PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND FOR SEED GRAIN.

A valuable market for seed grain of certain kinds produced in this Province has been found for many years in the sister Provinces of the mainland and within a few years past in the Northwest.

It is, we believe, a fact that our Province produces the heaviest oats and the most valuable potatoes that are found in the broad Dominion, not to mention other field products.

Furthermore this Province has few bad weeds except those which have been imported, too plentifully, from abroad. War must be made upon these weeds if we are to have pure seed either for home use or for export.

By sowing only the best varieties and eliminating the weeds this Province might be made the purchasing seed market for the Dominion, and as its reputation grew the seed exporting business might attain stupendous proportions greatly to the advantage of our farmers and of the Province generally.

A new era of prosperity and happiness will dawn upon our beloved Province, surpassing anything in her past history.

I am personally convinced that P. E. Island has wonderful agricultural possibilities, which have not yet been developed. With reasonable transportation rates, the application of the most approved methods, which the energetic provincial Minister of Agriculture will no doubt introduce, with less extensive and more intensive farming, I see no reason why the farmers of P. E. I. should not double their present annual revenue within a few years.

Since coming to this country it has been my privilege to travel much through the great Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and I can, unhesitatingly, say that I have seen nothing to compare with The Garden of the Gulf in fertility and beauty—with the possible exception of the Niagara Fruit Belt. It is, however, my love for the little seagirt Province has blinded me to the faults and magnified her virtues.

The Manitoba Boundary question, the Marriage Law, and the Navy Bill, are now uppermost in the public mind. No Canadian Premier ever had so many knotty problems to solve, at any one time, as now confront Hon. R. L. Borden.

AT THE SOUTH POLE. The experience of Captain Amundsen at the south pole corresponds with that of Peary at the north pole in the fact that he found much greater cold in his journey thither than at the pole itself.

THE WOMEN OF LONDON. A strange inexplicable craze it is that has fallen upon the women of London that they can forward the cause of equal suffrage by mob violence. It is stranger still that this is not confined to the ignorant and the uncultured, but includes some women of rank, title and education.

Let the reading citizen imagine what he would think and say if the mothers and sisters in Charlottetown were to break out in such fashion, smashing the windows in public buildings and shops and being arrested, dragged to jail and serving time in prison for violence.

The city of Moncton anticipates rapid growth as the result of the installation of natural gas. The secretary of the Moncton Tramways, Electricity and Gas Co., Limited, writes that under the agreement they must supply gas at fifty cents per thousand feet for domestic use and forty cents for power purposes.

St. John boasts of having exported by winter steamers this season $18,000,000 worth of products, nearly $8,000,000 of which originated in the United States.

The Immigration Congress recently held in Fredericton, N. B., recommended that the provincial Government should expend this year $25,000 to promote immigration and tourist travel. We, too, must wake up to these matters.

FROM AN ISLANDER IN ONTARIO. Mr. Editor:—I have been able to keep in close touch with the course of events in my native Province during the years of my absence, through the medium of your progressive paper. It is exceedingly gratifying to see that the transportation disabilities so long inflicted on P. E. Island, are, at last, to be removed and a measure of justice to be meted out to a long-suffering people.
