NEW WONDERLAND TONIGHT

Closing Engagement of Skinner and Woons. Coupons For Grand Prize. New Reel.

The new reel for tonight is an Edison film of rare attractiveness presenting the story of Ingomar in a new way entirely. It is not a repeat picture, as Ingomar—The Barbarian was presented some time ago, and patrons might think by the title it is a repeat. It is somewhat the same story, only carried out much further, and depicted in the old Greek costumes which render a picture so grand. It goes on to where Ingomar is made a captive, and asked to be a spy on his own people. How he refuses, the grand bravery of the man, and the noble sacrifice of the girl he loves and who loves him, are simply beyond description. The reel is highly colored, magnificent in every way, and the finest featured films New Wonderland has yet shown. The other picture is "One of 'The Bravest'" a grand fire depiction and a magnificent story. Skinner and Woons give "Rainbow" and another new song, with a different exhibition of dancing, and in all probability terminate their engagement tonight. They are wonderful, so be sure and see them. Tomorrow night will be Irish night at New Wonderland, and if Skinner and Woons can be prevailed upon to remain they will give an exhibition of Irish clog dancing, and Miss Von Branders readers Irish songs. Also, there is a fine Irish picture in store. Five cents admission, and keep coupons for American Highland Grand Range.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY OF GREAT MERIT

The attention of readers is called to the full page display advertisement of Messrs. Sinclair & Stewart Ltd., which appears in this issue. This enterprising firm has long been famed for keeping one of the most select stocks of high class goods shown in province. Their display for the Xmas Season of 1908, not only measures up to the standard of past records, but in point of quality, variety, good taste, and superior values easily eclipses anything yet attempted by them. Possibly no section of the store is of more interest at this season than the Fur department, and assuredly nothing could suggest a more useful or appropriate holiday gift. Their showing of neck pieces and muffs comprises a notable offering. A choice collection of mink stoles is one of the first things one sees as they enter the department. They are of a rich and superior quality, beautifully matched, and it is no wonder that this fur is classed among the most coveted and highly priced of Canadian furs. In the much sought for and desirable Alaska Sable, they show a nice assortment, and in Isabella Sable, Marmot Mink, Austrian Sable and other kinds they show a range of prices, which are fully 20 per cent better value than that of any previous season. In ladies' fur lined and fur coats, men's fur coats, Robes etc., they have an assortment which cannot fail to please. A notable feature being the very low prices asked for the quality of goods, which is made possible only by buying in large quantities, and thus securing every concession. They are also showing a splendid assortment of high class dress goods, silks, waistings etc., which are most suggestive for useful and practical Christmas Gifts. In the ladies' ready to wear department are to be found a beautiful display of fine silk, mull and net waists, specially imported for the Xmas trade. Several lines done up in individual boxes, make a most important Yule tide suggestion. In ladies' neckwear department is shown an assortment of dainty neckwear that certainly vies with any collection ever seen in this line. Also at this same counter are shown an elaborate sample of Xmas handkerchiefs, gloves, fancy drawn and cut work, leather bags, purses, jewelry, etc. In the men's clothing department is to be seen a large and comprehensive display of the justly famous brand of W. R. Johnstone clothing for men, boys and children which, for fit, finish and reliability, has no superior in the Canadian clothing trade. Their shoe department is one of the most up to date in the province carrying an immense assortment of the most dependable kinds of footwear. The gent's furnishing department also contains a numerous collection of desirable and useful gifts, prominent among them being, the handsome display of neckwear, fine kid and mocha gloves, good jewelry and other furnishings. The grocery department is a most interesting section of the store at this season, being splendidly stocked with new fresh goods, of superior qualities for the festive season. In the fancy china, crockery, glassware and silverware department are to be seen an endless variety of beautiful goods, any of which cannot fail to appeal to the good taste of those in search of goods in this line. In carpets, rugs and other furnishings, they carry a large stock, and are well equipped to supply the needs of their patrons in this line, at prices that are sure to please. In the Millinery department, it is noted that they are offering splendid values for Holiday Shoppers. Those interested in this should note the special offering made in the advertisement in reference to this department. The public are cordially invited to call and inspect this excellent showing of goods. Perfect satisfaction both in quality and good value, is assured, if they do their Xmas shopping at this The Islands' Busiest Store.

MEDICAL AND SCIENCE STUDENTS FIGHT

TORONTO, Dec. 15—A hot fight took place at the University of Toronto between the medical and science schools. The senior medicals were having their pictures taken, when the fun started with snowballing; but when the picture was finished the medicals crushed the science men back into the science building. The science men stuck the hose through the window and drenched the medicals, and then the fighting grew real. Hats were smashed, eyes were blacked, clothing torn and red ink thrown with deadly aim. Medical reinforcements arrived from the dissecting room with aprons on and threw bits of the material they had been dissecting. Sixty-nine windows in the science school and twenty-three in the medical building were smashed. The appearance of President Falconer gave the warriors a chill, and the battle stopped suddenly.

BIG LOCOMOTIVE TURNED OVER

MONCTON, Dec. 15—By the overturning of an engine, two men working on the Grand Trunk Pacific a short distance west of Moncton, were badly injured. The engine on a ballast train left the rails and upset. The driver, brakeman and fireman McGan were in the cab at the time. The driver had two ribs fractured, and his shoulder badly injured, while the fireman was severely scalded about the face, arms and back. Both will recover.
