for himself and tells stories about his prowess.

Then, during a free-balloon flight, a trainee knocks Trumpet out of the basket and he parachutes to a farm where Jess Weaver (Tom Drake) lives with his mother. Trumpet encourages the boy to join the Navy and get into the lighter-than-air service, but doesn't discover until his next visit that Jess is a cripple. Ned not only gets the Lakehurst station doctor to start the wheels turning for a successful operation for the young man, but also finds a girl for him. Cathey (played by lovely Jan Clayton).
