

BOWLING
HOCKEY
WRESTLING

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

Cardinals Turn Back Detroit Tigers 4-1

IRON DUKES CAPTURE N.S. N.B. TITLE

(By Guardian's Special Wire)
Springhill Iron Dukes Decisively Trim Bathurst Team 19-3.

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 5—The Iron Dukes of Springhill won the intermediate provincial baseball championship here today by a 19-3 victory over the Bathurst team. Only a handful of spectators were on hand to witness the game, which proved to be rather ragged in spots, but at times showed signs of real baseball. The Dukes outplayed the snuff in all stages of the game—developed three pitchers for a series of hits, which resulted in nineteen runs. The Bathurst infield were weak and failed to give their moundsmen any kind of support.

Spence hurled a brilliant game for the winners and held the Bathurst batsmen to eight scattered hits. The losers threw three twirlers into the fray in an attempt to stop the slugging stampee, but the Springhill sluggers pounded out sixteen hits. During the first few innings the losers put up a fair fight, but in pieces and the Dukes ran up a total of thirteen runs.

The Dukes by virtue of today's win will meet Summerside in the play-offs for the Maritime intermediate baseball championship.

BOX SCORE

IRON DUKES	AB	R	H	E
Crawford, c	6	1	1	1
Dykens, cf	6	3	3	0
Bennyman, 1st	6	3	3	0
Bell, rf	6	1	2	1
McCallum, ss	6	0	1	0
Anderson, 3rd	6	2	1	3
Ryan, 2nd	5	3	2	4
Merritt, lf	5	3	3	0
Spence, p	5	3	2	0
Total	51	19	15	4

BATHURST

AB	R	H	E
C. Baldwin, rf	5	0	0	0
Doherty, lf	5	0	0	0
Coffey, ss	5	0	1	3
Burke, 1st	5	2	3	2
LeVigne, 3rd	5	0	0	4
Douglass, c	5	2	2	0
Boyd, 2nd	5	1	0	1
C. Eudreau, p	5	0	2	0
T. Baldwin, p	2	0	2	0
Total	42	3	8	11

SUMMARY
 Three base hits, Burke, Merritt, Dykens; sacrifice hits, Bennyman, McCallum; 1. Spence 1; bases on balls, off Baldwin 4; off Spence 1; stolen bases 14; losing pitcher, Baldwin; winning pitcher Spence.

SCORE BY INNINGS

R	H	E
Bathurst	011 010 000	3 8 11
Iron Dukes	001 140 940	19 15 4

Scottish Boat Is Defeated

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Oct. 5—Bob-Kat II scored her second successive victory in defence of the Savannah international challenge trophy off here today by defeating the Scottish six-metre boat, Kyla of the Royal Northern Yacht Club, a minute and 13 seconds over a 12-mile course.

The race was sailed in a fresh easterly breeze and nasty chop of sea, conditions perfectly suited to the heavy weather Bob-Kat, which led from the outset. One more victory for Bob-Kat will keep her trophy in the United States. Kyla must win three straight to take the series.

The Borden Fox Show

will be held this year on NOVEMBER 15 and 16. Particulars Later.

World Series Sidelights

(By Paul Mickelson Associated Press Sports Writer)
 ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—Pepper Martin's famous apple diet worked. Enroute to St. Louis last night the old "wild boss of the osage" suddenly remembered he had eaten a big plate of apples before his rampage in the 31 series against the Athletics. So he ordered some more—and look what he did today.

"And I'll eat some more tonight, too," he warned.

Outside the notable exceptions of Cochrane, Rowe, Gehring and Goslin, the Tigers still have a mild case of shakes. The Cardinals are playing as confidently as if they were still battling Cincinnati Reds.

Unquestionably the proudest man in the stands today was Dizzy's Pa, Albert M. Dean, a man of 62 with the same rawboned features of the famous Dizzy. Movie actor Will Rogers had a long talk with Pa Dean.

"He says I look like him and dogged if I don't," remarked Will as he went back to his seat.

Ernie Orsatti may never get out of the series alive. He has a bad charley horse, a bad cut over his left eye, and a sore neck. He cut his eye when his sun glasses broke as he dived for a low fly yesterday; today, he was hit on the back of the neck by one of Bridges' real fast ones. B.T. Rogell of the Tigers also limped badly with a charley horse in his left leg.

Frankie Frisch added more records to his book today. His world series records to date: Most at bats 179; most games, 46; most hits, 33. Every time Frankie starts he adds to his series records.

Medwick's catch of Jo-Jo White's foul along the left field boxes was the fielding classic of the series. Starting with the crack of the bat, Ducky made a beautiful dash, squirmed his way alongside the boxes and leaned far over into the second row to spear it with one hand. No one thought he had it until he rushed out of the melex exhibiting the ball.

WORLD SERIES STATISTICS

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
 ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5—World Series statistics:
Team standing:

W. L. PC
St. Louis (N.L.)	2 1 .667
Detroit (A.L.)	1 2 .333

Results:
 First game:—
 St. Louis..... 8 13 2
 Detroit..... 3 8 5
 P. Dean and Delaney; Crowder, Marberry, Hogsett and Cochrane.
 Second game:—
 St. Louis..... 2 7 3
 Detroit..... 3 7 0
 12 innings.
 Hallahan, W. Walker and Delaney; Rowe and Cochrane.
 Third game:—
 St. Louis..... 4 9 1
 Detroit..... 1 8 2
 P. Dean and Delaney; Bridges, Hogsett and Cochrane.
Third game statistics:
 Gross receipts $148,313.00
 Attendance 34,073.
 Commissioner's share $22,246.95.
 Player's pool $75,639.63.
 Each League's share $12,696.60.
 Each Club's share $12,696.60.
Total three-game statistics:
 Attendance 120,029.
 Gross receipts $428,788.00.
 Commissioner's share $64,317.45.
 Player's pool $218,679.33.
 Each League's share $36,446.84.
 Each club's share $36,446.84.

Physical and economic aspects of the Port of New York will be the subject of a course in transportation to be given in Columbia University Extension for the first time this fall, under the direction of P. A. Ketcher.

FRISCH PROUD OF DEAN'S PERFORMANCE

Cochrane To Change Lineup in Attempt to Find Hitting Power.

(By Charles Dunkley Associated Press Sports Writer)
 ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5—Frankie Frisch, fiery manager of St. Louis Cardinals, who sang a song of hate 24 hours ago, was singing a love song tonight.

Instead of storming and raging, he professed love for everybody in St. Louis, and Paul Dean in particular, after his Cardinals trampled over the jittery Tigers. He was immensely proud of the performance of the younger Dean in holding the Tigers in check although they twice had the bases loaded.

Hanging over the club house door is a big white sign, painted in flaming red letters and bearing the inscription made famous by Blondy Ryan, as he came to the rescue of the 1933 Giants, it reads:

"They cannot beat us."
 Frisch pointed to it and exclaimed:

"Boy they ain't going to do it, either."
 Then he launched into praise of the gangling Dean.

"He certainly pitched a swell game," Frisch said, "particularly in the pinches when he bore down with the bases loaded. Pepper Martin played typical world series baseball."

Frisch will send Tex Carleton, big right-hander, against the Tigers in the fourth game of the series tomorrow.

When the Cardinals reached their dressing room Dean set his six-foot three-inch frame down on a bench in front of his locker, declaring he never was so tired in his life. He was dripping perspiration and puffing like a racehorse.

"They didn't give me much trouble any time," he said. "I was faster the last two innings than I was at any time during the game. I don't hold no ball club cheap and that's the reason I beared down."

Determined to win at any cost, Manager Cochrane decided upon a revamped lineup to throw against the Cards tomorrow.

"We're going back to the lineup we had a month ago, with Greenberg batting sixth instead of fourth," he said. "We're going to start swinging tomorrow and start hitting."

With a shrug of his shoulders, he explained away today's Tigers loss by saying:

"You can't win without hits. We had plenty of chances today. A couple of long flies would have given us two more runs. It's not over yet."

Cochrane said he would pitch either Elden Auker, righthander, or Alvin Crowder tomorrow, although Auker probably will get the call.

Maltraves Wins Rous Stakes

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 5—Derby favorite of next season, T. Lamb's rood-looking juvenile colt, Maltraves won the Rous Memorial Stakes today in a driving finish.

Maltraves, the warm favorite, finished the five-furlong dash a short head in front of Sir Charles Chubb's Beresford, with Lord Lonsdale's filly Caretta only a neck back in third place. Eight ran.

The winner, a colt by Mr. Jinks out of Futurity, started at 13 to 8, second at 33 to 1 and Caretta at 5 to 2.

The Rous Stakes marked the opening of the intensive campaign for the high-class two-year-olds who will be fighting it out in next year's classics. Always reserved for their best racing until near the close of the season, the juveniles yet have to decide the Champion Stakes, the Middle Park Stakes, the Criterion Stakes and the Dewhurst Stakes which will decide the winter favorite for the classics next year.

Chuck Templeton's SPORTRAITS

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Kentucky, has maintained its leadership in production of precocious trotters and pacers largely because they have not hesitated to pay big sums of money for outstanding animals to add to their breeding stock.

Following her victory in the $14,000 Kentucky Futurity at Lexington last week, the bay filly, Princess Peg, 2:01 3-4 was sold by Lyle Brothers, Plainfield, N. J., to Walnut Hall Farm. Our readers will remember that she is sired by the premier stallion, Colomel, 3:20 1-4 and was bred by Walnut Hall Farm and sold as a year old at the Old Glory Sale.

On the same day that the above purchase was made, Walnut Hall Farm also acquired a reported price of $20,000 the young stallion, Guy Abbey, 3:20 3-4, from Henry H. Knight of Chicago, who is also the owner of Mr. McElwain 1:59 1-2.

Guy Abbey was bred at Walnut Hall Farm being a son of the then premier stallion, Gallant Fox, 2:08 3-4. He is destined to take the place of his famous father.

Already this season he has bounded into the lime light through the performances of the two year old trotter, Greyhound, 2:04 3-4, season's champion two year old pacer of the year and winner of the pacing division of the Kentucky Futurity.

The time-honored system of betting through auction pools which had prevailed at Lexington, Ky., during the trots from time immemorial, was discarded this year and the mutuels on heats and results installed in its place.

One of the biggest betting upsets of the year occurred at Lexington, Ky., in the 2:07 pace last week. Raider, 1:59 1-2, who forced Old Cash and one or two others to pace in 2:00 or better this year and himself bested that mark in winning a race the week before, was installed as a prohibitive favorite, while the entry Del Whitney, 2:03 1-4, was sold for the surprise and delight of the Whitesites when Vic Fleming nosed out the favorite in 2:00 1-2 the first heat and 2:01 1-4 the second heat. $10.00 bets paid $111.00.

At Northampton last week Margaret's Sun won the classified pace in straight heats, time 2:15, 2:21 1-2. He is sired by Kalmuck, 2:15 1-2, owned by Willard Kelly, Southport.

Guy the Tramp, 2:02, who will be remembered for his great effort at Charlottetown against Toll Gate on Thursday of Exhibition Week, was changed over to the trot at Fredericton and stepped a mule in 2:07 3-4 at that gait on that track. He was immediately entered by his owner, W. C. Crummer, in a Southern Circuit and made his first start at Almontown, Pa., but was shut out in the opening heat.

"The writer could very well say 'I told you so' because, having had some experience in changing trotters to pacers and vice versa, we have found that it is very difficult to eliminate from the horse's mind the gait he has been performing most at. Alone, or perhaps with one or two other horses and with scoring conditions very favourable, everything will be lovely, but get your converted trotter or pacer out with a field of horses and there is a lot of scoring and you must be right there every time to hustle for a position. It is a different story. It will take a lot of schooling, we think, to make a successful trotter out of Guy the Tramp."

How would you like to buy this young speed prospect? He was a year old last March and was foaled at Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Ky., sired by Peter Volo, 2:02, dam, Margaret Arion. He is called the Master and is a full brother to Prefector, 3:15 1-4, and the Marchioness, 3:15 1-4, joint holders of the world's three year old trotting record, and from the same dam as Princess Peg, 3:210 3-4, winner of the Kentucky Futurity. We venture to predict that it will take anywhere between $6,000 and $10,000 to become the owner at the Old Glory Sale in November.

The top price in the first session (Continued on Page 7)

Paul Dean Displays Great Control To Limit Bengals To Lone Tally

Pepper Martin "Wild Horse Of The Osage" Comes Back To Lead St. Louis On Hitting Attack.

(By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor)

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
 ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5—Led into action before a roaring crowd of home folks by the old raider, John Leonard ("Pepper") Martin, St. Louis Cardinals dropped another pitching bombshell with the Dean family label into the ranks of Detroit Tigers today and captured the third game of baseball's world championship battle with a spectacular flourish.

Paul ("L'il Brother") Dean, 21-year-old freshman member of the celebrated clan, picked up where Dizzy left off in the first game and pitched the National League champions to a decisive 4-1 victory with an astonishing exhibition under almost continual pressure.

Dangerously wild throughout the first six innings but absolutely invincible with his fast ball's "hop" until the ninth, when big Hank Greenberg's triple to the center field wall scored Jo-Jo White with the only Tiger tally, Dean twice turned back Detroit with the bases full. He left a total of 13 Bengals stranded on the bases, one short of the World Series record made by Chicago Cubs of 1910 against Philadelphia Athletics, as he scattered the eight opposing hits and struck out seven.

Martin, flashing for the first time the batting bombardment that made him the hero of the Cardinals' 1931 World Series triumph over Philadelphia, led the long-range attack that routed Tommy Bridges, slim curve-ball star, within five innings. Before the "wild horse of the Osage" finally was thrown out by Mickey Cochrane trying to steal third in the seventh, Martin collected a triple and a double. Both hits banged against the right field screen and scored half the St. Louis runs.

Martin started the fireworks in his first turn at bat with a wallop that he stretched to three bases with the aid of one of his famous head-first slides. His booming double in the fifth was followed by Jack Rothrock's triple down the left field line and Manager Frank Frisch's second single, and put the climax to the closing Cardinal rally that chased Bridges from the box.

Elton ("Big Chief") Hogsett, the part-Indian southpaw, checked the National League champions for the rest of the game. Paul Dean meanwhile settled down with the assurance given by his four-run game and came within only one putout of chalking up a shutout in his first World Series appearance. There were two out in the ninth when Greenberg, after two futile Orsatti's head, thereby saving the Tigers from complete humiliation.

The Cardinals, coming back swiftly to dominate the play and justify the heavy odds in their favor, after being felled in a 12-inning thriller the day before in Detroit by Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, moved into a 2-1 lead in the fight for the big share of the spoils. With two more games on home grounds, before the battle can be carried back to Juggledown, the National Leaguers now have a pronounced upper hand on the pitching side and look to be on their way to victory, unless Rowe can perform some more heroics.

Frisch decided tonight to send in his remaining right-handed regular, James "Tex" Carleton, in quest of a third triumph tomorrow, with Dizzy Dean slated to make his second start in the Sunday game.

Cochrane meanwhile intends to gamble himself with a freshman star, Elden Auker, who came up from the Texas league last season and helped carry the Tigers to the pennant with his deceptive under-hand delivery.

Unless the Tigers can shake off their batting paralysis, however, and escape the Cardinal curvers who have been holding them under so far, there doesn't seem to be much chance for Cochrane's crew to win the series. They were more important in the pinches today than in any of the three games played so far, bringing home only one of the 14 men who got to first or beyond.

While the crowd of 34,073 cash customers alternately jeered the American Leaguers or roared their approval of Paul Dean's successful escapes from trouble, the Tigers gave one of the most futile exhibitions at the plate in World Series history. With the aid of five passes and a hit batsman by Dean, as well as eight safeties, Detroit had men on bases in seven of the nine innings. Twice, in the third and fourth, they filled the bags with two out but Billy Rogell flied out to end the third and Charlie Gehring, who had hit safely on his first two trips to the plate, grounded weakly to Frisch as the climax of the fourth frame.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

MATINEE RACES AT KENSINGTON

The following are the list of horses entered for the matinee races at Kensington Monday, Oct. 8: Happy Day, (Frank Day); Colonel Mack, (Edward Murphy); Happy Boy, (J. Jockleiman); Bill Wortley, (W. A. Toombs); Ona Girl, (W. A. Delaney); Helena White, (George Sobey); Fusterfat, (L. Rogers); Glen Worthing, (Chas. Sudsbury); S'ide Boy, (B. H. Phillips); Trouble Cope, (A. Schurman); Peter Worthing, (A. Cuffill); Black Jack, (Clark Caseley); Bud Cope, (George Callbeck); Capt. La-copia, (George Crozier); Hamilton Boy, (W. Ramsay); Goldie, (A. Stewart); Lacona, (Bryenton); Col Upton, (Myron McArthur); Colorado Belle, (G. Woodside); Bud Aubrey, (G. Dawson); Neil Gray, (J. Craig); Tucker Up, (P. L. Tucker).

The above list of horses are bound to furnish a good afternoon's sport, which will likely be the last race of the season. Races start at 1:30 p. m. sharp. Admission 25c. Auto parking free. L-1017

Chief role but in the last inning, when the Tigers menaced, it was brother Dizzy who raced to the bull-pen to be prepared for a respite of the family press.

Among the delighted onlookers to this latest achievement of baseball's most celebrated pitching clan was the proud father, 52-year-old Albert M. ("Pa") Dean, who watched the game from a box seat and was among the first to congratulate his son after the game was over.

Cards Take Early Lead

The Cardinals lost no time bringing Paul a lead, hitting Bridges vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Frisch since got only one hit, trying to steal second as Joe Medwick fanned.

Dean himself took a bat in hand and brought home the second run in the next inning, scoring Jim Collins, who had singled and galloped vehemently from the outset, but the Tiger right-hander escaped with a minimum of damage until the fifth. Martin's triple, following which Pepper dashed home on Rothrock's long fly to center, got the Cardinals away in front.

Community Carnival - THE FORUM

4 Vaudeville Acts 4

3 Boxing Bouts 3

Games, Sports, Music

OPENING 7. 30 P. M. TONIGHT

Admission 10 cents

DOOR PRIZE : : : ONE TON COAL