Here is a rather good story which is going the rounds at the Press of the Maritime Province. It will interest Dr. Heartz's many friends here:—

"The merry month of June and its weddings are usually productive of a good crop of stories—not to say a crop of good stories. This year one of these comes from St. Stephen, where the incident is said to have taken place at a happy event on Wednesday last. It chanced that the groom was a native of Yarmouth, N. S., which is also the home of Rev. Dr. W. H. Heartz, president of the Methodist Conference of Nova Scotia. That well known divine is a friend of the groom, and being unable to be present at the ceremony, he forwarded the following telegram: "Heartiest congratulations and best wishes from the Heartz family."

When the receiving telegrapher got this message, however, he could not exactly make sense out of it, not being very familiar with the surname, which is of German origin, and he produced the following masterpiece: "Heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a hearty family." When the best man got his fingers upon the message the happy couple were wise enough not to expect mercy. They did not receive it, either, for the wire was read at table to the assembled guests. Then the familiar lines about the blushing bride did not seem trite in the least."

One of Charlottetown's leading grocers says that it is remarkable how much Famous Soap is being asked for these days. The soap is giving great satisfaction to those using it and he says that he honestly believes that it is the best bar of wrapped laundry soap on the market today selling at five cents. Famous Soap is made in Prince Edward Island and its manufacture is growing into quite a big industry. It's an industry which is going to be made a real local success--something out of the ordinary for manufacturing in this Province. G-9dtts3irri.
