ST. PATRICK'S DAY AT ST. MARK'S, LOT 7

—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in St. Mark's Hall, Burton, Lot 7, in the evening by the presentation of a three-act comedy drama "Nora, Wake Up!" by the Dramatic Club of St. Bernadette's. The presentation was met with a large and highly enthusiastic audience who apparently enjoyed every moment of the play from the opening curtain to the closing scene.

The play so absorbed the minds of the audience that for those few short hours they actually lived the fictitious characters in the story, sympathizing, smiling, and rejoicing with them, whenever the moment presented itself.

The following enjoyable specialties were presented:
Between acts one and two — Duet by Lorne Howard and Desmond Howard.

Between acts two and three — Step Dance by Steve Doyle and duet by Shirley and Beverly Howard.

There was also instrumental music and sale of candy and lunches between acts.

Following is the cast of characters who played their parts so successfully:

Bridget Honora Calahan (an up-to-date daughter, with a streak of snobbishness, who is ashamed of her old-fashioned mother and her home) — Marjory Doyle.

Mrs. Peggy Calahan (her old-fashioned mother, whose only thought is for her children) — Jean Donahue.

Johnny Calahan (Mrs. Calahan's son, who comes home from college to spend his vacation with his family) — Clarence Griffin.

Mrs. Edmonton (a very modern lady with a superior manner) — Rita Kelly.

Edmond Edmonton (her son, very self centred, believes only in himself) — Emmett Griffin.

Danny Millins (Johnny's college pal, serious and shy, in love with Nora) — Wilfred Griffin.

Carlyle Coleridge (a tramp, for his health, becomes a friend of the Calahan family) — Basil Griffin.

Katie Schwartz (an obliging neighbor, a German girl, who acts rather indifferently) — Mrs. Mike Doyle.

The scene of the entire play is the living room of the Calahan home in the middle of summer.—C.

St. Patrick's Celebration

—Tignish honoured the Feast of St. Patrick in the usual manner when the loyal Irish people filled the Church of St. Simon and St. Jude at nine o'clock to attend a High Mass sung by Rev. J. A. MacDonald, P.P. A most eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. T. B. Dooley.

At seven-thirty in the evening a Variety Concert was presented to an overflowing audience in St. Mary's Parish Hall, and seldom if ever has an amateur performance met with such general applause. A one act play "Shamrocks From Ireland" was staged by the School Sodality of the Children of Mary, and "Who Put the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder" another one-act play was presented by the Parish Sodality of the Children of Mary. Although it was the initial performance of many of the cast (in both plays) yet they took their parts like veterans and compared favorably with the more experienced players; all are deserving of a full measure of praise for the success attending their efforts.

The specialties between the plays are also worthy of special mention. Songs dear to the hearts of all true sons of Erin were sung by a girls chorus from the convent school. The girls were wearing their school uniform of black with white collar and cuffs, their hair tied up with green ribbon and standing on the stage, made gay with clusters of shamrocks pinned to a background of white and with pots of shamrocks adding gaiety to the occasion looked much like a group of Irish Colemans as the spotlight softly played its pale green hue over the scene. Piano music and singing by several groups of boys from the Dalton School were also greatly enjoyed, and the singing of "Galway Bay" by Mr. J. B. Cameron and "Bedad How I Hated McGinty" by Mr. Arthur Arsenault brought down the house and were repeatedly encored.

Irish music to the evening was furnished by the Tignish orchestra. The affair was also a success from a financial standpoint and the proceeds donated to the parish fund.

The Reverend Sisters of the Tignish Convent and Dalton School and the girls of Our Lady's Sodality who were responsible for this fine performance, extend thanks to those who so generously assisted in making this celebration a success.
