HOCKEY.

A very exciting game of hockey was played in the Arena Saturday night between the High-Go-Mucks and the Government House Millionaires. Although marked by some rough playing it was a good game for the on-lookers. The first goal was scored by Campbell after 1 minutes' play, which was immediately returned by Ryan for the High-Go-Mucks. Each team succeeded in netting 1 more a piece, leaving the score 2-2 at half time. The second half was the same as the first, each team trying hard to score, the winning goal being scored by McTague, leaving the score 3-2 in favor of the Mucks. The line up was as follows:

Like Being Hit By Rattle Snake

Says that every time you cut or pick at a corn you invite lockjaw

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poisoning are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called Freezono, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers, without one particle of pain. This Freezono is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and just loosens the corns without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. He says a quarter of an ounce will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but this is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You are positively warned that cutting or picking at a corn is a suicidal habit.

ANNUAL MEETING POULTRY ASSOCIATION

much from the people of the province without making a row that they would not live to hear the end of (laughter). People can do a great deal more than Governments can do for them, and as far as any organization for the purchase of this feed is concerned, the people can do it more easily than the Government. The associations we have in existence can do it. This association or the Farmers' Institute can do it. All that the Dominion Government expects of the Local Governments is that they may assist in directing this feed in carload lots to institutes or numbers of farmers who want it, and to guarantee their solvency before the Government will ship it. The reason they have to handle it in this way is plain. Take the screenings they have bought. It is no use for business men to import it, because they will have to put on a profit; so that if we are to get our share of this feed we must get it by co-operating, and it might perhaps be a matter of further discussion before these meetings are over as to what will be done along this line.

Mr. McKinnon then went on to state that these feeds could be used for hens as well, but that they would require to be ground, and care must be taken that weeds in the feeds should not take root. He said there was one and a half per cent. of noxious weeds in the feed. Samples received by the Department were ground in a mill at Moncton and all noxious seeds were effectively killed. Grinding would add to the cost. If a miller did the grinding and bagging he would charge $2 a ton. This would not cover the cost of the bags.

Hogs at Falconwood Farm

There are at present at Falconwood Farm two sows, five of which have been spoken for between Saturday and today, and they will be kept there until they are bred and then sold to anyone who wants them, at cost; and we ordered the carload of screenings with the idea of giving enough to each person who bought to enable him to carry his litter over the summer if he so required. We will not go further than that unless there is a demand. The stock is not all pure-bred. Some are pure-bred and some cross. The stock originally on the farm was York, but it was found that the Yorks would not be in market until six months. It would take seven or eight months to get them fat for the market, and then they would be overweight; so that it was decided two years ago to cross the Yorks with Berks. They were not raised for breeding purposes, but for the market, and now that breeding stock is not very easily got and not as plentiful as we would like to see, a cross might not be undesirable for a start.

Mr. McKinnon then went on to read the following letter, from the office of the Food Controller of Ottawa, which speaks for itself:

"This office, assisted by the Fruit Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture, and in co-operation with the General Manager of the Government Railways, is making a special effort to establish a winter trade in potatoes between Prince Edward Island and the large consuming markets of Quebec and Ontario. The Railway is linking and equipping with heaters a number of Island cars, and as far as possible will supply standard box cars similarly equipped, to transport potatoes from Port Borden to the markets of Central Canada. "The Federal Department of Agriculture, in order to encourage the shipment of Prince Edward Island potatoes, is giving the services of Mr. C. W. Baxter and his staff absolutely free. Mr. Baxter has been authorized to represent me on the Island. His headquarters are now Charlottetown, and he, with his staff, in co-operation with the Railway officials, is prepared to provide equipped box cars to meet transportation requirements as far as possible. "When five or more loaded standard cars are available at Port Borden, they will be accompanied by one of Mr. Baxter's assistants to such points as Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and intervening points on the main line. It will be the duty of this official to see that the cars are protected from frost, and to keep an accurate record of temperature, etc.

"While no guarantee can be given that the shipments will arrive unaffected by frost, yet every possible effort will be put forth to land the potatoes in good condition. I trust that the potato shippers of Prince Edward Island will take immediate advantage of this opportunity for winter shipments. Very truly yours, "W. J. Hanna."

Mr. McKinnon also read from a bulletin issued from the office of the Food Controller in connection with hog production: "A telegram was sent to each of the Provincial Ministers of Agriculture, and the following summary of the night lettergram replies shows what is being done by each province. Prince Edward Island: The Department of Agriculture reports that at a series of agricultural meetings beginning December 3rd, and continuing through the winter, they intend to feature the care of brood sows and the economical feeding of spring pigs."

MR. W. A. BROWN SPEAKS.

Mr. W. A. Brown, of Ottawa, was the next speaker. He said the Prince Edward Island was rather fortunate in that it appeared to have enough live stock feed for its immediate requirements. Not all of the other provinces were so well circumstanced. Alberta was short; Saskatchewan was very short; Manitoba, especially Southern Manitoba, was in the same predicament. Ontario was in the same position as Prince Edward Island, while Quebec was in bad shape and Nova Scotia was also short of feed.

In connection with the call for increased production, especially hog production, the feed question is a serious one in Canada today, said Mr. Brown. With reference to the work which the Association had in hand, he was rather diffident to speak. There was a time, two or three years ago when this work was in its infancy, when he rather felt he knew something about it, but it had been growing so fast that he was now quite content to sit at their feet and listen. The meeting in the afternoon was a revelation. The members had not talked eggs and poultry or eggs-cir-cles, but the co-operative sale of poultry and eggs and kindred topics. The sale of poultry and eggs co-operatively was apparently taken up all for granted as a success. The Association, he thought, having been engaged in the work day in and day out for the last 3 or 4 years, did not really realize what a magnificent work they had done. Dealing with the egg market, Mr. Brown said that in August and September the trade was offering as high as 48 cents f.o.b. ship board and space was available. Nobody wanted to sell. Only 3 or 4 thousand cases of eggs went out of Canada in September; cable limits went up to 50 and 51. England was short and they went up last October and November to 51 and 51 1/2, and everyone wanted to sell, and a few had contracted previously for space. When everybody desired to sell eggs there was not nearly sufficient space and the egg market was in a bad shape. By almost superhuman efforts, however, through the Food Controller's office and the Allied Buying Commission, space was obtained for 50,000 or 70,000 cases which relieved the pressure in Canada. The Admiralty, the Food Controller of Canada and everyone who had influence were appealed to take care of some of Canada's surplus in eggs, a condition which Canadians brought on themselves by not being satisfied to take a reasonable profit in the first place. The Association, said Mr. Brown, was gaining great experience and in approaching larger problems such as they had been discussing in the afternoon, his advice would be to go slow and learn everything there was in connection with any other business they undertook, in the same manner as they had developed the egg business.

Speaking in regard to the outlook for the year 1918, Mr. Brown said that the question for the year resolved itself into getting more eggs per hen and utilizing every bit of available machinery to the best advantage rather than launching into great big production schemes without assurance of the means of carrying them out successfully.

MR. J. W. MITCHELL.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell, Assistant to Mr. Black, Agricultural Commissioner, spoke on the benefits of co-operation. He emphasized the important fact that "You cannot sell successfully without quality." He said it was one splendid feature of the Association that there was no "dead timber" in it. Every member was active and ceased to be a member when he ceased to sell through the Association. It was obvious they were carrying on a perfectly sound business when the manager of a Conservative bank like

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—MRS. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—MRS. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roudy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good, I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—MRS. E. KISSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

the Bank of Montreal was prepared to carry their business. In further reference to the question of quality, he said that there was no use in glutting the market with inferior eggs. "When the business becomes firmly established on a basis of quality, quantity will follow as a matter of course. Work for quality and quantity will come naturally," he said.

MR. C. W. BAXTER.

Mr. C. W. Baxter followed. He stated that it was useless to form any co-operative association unless every member took an active part in the work and personally interested himself in it. Mr. Baxter dwelt upon the statements contained in the letter (reproduced above) from the Food Controller's office. P. E. Island, he said, last fall had 2 million bushels of a surplus in potatoes at the close of navigation. All means available had been used to verify the estimate, and there was no reason to change the estimate. "If these potatoes are held back," he said, "and potatoes from British Columbia, Alberta, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are left till the spring and dumped on the market at the same time we cannot see anything but a slump. There is no greater substitute for what than potatoes, and there is no doubt the Food Controller will give out next Spring a call for increased production per acre; and that is why he is doubly anxious you shall get a price for your present crop which will encourage you to plant next spring."

Mr. Thompson, speaking in connection with wool, advised sheep breeders not to sell individually but through their Association.

Rev. W. Goodwill and Rev. Father McLean, of Summerside, spoke briefly, commending the work of the Association.

CLOSING SESSION.

The closing session was held yesterday morning at nine o'clock and opened on a discussion of general business problems. Mr. McCullough, the poultry expert from Fredericton and Mr. Marsh gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the handling and preparing of poultry for market, showing the many ways, good and bad, of dressing fowls and also demonstrating how to pack, using birds from the Central Branch warehouse. A Committee brought up a resolution regarding the exhibition of eggs, graded, etc., at the Provincial Exhibition. This was approved and adopted.

A general informal discussion participated in by all then ensued. The election of officers resulted in the previous executive being re-elected with the addition of Rev. Fr. J. J. MacDonald, Kinkora was elected to the board of directors. After the usual formal votes of thanks to the President, the Secretary, Manager Leightner, the P.E.I. Railway, the government, etc., the fourth annual meeting of the P.E.I. Poultry and Egg Association was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

COW WOULDN'T SIT

An English colonist in Ceylon one day provided his black servant with a stool and told him to go and milk the cow. The darkey soon returned, bruised and muddy. "What's the matter, Sam?" asked the astonished master. "Him a very good stool, massa," came the reply, "but the cow won't sit on it."
